Thimayya Foresees No Further Trouble At 'Explanations'

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Bitterly anti-Red North Korean war prisoners today kept their promise to listen to Communist persuasion teams seeking to coax them back home.

The interviews began at 8:45 a.m. (6:45 p.m., Friday EST) without incident.

The anti-Communist North Koreans had held out for two weeks against attending Red explanation sessions. Yesterday Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission which now controls the prisoners, said the North Koreans had promised to listen to Red persuasion talks today.

Start Of Talks Delayed

A cold rain delayed the start of the interviews, originally set for 8 a.m.

The first prisoner interviewed stayed only one minute inside the explanation tent.

As with Chinese who preceded them more than two weeks ago, many of the North Koreans had to be restrained from attacking Communist explainers.

Indian guard troops carried long sticks with which to restrain the violent POWs.

At least one North Korean in the first group interviewed asked to be returned to Communist control.

Thimayya said after the start of the explanations he expected no further trouble with the 7,800 North Korean POWs in the neutral zone awaiting interviews.

A group of 250 left their living compound for the interviews this morning with much shouting and singing and general noise, but there were no incidents. Thimayya said earlier he hoped to send 500 to interviews this morning and another 500 into the booths this afternoon.

An Allied officer said there were 140 Communist explainers on hand for today's interviews. Also present from the Communist side were 49 observers, 50 drivers, 70 interpreters and 51 Czechs and Poles serving on the Repatriation Commission as overseers of the explanations.

Try To Attack Reds

The first prisoner to refuse repatriation kept shouting, "No! "No!" as a young North Korean officer in smart uniform attempted to talk to him.

The prisoner struggled violently as two Indian guards held his arms. As he left the tent, the POW lurched forward and kicked at the small table in front of three Communist interviewers.

French Council Supports Plan To Rearm Europe

PARIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—The proposed European Defense Community Treaty eased through its first test in the French Parliament today.

It did not rally strong backing, but it was not roundly condemned, either, as the Council of the Republic wound up a two-day debate. The final result indicated that the advisory upper house will not block passage when the treaty finally comes up for ratification.

A resolution, approved 240-74, noted that the debate had been held and asked the government "to seek every solution guaranteeing the safeguard of all French interests and the integrity of the French Union and setting up, notably with Great Britain, a real European equilibrium."

The final wording and vote reflected all the intricacies of French politics.

The reference to a close relationship between the projected six-nation army and Britain was included despite assurances given the council yesterday by Foreign Minister Georges Bidault that an agreement "which we are preparing will establish between Great Britain and the continental states closer political and military ties than there have ever been in the past."

The EDC Treaty, which will permit the rearming of West Germany, Italy, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg in a unified command, was signed May 27, 1952. So far it has been ratified only by West Germany and one house of the Dutch Parliament.

Federal Jury Indicts Greenlease Kidnapers

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Heady for the kidnaping of little Bobby Greenlease who was slain by his abductors last Sept. 28.

The federal kidnaping law makes possible a death penalty for Hall, a 34-year-old ex-convict who shot the 6-year-old boy to death, and for his accomplice, a 41-year-old divorcee, who duped the nuns of Bobby's private school into releasing him.

The jury had heard four days of testimony detailing the story of the kidnap, the six days of negotiation by Hall with the wealthy Robert C. Greenlease family, payment of a $600,000 ransom, and the arrest of Hall and Mrs. Heady on Oct. 6, nine days after they had buried the child in a flower garden behind Mrs. Heady's bungalow in St. Joseph, Mo.

The confessed kidnapers were arrested in St. Louis where $300,000 of the ransom was recovered in Hall's motel room. He had been on a three day binge and his free spending aroused the suspicion of a taxi driver, John Hager. Hager tipped police and Lt. Louis Shoulders arrested the kidnaper.

The St. Louis angles of the story took up much of the jury's time. A police board held an inquiry into Shoulders' reports of the arrest and delivery of the money to a police station. Shoulders resigned, complaining his character and reputation had been assassinated. He spent much of yesterday before the jury here. Hager who was with Shoulders at the time of the arrest, testified at least five hours.

Elmer Dolan, a St. Louis patrolman, and Joseph Costello, owner of a taxicab company that employes Hager, were the last witnesses before the jury returned its indictment to Judge Richard Duncan at 5 p.m.

Mitchell Quits As SBA Chief

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—In a letter bordering on the curt, President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of William D. Mitchell as administrator of the Small Business Administration "effective immediately."

Mitchell, former Denver lawyer and business man, said he quit for "purely personal reasons" and not because of any disagreements with the President or other administration officials.

"The job as I have been pursuing it has made such a demand on my time and energy that I thought it best to resign," he told a reporter.

"Everything is on a very amicable plane," he added. "I have the greatest confidence in and love for the President of the United States."

Mitchell, who became 41 on Oct. 20, said he was thinking of going into private law practice here.

Eisenhower made this reply to Mitchell's letter of resignation:

"I have your letter tendering your resignation as administrator of the Small Business Administration. I accept your resignation effective immediately."

Omitted were the usual thanks for services rendered.

Husband May Complicate McGuire-LaRosa Romance

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Dorothy McGuire said tonight she was "shocked and disturbed" at reports her husband, Sgt. John Brown, was flying back from Korea to break up her romance with Julius La Rosa.

In a terse statement distributed by CBS, her first since La Rosa reported they hoped to be married, she said she could not comment further "until I have heard from or talked to Johnny."

Miss McGuire had been living apart from Sgt. Brown, recently assigned to Korea, for the past several months.

La Rosa had said the separation was amicable and he and Miss McGuire hoped to marry when they solved their legal and religious difficulties. He is Roman Catholic and she is not.

Miss McGuire's statement said, "I know that Johnny and I had come to an amicable agreement about our separation."

La Rosa, whose firing from the Arthur Godfrey program Oct. 19 touched off a furor, smilingly said "no comment" on his arrival today at Albany, N. Y., when informed of the reports.

The young baritone flew from here for a performance at Albany for the benefit of the Franciscan Fathers Building Fund. Lu Ann Simms, a member of the Godfrey cast, also was on the benefit program.

Since leaving the Godfrey troupe, of which Miss McGuire still is a member, La Rosa has been booked for a thrice weekly CBS radio show, made a TV appearance on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" last Sunday and has been booked for numerous personal appearances. He will be back on Sullivan's show Sunday night.

Officer Tried Suicide But Plan Misfired

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, a prisoner of war in Korea for more than three years, disclosed today that he once planned to commit suicide to prevent his Red captors from torturing him to a point where he might betray his country.

The plan failed—which is one reason why Dean was able to tell the story at a luncheon in his honor at the National Press Club today.

After days of cruel questioning by North Korean Communists, in which he refused to reveal American military secrets, the general was told that he would be subjected to real physical torture within 24 hours.

The $64 question, he told the newsmen, was: "What are the U. S. plans for the defense of Japan?"

Dean explained that he knew these plans and that he decided the safest thing he could do to protect the security of his country was to take his own life. He said he was afraid he might "squeal" under the agonies of torture."

That night, the white-haired general related, he waited until his guard dozed off and got hold of the burp gun with which he was armed.

He said his plan was to fire one burst through the window to arouse his chief interrogators, shoot them down when they rushed through the door and then turn the gun on himself.

But the gun jammed. He was overpowered as he wrestled with the mechanism.

For some reason, Dean went on dryly, his desperate action won him a reprieve. The grilling was halted, and for the first time a doctor was produced to treat him for dysentery and painful injuries he had received earlier in his captivity.

Four teams of interrogators, assisted by two interpreters, grilled him for 68 hours in one first session. Dean's persistent refusal to give any information except the simple facts of his capture, so angered the Reds that they stripped him down to his underpants, took away the cot on which he had been allowed to sit at times and forced him to stand without rest.

While the interrogators were resting between sessions, Dean said, he was allowed to sit on a hard chair but never permitted to go to sleep. An armed guard kicked him each time he started to nod.

Arab, Asian Delegates 'Neutral' On Atrocities

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Some Asian and Arab delegates took a neutral hands-off stand today on United States charges that Reds in Korea committed atrocities against American and other allied captives. They also expressed fear the charges might jeopardize the Korean peace conference.

A British spokesman expressed horror over the reported atrocities and said his delegation would consult as early as possible with the United States on tactics for debate on them in the U. N. Assembly. Britain is expected to back the American demand for a hearing but the British were not consulted before the U. S. acted here.

The Asian and Arab delegates who talked about the atrocity charges would not permit identification. They expressed their horror also at the evidence but made it clear they would sit on the fence when the case comes up in the Political Committee for action.

Repentant Thief?

MUSKEGON, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP)—Sam Piesiada's stolen cash register showed up today. A group of schoolgirls found it in a clump of bushes. It was stolen two weeks from Sam's fruit market. But Sam wasn't alarmed. It was empty at the time. When found, it contained $1.10. Sam can't figure it out. Neither can police.

Korea Peace Parley Date Still Not Set

Talks, Stymied For 5 Days, To Resume Today

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Getting nowhere in five days, special U. S. Envoy Arthur Dean meets Red diplomats again today in another try for agreement on a time and place to hold the Korean peace conference.

The session seemed likely to yield another Red turndown on Dean's proposals.

But the Dean party was not pessimistic. The emissary of Secretary of State Dulles has said he expected early sparring by the Communists and would allow 10 days to 2 weeks to see if the Reds really want the conference.

Neutral Issue Remains

Dean plugged for the second time yesterday for a detour around the Red roadblock—a demand that such non-belligerents as Russia, India, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia be admitted to the conference. Ki Sok Tok, North Korean foreign ministry counselor, called "absurd" Dean's proposal that the parties first choose the time and place.

Ki said the proposal was "only a trick" and the Reds found it "absolutely unacceptable."

Dean patiently asked the Reds to "think it over carefully" and give him another answer. Dean said he was willing to recess until Monday but the Reds insisted on another session today.

Dean suggested that one way out of the controversy over neutrals might be to drop it in the lap of the conference itself.

Seeks Accord First

"Suppose," Dean said, "we were to proceed and had the political conference just between the two (belligerent) sides. How do you know now that we cannot agree at the conference? Why not try to get together at the political conference itself and work together?"

Dean did not pursue this line further but a source close to the Dean mission indicated this idea might be pressed next week if the deadlock continues.

U. S. Will Help Japan Build Up Defense Forces

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The United States and Japan announced agreement tonight on the need for "increasing Japan's self-defense forces" against the threat of possible aggression.

The United States "offered to assist Japan in developing the Japanese forces by supplying major items of military equipment for the land, sea and air forces which Japan raises."

One point of assistance, a joint statement said, will be through a 50 million dollar food program for Japan.

Surplus American farm products will be turned over to the Japanese government which will sell them to the Japanese people and use the funds on Japan's defense program.

The joint statement was released upon the conclusion of talks between Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson and Hayato Ikeda, personal representative of Prime Minister Yoshida. It indicated what officials privately admitted—that neither side had gotten out of the talks all it wanted.

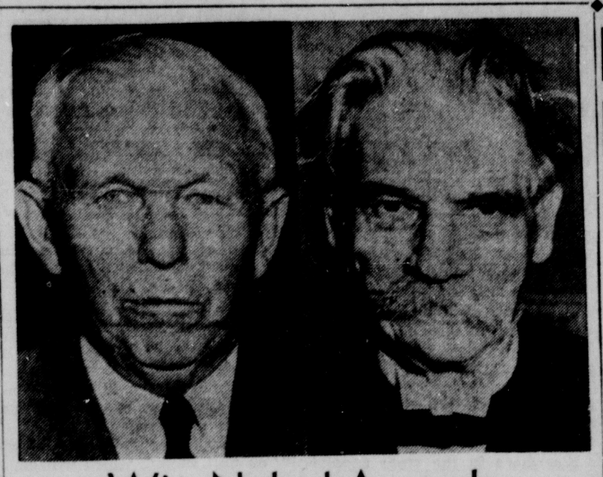

The United States informed Japan that it would like the present national safety force of 110,000 men expanded into a ground force of 325,000 to 350,000 in the shortest possible time to meet the Communist threat to Japan's security.

The Japanese, however, reportedly took the position that they would only be able to build their ground force up to a total of about 180,000 men over the next three to five years—unless the United States was willing to undertake substantial economic assistance to expand the base for defense.

Actually the Japanese wanted a big American economic program if they could get it but the Eisenhower administration was not interested.

Officials explaining the joint statement said that the talks cleared the air and provided realistic understanding on both sides of what the problems are.

There will be further conferences in Tokyo to try to work out details of the U. S. military assistance program and the Japanese expansion of forces.

Win Nobel Awards

Marshall, Schweitzer Nobel Prize Winners

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Nobel Peace Prize for 1953 was awarded tonight to Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. soldier-statesman who gave his name to the Marshall Plan.

At the same time the prize for 1952, previously omitted, was awarded to Dr. Albert Schweitzer, Alsatian missionary-philosopher.

The Norwegian Nobel Institute, a five-member board, announced the selections. In keeping with tradition, it gave no explanations.

Marshall, 72, was confined to bed with a severe cold at his winter home in Pinehurst, N. C., when he got the news.

Instrumental in setting up a 17 billion dollar aid program for the war-shattered economy of Europe, Marshall is to receive a prize of 175,292 Swedish kronor ($33,840) from the funds set up under the will of Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

Schweitzer, 78, is to get 171,570 kronor (about $33,200). Fluctuations in the funds' earnings account for the difference.

Marshall won world renown as the U. S. chief of staff in World War II.

After the war, Marshall retired to the peace and quiet of his home at Leesburg, Va.

Two years later President Truman sent him to China on a fruitless mission to end the Chinese Civil War, a war the Communists eventually won.

Then he was named secretary of state. In this capacity he represented the United States at the first of the Four-Power foreign ministers' meetings aimed at establishing an East-West peace.

Marshall resigned as secretary of state in January, 1949. President Truman called him from retirement again in September 1950, during the Korean War, to succeed Louis A. Johnson as secretary of defense. He stepped out a year later.

Schweitzer is a twinkling-eyed, whitemustached man long renowned as a medical missionary, musician, philosopher and doctor. He enjoyed a wide reputation when he went into the African jungles 40 years ago to serve humanity as "man to my fellow man." He and his wife established a hospital at Lambarene, in French equatorial Africa.

General's Plane Is Forced Down

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 30 (AP)—Engine trouble caused a forced landing here today of the plane carrying Gen. Nathan Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, to Rabat, Morocco, for an inspection tour of American bases.

Mrs. Twining is traveling with the general.

Ike Denounces Internment Of Polish Cardinal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower today cited the arrest of Cardinal Wyszinski in Poland as reason to doubt the Communists would "honor agreements which might be reached to reduce world tensions."

In a letter to Rep. Zablocki (R-Wis), the President said the arrest and internment of the Polish primate is "profoundly discouraging to those of us who look for signs of Communist willingness to respect basic human rights of freedom of thought and conscience."

Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski was arrested late last month.

Today's letter was in reply to a request by Rep. Zablocki for a statement re-emphasizing the President's condemnation of the cardinal's arrest.

"The calculated repression of all religious organizations in the Communist states makes it apparent that wherever Communists are in position to use force and violence, they will do so in an effort to win domination not only over the body and mind of man, but over his soul as well," the President declared.

Poland "Appoints" New Bishop

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 30 (AP)—In defiance of the Vatican, Communist Poland announced today it has appointed a Roman Catholic bishop to the Diocese of Breslau (Wrocslaw). In the Roman Catholic Church only the Pope has the power to appoint bishops.

Warsaw radio announced the new bishop is the Most Rev. Antonin Pawlowski, described as a professor of theology in Warsaw.

Western Observers in Vienna said the way had apparently been cleared by the Red regime's removal of Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski from the bishopric.

"Poland can name all the so-called 'bishops' she wants to—they will still be only a mockery and a falsehood for the Catholic faithful," a Vatican source said tonight.

Slayer's Plot To Marry His Way Out Of Prison Foiled

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—Herman W. Duker's plot to marry his way out of the state penitentiary exploded with the discovery of five smuggled letters, and the convicted murderer was in solitary confinement today, his chances of parole diminished.

Once a member of a prominent Baltimore family, Duker was convicted of the holdup murder of a milkman 22 years ago.

A prison official said the discovery of the letters Duker wrote to a former prison pal on the outside "wiped out what he (Duker) had built over 20 years."

The letters, smuggled out by inmate chauffeurs of the prison, exposed what was apparently a plan to convince parole authorities that Duker was ready for freedom.

They were found in the belongings of Walter J. Lloyd, slain in the apartment of a married couple last week in Baltimore.

Duker had been seeking release from prison to marry a woman who had been visiting him regularly.

When her visits became infrequent, Duker wrote to Lloyd imploring him to "get her back on the ball where I am concerned so that I can get out of this place on parole. Betty damn near holds the key to the front door where I am concerned," he wrote.

Prison officials said the woman described as "Betty" was a widow living in the 1700 block, St. Paul Street, in Baltimore. However, residents of the house said they never heard of the woman by the name listed on prison visiting records, Mrs. Betty Hirshner.

She began visiting Duker about six months ago.

Flier Claims Reds Starved, Beat Captives

Pentagon Releases Testimony About 'Brutal' Treatment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—A former war prisoner reports that many high-ranking Russians visited a North Korean camp where the Reds were trying to wrest "confessions" and information from captured Americans by starvation and other maltreatment.

The Russians made no attempt to conceal their nationality, he said, apparently thinking that none of the American prisoners would ever get back home.

The story is told by Capt. William M. Preston of Batavia, N. Y., in a four-hour film recording by 15 former prisoners exhibited today to newsmen, motion picture and television representatives.

The Pentagon film, part of which was shown early this month to the United Nations Assembly by the U.S. representative, Henry Cabot Lodge, represents another round in the Americans psychological battle with the Communist camp to refute "confessions" wrung from prisoners and spread worldwide by Red propaganda.

Resisted Propaganda

The U.N. Assembly saw a film recording of the statements of 10 of the men—8 airmen and 2 Marines. But in the Pentagon showing the recordings of five other airmen were shown as well.

An official interrogator announced, concerning the latter, that "in spite of pressures brought to bear, these men, like many, many others, refused to succumb to the pressure."

Capt. Preston presaged his statement with the comment that the treatment he received was "brutal," that the enemy sought to wear him and the others down physically and mentally to the point where they would make statements and give information wanted by their captors.

Then he told about an interrogation camp called "Pak's Palace," named after the North Korean major who ran the place—"the most barbaric, evil, vicious man I have ever met in my life." Of Pak, Preston said:

Russians Watched

"Many high-ranking officers visited Pak's while we were there to look at the American prisoners, to laugh, to spit at us, throw rocks at us. They thought it was funny to see an American up there as a prisoner.

"There were many Russians visited Pak while we were there. There were many high-ranking civilians, both Chinese and Russians and Koreans, visited Pak's.

"We talked to those people. They let us know who they were. They weren't trying to hide their identity because I think they felt that none of the U. N. prisoners that were there would ever get back to our own country."

Ex-Employe Of UN Linked With Red Spy Ring

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Atom spy Harry Gold was quoted by Senate probers today as linking an ousted American employe of the United Nations to a Russian spy ring of a decade ago.

The former $10,450 a year U.N. employe is Alexander Svenchansky, 44, a target of spy hunters ever since the U. S. State Department made an adverse report on him in 1950. He uses the name, Shura Swan, at times.

Robert Morris, counsel for the Senate internal security subcommittee, quoted Gold as saying in a sworn statement:

"I heard of Shura Swan from a man called Abraham Brothman. Brothman was one of my sources of information for the Soviet Espionage organization, of which I was a courier. I met Brothman in September, 1941.

"About a half year after that, Brothman first mentioned Shura Swan. Brothman said it was Shura Swan who had introduced him to Soviet espionage work."

Brothman, 40, is serving a seven-year prison sentence for conspiring to obstruct justice by lying to a federal grand jury probing communism.

Gold's testimony helped send Brothman to prison and later was a factor in the conviction of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who died in the electric chair last June as convicted atom spies.

Gold, himself, is serving a 30-year term in Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison as a confessed member of the Rosenberg spy ring.

The plan failed—which is one reason why Dean was able to tell the story at a luncheon in his honor at the National Press Club today.

After days of cruel questioning by North Korean Communists, in which he refused to reveal American military secrets, the general was told that he would be subjected to real physical torture within 24 hours.

The $64 question, he told the newsmen, was: "What are the U. S. plans for the defense of Japan?"

Dean explained that he knew these plans and that he decided the safest thing he could do to protect the security of his country was to take his own life. He said he was afraid he might "squeal" under the agonies of torture."

That night, the white-haired general related, he waited until his guard dozed off and got hold of the burp gun with which he was armed.

He said his plan was to fire one burst through the window to arouse his chief interrogators, shoot them down when they rushed through the door and then turn the gun on himself.

But the gun jammed. He was overpowered as he wrestled with the mechanism.

For some reason, Dean went on dryly, his desperate action won him a reprieve. The grilling was halted, and for the first time a doctor was produced to treat him for dysentery and painful injuries he had received earlier in his captivity.

Four teams of interrogators, assisted by two interpreters, grilled him for 68 hours in one first session. Dean's persistent refusal to give any information except the simple facts of his capture, so angered the Reds that they stripped him down to his underpants, took away the cot on which he had been allowed to sit at times and forced him to stand without rest.

While the interrogators were resting between sessions, Dean said, he was allowed to sit on a hard chair but never permitted to go to sleep. An armed guard kicked him each time he started to nod.

Arab, Asian Delegates 'Neutral' On Atrocities

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Some Asian and Arab delegates took a neutral hands-off stand today on United States charges that Reds in Korea committed atrocities against American and other allied captives. They also expressed fear the charges might jeopardize the Korean peace conference.

A British spokesman expressed horror over the reported atrocities and said his delegation would consult as early as possible with the United States on tactics for debate on them in the U. N. Assembly. Britain is expected to back the American demand for a hearing but the British were not consulted before the U. S. acted here.

The Asian and Arab delegates who talked about the atrocity charges would not permit identification. They expressed their horror also at the evidence but made it clear they would sit on the fence when the case comes up in the Political Committee for action.

Repentant Thief?

MUSKEGON, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP)—Sam Piesiada's stolen cash register showed up today. A group of schoolgirls found it in a clump of bushes. It was stolen two weeks from Sam's fruit market. But Sam wasn't alarmed. It was empty at the time. When found, it contained $1.10. Sam can't figure it out. Neither can police.

Composer Dies

Korea Peace Parley Date Still Not Set

Talks, Stymied For 5 Days, To Resume Today

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Getting nowhere in five days, special U. S. Envoy Arthur Dean meets Red diplomats again today in another try for agreement on a time and place to hold the Korean peace conference.

The session seemed likely to yield another Red turndown on Dean's proposals.

But the Dean party was not pessimistic. The emissary of Secretary of State Dulles has said he expected early sparring by the Communists and would allow 10 days to 2 weeks to see if the Reds really want the conference.

Neutral Issue Remains

Dean plugged for the second time yesterday for a detour around the Red roadblock—a demand that such non-belligerents as Russia, India, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia be admitted to the conference. Ki Sok Tok, North Korean foreign ministry counselor, called "absurd" Dean's proposal that the parties first choose the time and place.

Ki said the proposal was "only a trick" and the Reds found it "absolutely unacceptable."

Dean patiently asked the Reds to "think it over carefully" and give him another answer. Dean said he was willing to recess until Monday but the Reds insisted on another session today.

Dean suggested that one way out of the controversy over neutrals might be to drop it in the lap of the conference itself.

Seeks Accord First

"Suppose," Dean said, "we were to proceed and had the political conference just between the two (belligerent) sides. How do you know now that we cannot agree at the conference? Why not try to get together at the political conference itself and work together?"

Dean did not pursue this line further but a source close to the Dean mission indicated this idea might be pressed next week if the deadlock continues.

U. S. Will Help Japan Build Up Defense Forces

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The United States and Japan announced agreement tonight on the need for "increasing Japan's self-defense forces" against the threat of possible aggression.

The United States "offered to assist Japan in developing the Japanese forces by supplying major items of military equipment for the land, sea and air forces which Japan raises."

One point of assistance, a joint statement said, will be through a 50 million dollar food program for Japan.

Surplus American farm products will be turned over to the Japanese government which will sell them to the Japanese people and use the funds on Japan's defense program.

The joint statement was released upon the conclusion of talks between Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson and Hayato Ikeda, personal representative of Prime Minister Yoshida. It indicated what officials privately admitted—that neither side had gotten out of the talks all it wanted.

The United States informed Japan that it would like the present national safety force of 110,000 men expanded into a ground force of 325,000 to 350,000 in the shortest possible time to meet the Communist threat to Japan's security.

The Japanese, however, reportedly took the position that they would only be able to build their ground force up to a total of about 180,000 men over the next three to five years—unless the United States was willing to undertake substantial economic assistance to expand the base for defense.

Actually the Japanese wanted a big American economic program if they could get it but the Eisenhower administration was not interested.

Officials explaining the joint statement said that the talks cleared the air and provided realistic understanding on both sides of what the problems are.

There will be further conferences in Tokyo to try to work out details of the U. S. military assistance program and the Japanese expansion of forces.

Win Nobel Awards

Marshall, Schweitzer Nobel Prize Winners

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Nobel Peace Prize for 1953 was awarded tonight to Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. soldier-statesman who gave his name to the Marshall Plan.

At the same time the prize for 1952, previously omitted, was awarded to Dr. Albert Schweitzer, Alsatian missionary-philosopher.

The Norwegian Nobel Institute, a five-member board, announced the selections. In keeping with tradition, it gave no explanations.

Marshall, 72, was confined to bed with a severe cold at his winter home in Pinehurst, N. C., when he got the news.

Instrumental in setting up a 17 billion dollar aid program for the war-shattered economy of Europe, Marshall is to receive a prize of 175,292 Swedish kronor ($33,840) from the funds set up under the will of Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

Schweitzer, 78, is to get 171,570 kronor (about $33,200). Fluctuations in the funds' earnings account for the difference.

Marshall won world renown as the U. S. chief of staff in World War II.

After the war, Marshall retired to the peace and quiet of his home at Leesburg, Va.

Two years later President Truman sent him to China on a fruitless mission to end the Chinese Civil War, a war the Communists eventually won.

Then he was named secretary of state. In this capacity he represented the United States at the first of the Four-Power foreign ministers' meetings aimed at establishing an East-West peace.

Marshall resigned as secretary of state in January, 1949. President Truman called him from retirement again in September 1950, during the Korean War, to succeed Louis A. Johnson as secretary of defense. He stepped out a year later.

Schweitzer is a twinkling-eyed, whitemustached man long renowned as a medical missionary, musician, philosopher and doctor. He enjoyed a wide reputation when he went into the African jungles 40 years ago to serve humanity as "man to my fellow man." He and his wife established a hospital at Lambarene, in French equatorial Africa.

General's Plane Is Forced Down

MADRID, Spain, Oct. 30 (AP)—Engine trouble caused a forced landing here today of the plane carrying Gen. Nathan Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, to Rabat, Morocco, for an inspection tour of American bases.

Mrs. Twining is traveling with the general.

Ike Denounces Internment Of Polish Cardinal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower today cited the arrest of Cardinal Wyszinski in Poland as reason to doubt the Communists would "honor agreements which might be reached to reduce world tensions."

In a letter to Rep. Zablocki (R-Wis), the President said the arrest and internment of the Polish primate is "profoundly discouraging to those of us who look for signs of Communist willingness to respect basic human rights of freedom of thought and conscience."

Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski was arrested late last month.

Today's letter was in reply to a request by Rep. Zablocki for a statement re-emphasizing the President's condemnation of the cardinal's arrest.

"The calculated repression of all religious organizations in the Communist states makes it apparent that wherever Communists are in position to use force and violence, they will do so in an effort to win domination not only over the body and mind of man, but over his soul as well," the President declared.

Poland "Appoints" New Bishop

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 30 (AP)—In defiance of the Vatican, Communist Poland announced today it has appointed a Roman Catholic bishop to the Diocese of Breslau (Wrocslaw). In the Roman Catholic Church only the Pope has the power to appoint bishops.

Warsaw radio announced the new bishop is the Most Rev. Antonin Pawlowski, described as a professor of theology in Warsaw.

Western Observers in Vienna said the way had apparently been cleared by the Red regime's removal of Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski from the bishopric.

"Poland can name all the so-called 'bishops' she wants to—they will still be only a mockery and a falsehood for the Catholic faithful," a Vatican source said tonight.

Slayer's Plot To Marry His Way Out Of Prison Foiled

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—Herman W. Duker's plot to marry his way out of the state penitentiary exploded with the discovery of five smuggled letters, and the convicted murderer was in solitary confinement today, his chances of parole diminished.

Once a member of a prominent Baltimore family, Duker was convicted of the holdup murder of a milkman 22 years ago.

A prison official said the discovery of the letters Duker wrote to a former prison pal on the outside "wiped out what he (Duker) had built over 20 years."

The letters, smuggled out by inmate chauffeurs of the prison, exposed what was apparently a plan to convince parole authorities that Duker was ready for freedom.

They were found in the belongings of Walter J. Lloyd, slain in the apartment of a married couple last week in Baltimore.

Duker had been seeking release from prison to marry a woman who had been visiting him regularly.

When her visits became infrequent, Duker wrote to Lloyd imploring him to "get her back on the ball where I am concerned so that I can get out of this place on parole. Betty damn near holds the key to the front door where I am concerned," he wrote.

Prison officials said the woman described as "Betty" was a widow living in the 1700 block, St. Paul Street, in Baltimore. However, residents of the house said they never heard of the woman by the name listed on prison visiting records, Mrs. Betty Hirshner.

She began visiting Duker about six months ago.

Pentagon Releases Testimony About 'Brutal' Treatment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—A former war prisoner reports that many high-ranking Russians visited a North Korean camp where the Reds were trying to wrest "confessions" and information from captured Americans by starvation and other maltreatment.

The Russians made no attempt to conceal their nationality, he said, apparently thinking that none of the American prisoners would ever get back home.

The story is told by Capt. William M. Preston of Batavia, N. Y., in a four-hour film recording by 15 former prisoners exhibited today to newsmen, motion picture and television representatives.

The Pentagon film, part of which was shown early this month to the United Nations Assembly by the U.S. representative, Henry Cabot Lodge, represents another round in the Americans psychological battle with the Communist camp to refute "confessions" wrung from prisoners and spread worldwide by Red propaganda.

Resisted Propaganda

The U.N. Assembly saw a film recording of the statements of 10 of the men—8 airmen and 2 Marines. But in the Pentagon showing the recordings of five other airmen were shown as well.

An official interrogator announced, concerning the latter, that "in spite of pressures brought to bear, these men, like many, many others, refused to succumb to the pressure."

Capt. Preston presaged his statement with the comment that the treatment he received was "brutal," that the enemy sought to wear him and the others down physically and mentally to the point where they would make statements and give information wanted by their captors.

Then he told about an interrogation camp called "Pak's Palace," named after the North Korean major who ran the place—"the most barbaric, evil, vicious man I have ever met in my life." Of Pak, Preston said:

Russians Watched

"Many high-ranking officers visited Pak's while we were there to look at the American prisoners, to laugh, to spit at us, throw rocks at us. They thought it was funny to see an American up there as a prisoner.

"There were many Russians visited Pak while we were there. There were many high-ranking civilians, both Chinese and Russians and Koreans, visited Pak's.

"We talked to those people. They let us know who they were. They weren't trying to hide their identity because I think they felt that none of the U. N. prisoners that were there would ever get back to our own country."

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Atom spy Harry Gold was quoted by Senate probers today as linking an ousted American employe of the United Nations to a Russian spy ring of a decade ago.

The former $10,450 a year U.N. employe is Alexander Svenchansky, 44, a target of spy hunters ever since the U. S. State Department made an adverse report on him in 1950. He uses the name, Shura Swan, at times.

Robert Morris, counsel for the Senate internal security subcommittee, quoted Gold as saying in a sworn statement:

"I heard of Shura Swan from a man called Abraham Brothman. Brothman was one of my sources of information for the Soviet Espionage organization, of which I was a courier. I met Brothman in September, 1941.

"About a half year after that, Brothman first mentioned Shura Swan. Brothman said it was Shura Swan who had introduced him to Soviet espionage work."

Brothman, 40, is serving a seven-year prison sentence for conspiring to obstruct justice by lying to a federal grand jury probing communism.

Gold's testimony helped send Brothman to prison and later was a factor in the conviction of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who died in the electric chair last June as convicted atom spies.

Gold, himself, is serving a 30-year term in Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison as a confessed member of the Rosenberg spy ring.

Sobeloff May Be Next U.S. Solicitor General

SIMON SOBELOFF

Chief Judge Of Appeals Court Remains Mum

[By The Associated Press]

Maryland's chief judge of the Court of Appeals, Simon Sobeloff, appeared headed for the long vacant post of United States solicitor general today, but Republican party leaders in the state were keeping mum and referring all queries to the White House.

Attorney General Brownell's office would not comment on the report, which originated with the New York Times.

Judge Sobeloff wouldn't say anything when contacted at his home in Towson, and Gov. McKeldin was similarly tight lipped.

The job pays $17,500 per year and hasn't been filled on a regular basis since August of 1952 when Philip B. Perlman of Baltimore, a Democrat, retired.

Considered a major administration post, the chief duties call for handling the government's cases before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Elsewhere in the state appointments are expected soon to two seats in the Maryland General Assembly.

The Harford County Democratic Central Committee is considering a replacement for Sa[illegible] McNabb when he resigns to accept a judgeship in the [illegible] dicial Court.

In Caroline County, Democrats are trying to agree on a successor to Del. John Wood Logan, who resigned to accept an appointment to the State Tax Commission.

Being mentioned as contenders are Martin L. Sutton of Ridgely, Harry Hughes of Denton and Russell Wright of Greensboro.

Jets Delivered To Guard Units

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Air Force has started delivering F86 Sabre Jets to Air National Guard units.

The Guard Bureau, announcing this today, said first deliveries went to the 186th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Great Falls, Mont., and to the 190th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Boise, Idaho.

Within the next few months, F86s will be delivered to two squadrons of the northwest wing—the 116th at Spokane and the 123rd at Portland, Ore. During that time two tactical units of the 128th wing also will get the jets—the 176th at Madison, Wis., and 126th at Milwaukee.

Lord Cherwell, British Atom Chief, Resigns

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Lord Cherwell, wartime science expert and backroom chief of Britain's atom bomb program, resigned today as scientific adviser to Prime Minister Churchill. He is returning to an Oxford University professorship.

Churchill brought Cherwell into his cabinet as soon as his Conservative party returned to power in 1951. Cherwell was granted two years' leave from his university post and his return to Oxford has long been forecast.

In a letter accepting the resignation, Churchill said:

"The services you have given us, without remuneration to yourself, have been to the great advantage of the state, no less in the present administration than in the years of war. . . .

"It is a consolation that you are willing to continue giving me your advice from time to time on scientific questions.

"In particular your close connection for more than 10 years with the development of atomic energy invests you with an authority on that subject which will continue to be of outstanding value."

During his time in the cabinet—nominally as paymaster-general—Cherwell has lived next to Churchill's official resident at No. 10 Downing St.

They are close friends, despite contrasting make-up. Cherwell, 66, is a bachelor, vegetarian and teetotaler, a tightlipped genius who looks like a civil servant of the British bowler hat and rolled umbrella breed. Churchill at 78 would no more miss his after-dinner brandy than his cigar.

When Churchill took over Britain's war leadership in 1940 he named Cherwell—then Prof. Frederick A. Lindemann—as his personal assistant.

Scientific teams under the professor's direction produced:

A device which exploded magnetic mines at a safe distance from imperilled ships;

A method of bending radio beams to deflect enemy bombers using them as a homing course to their targets;

The tinfoil clouds dropped from Allied planes to confuse enemy radar; and

The professor was elevated to a peerage as the first baron of Oxford in 1941.

Jailbreaker Gets Stuck, Has To Be Sawed Free

PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP)—A St. Clair County Jail inmate tried to escape today—and wound up in a tighter spot than ever.

Harry W. Budge, 23, Chicago, waiting trial on a bad check charge, decided to leave his second story cell by knocking loose some bricks under the window bars and crawling through, Sheriff's men said.

Deputy Sheriff Peter W. LaCroix, stepping outside for a bit of air, noticed Budge, unconscious, hanging half-way out of the cell wall. The prisoner was stuck fast.

LaCroix went into the cell and attemped to pull Budge back inside. But he couldn't move him.

Firemen finally extricated Budge after 30 minutes of sawing through the window bars to enlarge the opening.

When he regained consciousness, Budge made no comment.

Sen. George Says Tax Hike Unfair

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today Congress should strike out the billion-dollar increase in social security taxes now scheduled to cost most U. S. taxpayers sums ranging up to $18 a year starting next Jan. 1.

The Georgia senator, senior Democrat on the tax-handling Senate Finance Committee, said it would be "less than fair" to low-income workers to let the tax boost go through while other tax rates go down.

The result, he said, would be a bigger tax bite on "the little fellow" and a tax saving to others.

In this connection, George pointed out that many workers don't earn enough to be liable for income taxes, but most wage and salary earners have to pay social security taxes to finance the federal retirement and death benefit program. The tax is withheld from their paychecks.

Under present law, Jan. 1 is the target date for a 10 per cent drop in individual income taxes and for the expiration of the excess profits tax on business.

It is also the date when social security taxes are scheduled to increase from the present rate of 1½ to 2 per cent each on employes and employers.

Mayor Threatens Strong Measures In Milk Walkout

Negotiators Finally Get Together

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri finally got milk strike negotiators to City Hall today, threatening to lock them in until they settle a five-day walkout.

He did not carry out the threat, however.

The strike has cut off milk supplies to 12 million people in New York and northern New Jersey and the mayor angrily told reporters in early afternoon:

"We will put them in a room and put police outside and we will not let them out."

Impellitteri's ire was aroused after AFL teamsters representatives ignored his summons to come to City Hall for city-supervised peace talks. Company negotiators showed up.

However, the mayor agreed to allow both sides a few more hours to try privately to end the strike that has cut off milk supplies to 12 million consumers in New York and northern New Jersey.

At one point yesterday, the wages-hours strike seemed so close to settlement that big milk tank trucks began streaming toward New York. But they turned back.

In the Bronx, a sudden windfall of 50,000 quarts of fresh milk attracted more than 500 persons who lined up for a share of it. Even some of the 13,000 strikers got in line.

The milk had reached the Gold Medal Farm Co. before the strike began last Sunday afternoon. It was bottled yesterday after it had been tested.

At the height of the clamor for this unexpected cache of milk, a fire broke out in the firm's one-story garage across the street. The milk-famished crowd kept their places in line, ignoring the fire.

Joseph Fromm, vice president of Gold Medal, set his loss at $50,000 and alleged sabotage. He claimed he had trouble with some unidentified teamsters although his own striking employes had no objection to the sale of any milk on hand before the strike began.

Austrians Protest Failure Of Big Four Powers To Grant National Independence

There was a five-minute strike in factories and offices. Street cars came to a halt. Telephone switchboards were left untended. Customers were ignored in the stores.

There was talk in Parliament of defying the Big Four occupation powers.

Austria's seven million people were noting an anniversary in mourning.

It was 10 years ago tomorrow that the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia issued the Moscow declaration calling for a "free and independent Austria." The declaration remains unrealized. Postwar squabbles which the West blames on Russia have prevented them from keeping their word.

Chancellor Julius Raab told Parliament the five-minute work stoppage was "the most powerful demonstration since the war" again the failure of the occupation powers to give Austria her independence.

"Our patience has come to an end," Raab said.

Apparently to reassure the Russians, the Chancellor said that Austria "will never permit its soil to be used as a base for war actions."

He said that this country, the first victim of Hitler's aggressions, is grateful for its liberation, but "now we ask and demand that the four allied powers not be deaf to the voice of the Austrian people."

The U. S. Embassy said: "The United States has consistently demonstrated its desire to conclude a state treaty. The U. S. government continues to hope that the Soviet Union will sit down in conference for the immediate conclusion of an Austrian treaty and the removal of this cause of international tension."

The Russians have not yet replied to a recent invitation of the Western Powers to discuss both the German and Austrian questions with them at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 9.

Army Will Try Instant Coffee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Army is going to see how its soldiers like instant coffee instead of the standard kind.

Tests for troop reaction will be made at the mess halls in four big camps—Ft. Niagara, N. Y.; Ft. Dix, N. J., Camp Kilmer, J. J. and Ft. Devens, Mass.

About 100,000 soldiers at the four bases will get daily servings of the soluble coffee. There won't be any choice. No other kind will be served.

The Quartermaster Corps claims use of soluble coffee instead of roasted and ground coffee "would bring substantial savings;" that the smaller weight and bulk would mean lower transportation and storage costs.

'Equitable' Chief Won't Resign

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Thomas I. Parkinson today denied a state official's announcement that he would resign his $100,000 a year post as chairman of the board of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Alfred J. Bohlinger, New York state superintendent of insurance, yesterday accused Parkinson of "nepotism" and said Parkinson would resign. He said Parkinson, 71, was ill.

Bohlinger told a news conference at that time it was the first time he ever had announced the resignation of a leading officer of an insurance company, but declined to say whether he had "forced" the resignation.

Parkinson retorted today:

"I am not ill and I will not resign."

He said his continued association with Equitable would be determined by its board of directors. He delivered his statement to newspapers by messenger and was unavailable for further comment.

Early Trieste Parley Urged

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The United States, Britain and France hope to send formal invitation next week to Italy and Yugoslavia for a five-power conference on the future of disputed Trieste.

A State Department spokesman who reported this today said Secretary of state Dulles believes such a conference should be held as quickly as possible.

Lord Cherwell, British Atom Chief, Resigns

LONDON, Saturday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Lord Cherwell, wartime science expert and backroom chief of Britain's atom bomb program, resigned today as scientific adviser to Prime Minister Churchill. He is returning to an Oxford University professorship.

Churchill brought Cherwell into his cabinet as soon as his Conservative party returned to power in 1951. Cherwell was granted two years' leave from his university post and his return to Oxford has long been forecast.

Jailbreaker Gets Stuck, Has To Be Sawed Free

PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 30 (AP)—A St. Clair County Jail inmate tried to escape today—and wound up in a tighter spot than ever.

Harry W. Budge, 23, Chicago, waiting trial on a bad check charge, decided to leave his second story cell by knocking loose some bricks under the window bars and crawling through, Sheriff's men said.

Deputy Sheriff Peter W. LaCroix, stepping outside for a bit of air, noticed Budge, unconscious, hanging half-way out of the cell wall. The prisoner was stuck fast.

LaCroix went into the cell and attemped to pull Budge back inside. But he couldn't move him.

Firemen finally extricated Budge after 30 minutes of sawing through the window bars to enlarge the opening.

When he regained consciousness, Budge made no comment.

Sen. George Says Tax Hike Unfair

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today Congress should strike out the billion-dollar increase in social security taxes now scheduled to cost most U. S. taxpayers sums ranging up to $18 a year starting next Jan. 1.

The Georgia senator, senior Democrat on the tax-handling Senate Finance Committee, said it would be "less than fair" to low-income workers to let the tax boost go through while other tax rates go down.

The result, he said, would be a bigger tax bite on "the little fellow" and a tax saving to others.

In this connection, George pointed out that many workers don't earn enough to be liable for income taxes, but most wage and salary earners have to pay social security taxes to finance the federal retirement and death benefit program. The tax is withheld from their paychecks.

Under present law, Jan. 1 is the target date for a 10 per cent drop in individual income taxes and for the expiration of the excess profits tax on business.

It is also the date when social security taxes are scheduled to increase from the present rate of 1½ to 2 per cent each on employes and employers.

Mayor Threatens Strong Measures In Milk Walkout

Negotiators Finally Get Together

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri finally got milk strike negotiators to City Hall today, threatening to lock them in until they settle a five-day walkout.

He did not carry out the threat, however.

The strike has cut off milk supplies to 12 million people in New York and northern New Jersey and the mayor angrily told reporters in early afternoon:

"We will put them in a room and put police outside and we will not let them out."

Impellitteri's ire was aroused after AFL teamsters representatives ignored his summons to come to City Hall for city-supervised peace talks. Company negotiators showed up.

However, the mayor agreed to allow both sides a few more hours to try privately to end the strike that has cut off milk supplies to 12 million consumers in New York and northern New Jersey.

At one point yesterday, the wages-hours strike seemed so close to settlement that big milk tank trucks began streaming toward New York. But they turned back.

In the Bronx, a sudden windfall of 50,000 quarts of fresh milk attracted more than 500 persons who lined up for a share of it. Even some of the 13,000 strikers got in line.

The milk had reached the Gold Medal Farm Co. before the strike began last Sunday afternoon. It was bottled yesterday after it had been tested.

At the height of the clamor for this unexpected cache of milk, a fire broke out in the firm's one-story garage across the street. The milk-famished crowd kept their places in line, ignoring the fire.

Joseph Fromm, vice president of Gold Medal, set his loss at $50,000 and alleged sabotage. He claimed he had trouble with some unidentified teamsters although his own striking employes had no objection to the sale of any milk on hand before the strike began.

Austrians Protest Failure Of Big Four Powers To Grant National Independence

There was a five-minute strike in factories and offices. Street cars came to a halt. Telephone switchboards were left untended. Customers were ignored in the stores.

There was talk in Parliament of defying the Big Four occupation powers.

Austria's seven million people were noting an anniversary in mourning.

It was 10 years ago tomorrow that the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia issued the Moscow declaration calling for a "free and independent Austria." The declaration remains unrealized. Postwar squabbles which the West blames on Russia have prevented them from keeping their word.

Chancellor Julius Raab told Parliament the five-minute work stoppage was "the most powerful demonstration since the war" again the failure of the occupation powers to give Austria her independence.

"Our patience has come to an end," Raab said.

Apparently to reassure the Russians, the Chancellor said that Austria "will never permit its soil to be used as a base for war actions."

He said that this country, the first victim of Hitler's aggressions, is grateful for its liberation, but "now we ask and demand that the four allied powers not be deaf to the voice of the Austrian people."

The U. S. Embassy said: "The United States has consistently demonstrated its desire to conclude a state treaty. The U. S. government continues to hope that the Soviet Union will sit down in conference for the immediate conclusion of an Austrian treaty and the removal of this cause of international tension."

The Russians have not yet replied to a recent invitation of the Western Powers to discuss both the German and Austrian questions with them at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 9.

Army Will Try Instant Coffee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Army is going to see how its soldiers like instant coffee instead of the standard kind.

Tests for troop reaction will be made at the mess halls in four big camps—Ft. Niagara, N. Y.; Ft. Dix, N. J., Camp Kilmer, J. J. and Ft. Devens, Mass.

About 100,000 soldiers at the four bases will get daily servings of the soluble coffee. There won't be any choice. No other kind will be served.

The Quartermaster Corps claims use of soluble coffee instead of roasted and ground coffee "would bring substantial savings;" that the smaller weight and bulk would mean lower transportation and storage costs.

'Equitable' Chief Won't Resign

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Thomas I. Parkinson today denied a state official's announcement that he would resign his $100,000 a year post as chairman of the board of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

Alfred J. Bohlinger, New York state superintendent of insurance, yesterday accused Parkinson of "nepotism" and said Parkinson would resign. He said Parkinson, 71, was ill.

Bohlinger told a news conference at that time it was the first time he ever had announced the resignation of a leading officer of an insurance company, but declined to say whether he had "forced" the resignation.

Parkinson retorted today:

"I am not ill and I will not resign."

He said his continued association with Equitable would be determined by its board of directors. He delivered his statement to newspapers by messenger and was unavailable for further comment.

Early Trieste Parley Urged

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The United States, Britain and France hope to send formal invitation next week to Italy and Yugoslavia for a five-power conference on the future of disputed Trieste.

A State Department spokesman who reported this today said Secretary of state Dulles believes such a conference should be held as quickly as possible.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The theory behind showers is basically that of "showering good on another." You want to give a friend a boost toward some particular goal, generally provisions for an expected child, a marriage or a new home. It is one of the most generous and beautiful gestures.

But, like all good things, showering another can be overdone.

Etiquette demands that we go along with the practices of the particular neighborhood in which we live. Still . . . allowed to run their gamut, local practices can get out of hand. And the practice of "showering" a prospective bride has come to be quite a tax on the time and purse of many a young girl.

Showers Overdone

I know of instances in which a girl has been invited to as many as six showers for a friend who was soon to be married. That becomes ridiculous and can strain generosity to the breaking point. It is sheer abuse of a good custom.

Showers never should be given by an immediate member of the family. It is too much like asking for a contribution, since the sole object of a shower is the showering of gifts on the guest of honor.

Now and then a very good friend of a bride-to-be or an expectant mother feels that her relationship calls for the rustling up of a shower. But, if in fulfilling this urge the hostess can only think of prospective guests who have already showered the prospective recipient of the blessing, the party can become more of an onus than a source of pleasure. Consideration of the guests is as important as is the welfare of the person to be honored.

Each person who accepts a shower invitation should send a present. But, while it is the general practice of all who accept an invitation to a wedding reception or breakfast to send a gift, it is not obligatory. Certainly no one should feel called upon to give more than one token of love and best wishes to any one person. If you have attended a shower and expressed interest in the bride's future with a tangible gift, etiquette does not demand you give another.

Former Residents Return Here To Live

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Grove, former residents, have returned to live in LaVale after residing for a year in Florida. They had resided here 30 years before leaving for the South.

Grove, who formerly operated a used car lot and service station on Henderson Avenue, will operate a service station in LaVale.

Jury Decides Land Case

A Circuit Court jury and Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris and court attaches visited the scene of a parcel of land in connection with a condemnation suit brought by the State Roads Commission against a Winchester Road couple.

The condemnation suit resulted over a dispute of the purchase price of a parcel of land owned by the couple which the state is using for improvement of the Winchester Road.

Court attaches said Evelyn C. Halle had agreed to accept the $150 offered by the state while the jury awarded Creswell O. Halle the same sum for his share of the property.

Frostburg Company Low Bidder For Car

The low bid of the Green Chevrolet Company of Frostburg to furnish a new car for use by the sheriff's office was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

With the trade-in allowed on a car in use by the sheriff the total cost for the 1953 model car offered by the Frostburg firm will be $397.25.

Other bidders were the Eiler Chevrolet Company of this city and Gurley, Inc., this city. The latter offered three types of 1954 model Dodge cars.

The Princess Pats were members of a famous fighting regiment of Canada during World War I.

Commissioners To Decide On Disposal Of Buildings

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has decided to compile all information concerning a number of old school buildings which have been abandoned in recent months in order to set a policy for their disposition.

Miss Lillian Kiddy, of Pekin, wrote the board inquiring if the county would turn over the abandoned school in that community to the Pekin Community Club, of which she is secretary.

Her letter prompted the commissioners to delve into the matter of these schools and the future use to which they will be put. Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, has been checking deeds to several of the schools in order to clear up a number of legal questions.

Requests have been received from a number of groups which want to use the abandoned buildings for community centers and in one case as a church. A decision in connection with the school buildings will be made soon.

Erection of new buildings in Mt. Savage and Lonaconing resulted in closing of old schools and transportation of the students to the new facilities. Most of the buildings are old frame structures, but the Jackson Street School in Lonaconing is of brick construction.

The board also received letters from the State Department of Health relative to inspections of Sylvan Retreat, the County Infirmary and County Home recently.

George L. Hall, chief engineer for the state agency, said the three county institutions have excellent water and sewage systems and an old dump for garbage on the county farm property has been abandoned. Garbage is being trucked to the dump operated by the City of Cumberland off the Williams Road.

There are a few minor defects in plumbing facilities at the institutions, but these can be corrected when repairs are made, Hall explained.

Trooper C. H. DeWitt Undergoes Surgery

Trooper First Class Charles H. DeWitt of the State Police detachment at the LaVale barracks underwent an emergency appendectomy last night at Memorial Hospital.

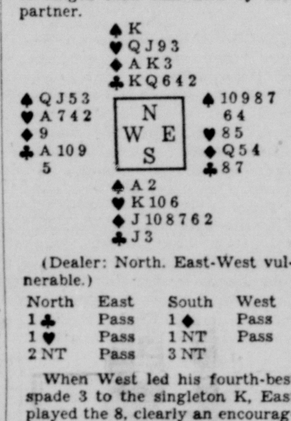

The officer, stationed here for about six years, was at the barracks when he became ill. He was taken to the hospital by Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police.

HOW SIGNALS DIFFER

HIGH-CARD signals, called "encouraging cards," have the same fundamental meaning during play for either a suit or a No Trump contract. That is, they tell the partner that the signaler has something of merit in, or in connection with, the suit. In either case, such a signal may betoken possession of some honor holding. During a suit contract, it may indicate shortage and a desire to ruff. During a No Trump contract, it may be based on length in the suit, possibly greater length than that held by the partner.

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
1 ♥	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

When West led his fourth-best spade 3 to the singleton K, East played the 8, clearly an encouraging card. So West was determined that, as soon as he got the lead again, he would lead a second spade. He got his chance right away, as South led the club 2 to the J, which the A won. West immediately returned the spade 5 to the A, and thereby handed the declarer his contract on a silver platter.

South scored the diamond A and K, but when the suit didn't break, leaving the Q still out, he led the heart 3 to the 10 and A. That made the second trick for the defense, and West got the third and fourth with the spade Q and J. This left East with two established spades, but no way for West to reach them. Lacking either a spade or a diamond, it made no difference what choice he made between hearts and clubs. He picked a heart, whereupon the declarer ran his tricks to have nine, with three in hearts and two in each other suit.

If West had read East's high spade on the first trick as possibly advertising length, with maybe no high cards, he might have been smart enough to lead one of his two honors to the second spade trick, retaining the 5 for a fourth-round lead to East, who then would have been able to beat the contract two tricks.

Your Weekend Question

What type of hand should a defender usually have to make it safe for him to try misleading the declarer without damaging his side by misguiding his partner? What type of hand makes it most dangerous to attempt such tactics?

Zoning Appeals Board Passes House Permit

One application was granted and another was denied by the Board of Zoning Appeals at its meeting Thursday night in City Hall.

The congregation of the First Church of God was granted permission to build a parsonage on Delaware Avenue.

The zoning board got the case after the city engineer's office turned down the permit application because the residence would be located too close to the street, according to the city building code.

The frame home will be 31 by 41 feet on a lot 50 feet by 100 feet. There was no opposition to this application.

Turned down was the application of Robert E. Shelly to occupy the rear of 412 Seymour Street as a store room. These premises are in a residential B zoning district.

When West led his fourth-best spade 3 to the singleton K, East played the 8, clearly an encouraging card. So West was determined that, as soon as he got the lead again, he would lead a second spade. He got his chance right away, as South led the club 2 to the J, which the A won. West immediately returned the spade 5 to the A, and thereby handed the declarer his contract on a silver platter.

South scored the diamond A and K, but when the suit didn't break, leaving the Q still out, he led the heart 3 to the 10 and A. That made the second trick for the defense, and West got the third and fourth with the spade Q and J. This left East with two established spades, but no way for West to reach them. Lacking either a spade or a diamond, it made no difference what choice he made between hearts and clubs. He picked a heart, whereupon the declarer ran his tricks to have nine, with three in hearts and two in each other suit.

If West had read East's high spade on the first trick as possibly advertising length, with maybe no high cards, he might have been smart enough to lead one of his two honors to the second spade trick, retaining the 5 for a fourth-round lead to East, who then would have been able to beat the contract two tricks.

Your Weekend Question

What type of hand should a defender usually have to make it safe for him to try misleading the declarer without damaging his side by misguiding his partner? What type of hand makes it most dangerous to attempt such tactics?

Zoning Appeals Board Passes House Permit

One application was granted and another was denied by the Board of Zoning Appeals at its meeting Thursday night in City Hall.

The congregation of the First Church of God was granted permission to build a parsonage on Delaware Avenue.

The zoning board got the case after the city engineer's office turned down the permit application because the residence would be located too close to the street, according to the city building code.

The frame home will be 31 by 41 feet on a lot 50 feet by 100 feet. There was no opposition to this application.

Turned down was the application of Robert E. Shelly to occupy the rear of 412 Seymour Street as a store room. These premises are in a residential B zoning district.

Mayoralty-Go-Round

On the eve of the November 3 mayoralty election in New York City, the major candidates appeared almost fully preoccupied with such relatively remote matters as United States aid to Israel and alleged political corruption in Albany and the neighboring state of New Jersey.

The Republican candidate for mayor, Harold H. Riegelman, was sufficiently alarmed by suspension of $60 million of U. S. aid to Israel to go to Washington to plead Israel's cause. After a conference with Secretary of State Dulles on October 26, Riegelman announced that he had been assured that "full economic aid" would be given to Israel as soon as the dispute over Jordan River waters was settled. On October 28 President Eisenhower announced that the aid would be resumed inasmuch as Israel had complied with U.N. directives on the Jordan.

Riegelman is of the Jewish faith, as is Rudolph Halley, Liberal-Independent candidate for mayor. Jews comprise almost 27 per cent of the population of New York, and the Jewish vote is a major political factor in that city. To indulge in understatement, the Arab vote is smaller.

Robert F. Wagner, Jr., the Democratic candidate for mayor, has contributed to the embarrassment of Riegelman with the charge that a Mr. X—a person "high in the national administration" and close to Republican Governor Dewey—had interceded with the State Parole Board for Joseph S. Fay, convicted labor extortionist. Governor Dewey and the Parole Board on October 27 denied the accusation, and Dewey countered by calling Wagner "the private property of Tammany Hall" and the "property" of Michael J. Quill of the Transport Workers Union.

The Mr. X affair is only part of a New York-New Jersey raceways scandal, involving state Republican leaders outside of New York City, which Wagner has been decrying. Meanwhile Halley has attempted to link Wagner's running mate, Lawrence E. Gerosa, Democratic candidate for city controller, with bribery and falsification of records in the State Insurance Fund under investigation. And both Halley and Wagner have been hammering away, to the further embarrassment of Riegelman, at a recent 15 per cent increase in rents and an increase in the subway fare to 15 cents which Halley and Wagner lay at the door of the Republican regime in Albany.

The race for mayor in New York, technically quadrangular and originally pentagonal, is now for all practical purposes triangular. The incumbent, Vincent R. Impellitteri, defeated by Wagner in the Democratic primary, was barred from running as an independent by a court decision on October 21, in a case brought by Wagner.

Still another candidate is the American Labor Party's Clifford T. McAvoy. He is conceded so little chance that on October 21 the Communist Daily Worker switched its support from McAvoy to Wagner. This development is not expected to enhance Wagner's chances.

In normally Democratic New York, Wagner could be expected to have the edge, particularly when only 2,399,548 voters are registered—more than 390,000 fewer than in 1949, the last comparable city election year. Wagner has in his corner, in addition to Tammany, Americans for Democratic Action, U. S. Senator Lehman, and U. S. Representative F. D. Roosevelt, Jr.

But Riegelman may be helped more than Wagner by Impellitteri's forced withdrawal. Impellitteri's Italian following is reported switching in large degree to Riegelman, as are Democrats opposed to the New Deal-Fair Deal philosophy espoused by Wagner and to a lesser degree by Halley, himself a registered Democrat.

Champ Of Free World

International challengers' tournament just concluded in Switzerland proved that the Russians dominate the chess field in the manner the Australians have dominated tennis. The world's champion since 1948, Mikhail Botvinnik, is a Russian. In the challengers' tournament, 15 of the world's best players were assembled, the winner to play Botvinnik for the title.

That opportunity now goes to Vassily Smyslov, another Russian. Two other Russians were in a tie for second. Russians won fifth and sixth places.

The only thing that kept the Russians from scoring a grand slam was the presence in the tournament of America's top player, Samuel Reshevsky. Sammy finished in a triple tie for second.

During most of the tournament, Sammy was half a game behind Smyslov. Near the end of the third quarter, Smyslov lost a game and Sammy forged into the lead. Shortly thereafter, Sammy lost and Smyslov pulled ahead.

At that late stage he was like a football team trailing in the late stages, throwing desperate passes which may be intercepted in the hope of catching up. In games he could have drawn, he gambled for wins, and sometimes lost. His final score was 16 to 12, two games behind Smyslov's 18 to 10.

Reshevsky's showing bears out his half-joking claim—made after winning two matches from Najdorf of Argentina—to the championship of the non-Communist world. He has now proved his right to claim slightly more than that. He is clearly the world's best player outside Russia, and it is by no means certain that any of the Russians could beat him in a match.

Fewer Troops Abroad

The vision of fewer American soldiers stationed abroad is an appealing picture. Certainly it is one of the eventualities every American hopes for.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, in a recent press conference, referred to this problem. He said the introduction of new weapons might lessen the need for sending more troops abroad than the six divisions already there. In addition, it might be possible to reduce the number already overseas and bring some home. But he was merely giving a long range slant.

Several factors might bring about a reduction in troops overseas. A few of the so-called atomic cannon, which shoot shells containing fissionable material, are already in Europe. Numbers and variety of atomic weapons have increased so greatly in recent years that almost every Navy carrier-based plane and smaller Air Force combat plane can be considered a potential delivery boy for the A-weapon.

It may be, too, that the balanced force concept, which has been traditional with military planners, is headed for an overhaul. Subordinating the roles of the Navy and Army to air strength could not be accomplished without a great ruckus from the branches affected. But the end result could be a decline in numbers of Army and Navy personnel.

The words of Secretary Wilson are encouraging. The people want to hear more.

How To Keep Well

Devil's Grippe

From time to time a peculiar epidemic of chest pain strikes in various communities throughout America. Distress is in the region of the diaphragm; it comes and goes and is aggravated by breathing and coughing. The outlook is good but the victim spends a miserable week before recovering.

This condition, epidemic pleurodynia, or devil's grippe, is not new. It was described more than 75 years ago but until recently the cause escaped detection. Evidence now shows the culprit to be a virus similar to that which produces Coxsackie disease, a disorder that resembles and often is mistaken for the nonparalytic form of polio because inflammation of the membranes surrounding the brain (meningitis) leads to stiff neck and muscular pain throuout the body. In this respect, Coxsackie disease is more like polio than epidemic pleurodynia.

The causative agent in epidemic pleurodynia limits its activity to the muscles of the diaphragm. No one knows why the malady spreads from one individual to another but it is the consensus that contagion is transmitted by contaminated water, food, or insects. It is most prevalent in childhood and early adult life and rarely is seen at any other time of the year except the warm months. In a recent Texas epidemic it was not unusual for entire families to become ill simultaneously or at intervals of three to five days.

The 14 years old school girl reported on recently by a group from the National Microbiological institute is typical of how the infection develops. This youngster awakened with severe pain in the left lower chest that was aggravated by breathing, talking, and sneezing. It disappeared after an hour but recurred late in the afternoon. She was sent to the hospital where her temperature was found to be 99.9 degrees F. In the night, five episodes of pain occurred, lasting five to 30 minutes each. Appetite failed and the child was all tired out. The last attack took place on the third day, after which improvement was so great she was able to return home a day later.

Her 16 year old sister was admitted to the hospital at the same time, with pain that was more abdominal in nature and with a higher pulse and temperature. Discomfort also was aggravated by talking and moving but breathing appeared to accentuate distress more than anything else and oxygen was needed for relief. Temperature continued to rise and when it reached 104 degrees F. she became incoherent and delirious. Thereafter, relief was noted except for pain which continued to come and go until the third hospital day. By the next day she felt well enough to go home with her sister but convalescence was prolonged; weakness, lack of appetite, and poor memory continued for three weeks.

Both girls had the same disease, apparently caught at the same time, but in one it was more serious than in the other. The younger one had pain above the diaphragm and the older, below this structure. The mild forms of epidemic pleurodynia usually escape detection unless they occur in epidemic proportions.

JOINT TUBERCULOSIS

R. writes: Two years ago I had an operation on one knee because of tuberculosis. I feel fine now, but wonder if the disease may develop in the knee again?

REPLY

One attack of tuberculosis does not confer immunity. In the knee, for example, recurrence may follow injury or overuse of the leg.

SLIM MOTHER

Mrs. I. B. writes: Ever since the birth of my boy three years ago I can't seem to put on weight. I'm 23 and eat three meals a day, get eight hours sleep, and take vitamins, but can't put on an ounce. There is nothing wrong with me physically except that I am high-strung.

REPLY

The word "highstrung" is the clew to your trouble. Forget about your weight for the time being and, if there is anything to the law of averages, you will be writing us for a reducing diet not too many years from now.

SKIN TAGS

Mrs. E. writes: I have pieces of skin hanging on my neck and under my arms. Could they be warts or moles and can they be removed?

REPLY

FIREWEED

Mrs. R. writes: Some one told me that oil of fireweed helps arthritis. Have you heard of this remedy?

REPLY

This is new to me. Could you mean firewater, which some people consider a remedy for almost everything?

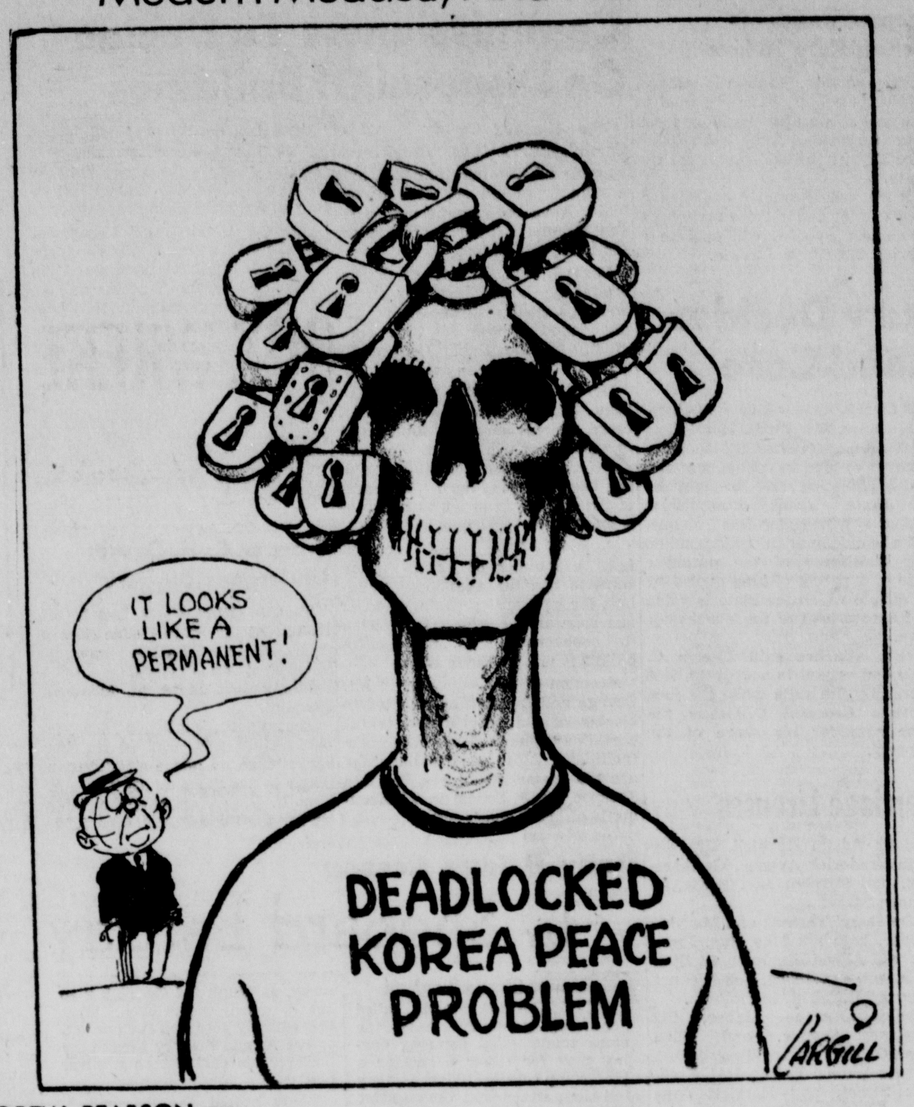

YELLOW

H. T. writes: What is carotinemia?

REPLY

A yellowish discoloration of the skin which results from the ingestion of large amounts of green and yellow vegetables. It differs from jaundice in that the whites of the eyes are not affected.

National Debt Limit May Be Raised By Juggling Social Security Funds; General Mow's Alleged Money Turns Out To Be A Slip Of Paper

WASHINGTON — With the U. S. government bumping its head within half a billion dollars of the national debt ceiling, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has been toying with the idea of doing some book-juggling with Social Security funds.

He has on the Treasury books a total of $26,000,000,000 received from old-age pensions, unemployment insurance, all earmarked for payment as benefits to those who have paid it in. Actually this money is not in the federal treasury, has been spent for other things. Therefore, it is entered on the Treasury books as a debt and automatically increases the national debt.

However, some Treasury experts argue that since the government owes itself this $26,000,000,000, it shouldn't count as a debt.

If Secretary Humphrey finds that such a ruling is sound, he can add $26,000,000,000 to the debt limit and won't have to worry about exceeding the national debt ceiling. Legal experts are being consulted. Upon their say-so a final decision will be made.

Empty Deposit Box

A group of distinguished lawyers gathered round a safe-deposit box in New York the other day ready to pounce upon what they thought was $1,900,000 of stolen money.

For more than a year they had been trying to get a court order to open up the safe deposit box. In it, they told the court, was $1,900,000 of U. S. Treasury bearer bills, purchased by Lt. Gen. P. T. Mow, former chief of the Chinese air mission in the United States, when he broke with Chiang and accused the Chiang government of squandering money in the U. S. A.

General Mow, now in a Mexican jail, was ordered released by Judge Antonio Fernandez Vera, despite which the Mexican government is still holding him, thanks to pressure from the State Department.

Meanwhile, attorneys for Milbank, Tweed, Hope and Hadley; the Crisona brothers; White and Case; Sherman, Sterling and Wright, Warren Woods; Alexander Slater; and Dr. Liang Chin-Cha, Chinese vice minister of justice, armed with a court order, went to the Chemical Safety Deposit Company to open General Mow's box.

Eagerly, they leaned forward as the box came open. Inside was no big stack of Treasury notes—not even one note. Inside was only one slip of paper, written in Chinese.

Vice Minister Liang was asked to translate. He did so. On the paper was written:

"Since Chiang Kai-shek oppresses me, I will resist to the end."

Virginia Earthquake

Sen. Harry Byrd never dreamed, when he shared a Virginia hunting lodge with Attorney Ted Dalton, that Dalton would turn around and give him the political fright of his life.

That's what's happening today, however, in an amazing Virginia election in which the Republicans, for the first time since Reconstruction days, are given a chance to elect a governor.

What happened was that the Republicans, encouraged by Byrd last year to vote for Eisenhower, have taken him seriously and now propose electing other Republican officials. To do so they picked the best candidate in the state, Ted Dalton, close friend of Harry Flood Byrd.

The truth is that Dalton wasn't particularly enthusiastic about running. An intimate of Byrd's, he had enjoyed a cozy political cooperation with Virginia's No. 1 Dixiecrat by which he, as a Republican, got some of Byrd's support on the national front, while giving Byrd support on the local front.

But eager-beaver young Republicans who took seriously the organization of a Republican party below the Mason-Dixon Line, pushed Dalton into the race. A distinguished lawyer, with an unimpeachable record, he was obviously the logical candidate for governor. And his campaign has gone so well that the Byrd machine for the first time in years has been scared.

Campaigning has been so tense that Byrd himself even passed out word that while he didn't mind Democrats voting for Eisenhower, he did definitely object to having Republicans organize his state and he didn't want any Democrats voting Republican in the state election.

The Republican platform, incidentally, is just the opposite of Byrd's policies and almost identical with that of Byrd's Democratic but liberal opponent, Col. Francis Pickens Miller. The Republicans propose such liberal policies as abolition of the poll tax, higher pay for teachers, and a policy of borrowing money if necessary to build state highways.

Observers say it will take a political earthquake to defeat the Byrd machine, but that if it wasn't for Secretary Benson's failure to act on drought relief and the dropping popularity of the White House, an earthquake might take place in Virginia next week.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—When the American people voted the Eisenhower administration into power nearly a year ago, they expressed a desire to eliminate waste in government and get efficiency. But when the present regime starts to put into effect a reorganization of bureaus—even though Congress has approved—protests arise. They come largely from vested interests—those that want to see certain jobs or certain expenditures continued irrespective of their merits.

Thus, the secretary of Agriculture, Ezra T. Benson, finds himself attacked merely because, in seeking, for example, to improve the Soil Conservation Service for the farmer, he eliminates a few federal jobs and places more responsibility on the state conservation units than on the regional offices.

One would think from the clamor raised—and it begins to look as if certain interests are manufacturing drives and caravans for political purposes — that something drastic was being done to the Conservation Service or that the secretary was proceeding arbitrarily.

Benson Consulted Many Groups

Yet the facts are that he submitted his broad reorganization plan to Congress through the President last July, and the Congress agreed to it. Were the reorganization proposals fully discussed beforehand? The answer is that the secretary of Agriculture consulted in advance the Senate and House Agricultural Committees, the Senate and House Appropriations Committees, representatives of all the principal farm organizations, such as the National Farmers' Union, the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Council of Farm Cooperatives. But, in addition to these, he talked with officials of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and various advisory groups inside and outside the government.

From none of these came objections, but now comes a counter-attack from some of those groups whose jobs may be affected—a small number, but evidently a powerful one in stimulating objections.

To meet that kind of bombardment, Secretary Benson has sent a letter to the boards of supervisors of all soil conservation districts, declaring that, "because of the great amount of confusion caused by the wide dissemination of false and misleading information," he has prepared a set of questions and answers for their information.

"These plans," says Mr. Benson, "propose certain changes in the Soil Conservation Service organizational structure to improve services to the districts. There is no intent to dissolve or destroy the service, nor to change our relationship to the soil conservation districts. It has never been our intention to place the Soil Conservation Service or any of its functions in the Agricultural Extension Service."

Mr. Benson added that he had told all this to the congressional committees and that he has always regarded the continuance of the Soil Conservation Service as very important.

Applause Will Drown Protests

What then causes the row? It was the proposal to abolish regional offices and place on each state conservation office the responsibility, now in regional offices, to assist the farmer in meeting his conservation problems. The state offices are to be strengthened by the inclusion of technical personnel, including a state conservation engineer, a soil scientist and a soil conservationist. In addition, other specialists will be brought in, and no change in the existing technical personnel is to be made, the secretary says, because most of them will be transferred to the states and to Washington.

But there will be lesser personnel who will be released. The same thing is happening throughout the government. The administration feels it has a mandate from the people to do away with jobs that can be eliminated and money saved. But every time there is a cutdown, the persons affected or their anonymous spokesmen start a protest. The people generally want their taxes reduced. Uncle Sam doesn't owe anybody a lifetime job in a bureau of the government. And if the present administration can get the necessary work done by fewer jobholders, the American people will be happy—and the protests will be drowned out by the applause.

Here And Now

Fear

One day, according to the Arabian legend, Pilgrim met Plague on the Bagdad road. "Where are you going?" inquired Pilgrim. "I am going to Bagdad to kill 500 men of cholera."

On the way back they met again. "You killed 10,000 men," charged Pilgrim. "No," replied Plague, "I killed 500, the rest died from fear."

Montaigne, famous 16th Century essayist, said "there's one thing of which I am afraid, and that is fear."

Rational fears have their place; something must be done about irrational ones.

When one builds a house, fear makes it fireproof. Fear of hunger spurs plowing and sowing. Fear of want stimulates saving for a rainy day. Fear of penury encourages life insurance to care for wife and little ones, just in case.

Fear imagines things that never happen. It also creates things that do happen. Job said, "The thing I fear comes upon me."

"Little Foxes Spoil Vines"

"It's come! It's come!" exclaimed the Duke of Cornwall to the Marquis of Dunbar as they sat side-by-side at a state dinner. "What's come?" inquired the marquis. "Paralysis! I've been pinching my leg for the past five minutes and can't feel a thing." "Excuse me, sir, it's my leg you've been pinching."

It is the "little foxes that spoil the vines," and some of them are always around taking the joy out of life.

One of these "varmints" is poundage. You are either too heavy or too light. Scales placarded with "Have you weighed yourself today?" never agree, and one finds himself stuffing and starving alternately instead of eating normally and sensibly. My policy would be to banish these kill-joys to the "pound" till they acquire better manners.

You are camera-shy. You feel like a scared rabbit when you face the camera. But to please the grandchildren and fill a vacant spot in the family album, you yield, and the pleasant photographer smoothes out most of the wrinkles, leaving some as a badge of honorable service for others, and making you appear more beautiful than you are.

Or, you have an appointment with your dentist. As you lie garroted in his easy-rising chair and he grinds away at the offending molar, you forget all your troubles but the one you are presently suffering.

Divertively, he asks, "Does it hurt?" You gasp "yth," and he answers, "Good, that's what we want."

25 Phobias

There are 25 varieties of phobia indulged among us—bacteriophobia (fear of bacteria), claustrophobia (fear of being closed in), Russophobia (fear of Russia)—to name a few.

Thanatophobia (fear of death) is a common affliction. Life is so sweet we think we will die if we don't live another year.

A wild-eyed zealot called on Emerson one day to announce that the world was coming to an end. The philosopher calmly replied, "We can get along without it."

In the writer's childhood he heard an aged cleric proclaim from the pulpit with tremulous voice, "It's an awful thing to die!" Then, after a long-drawn pause, he continued, "But it's a more awful thing to live!"

Many folks who are not afraid to die are afraid to live. It takes courage to live and many are not equal to it.

A preacher out in Kansas composed a morning prayer to accompany the famous evening edition:

Now I get me up to work;
I pray the Lord I may not sh.rk;
If I should die before tonight
I pray the Lord my work's all right.

How shall we be rid of illegitimate fear? There's the rub. By way of suggestion, Fear the cause rather than the consequence. Don't crawl under the bed when it thunders, the lightning has already done the business.

If you sow your wild oats, don't be surprised if your chickens come home to roost.

Rationalize your fears away. See your doctor, psychiatrist, priest or preacher. Go to church, pray, fear God and keep His commandments.

"All Right—So Far"

A magician was sent by his king to find a brave man for an enterprise of great danger. He found several eligibles for a competitive test. They were brought to the edge of a big field, on the other side of which there stood a barn. They were told to cross the field and bring out what was inside the barn.

The first man started, but a storm arose and he fell down in fear before he got far. The second man walked past the first, but as the storm increased its fury he too fell down in fear.

The third man started with a rush and passed the other two. Meanwhile the storm had become a tempest. The heavens split, the ground cracked, the barn rocked, but he kept going, saying as he went, "I'm all right — so far!"

At length he reached the barn and as he touched the latch there came a great calm. He heard a munching within. Was it a trick? It was so uncanny. He found inside a white horse eating oats, and nearby was a suit of white armor. He put it on, saddled the horse, rode out to the king and the magician, and said, "I am ready, sire!"

And how do you feel? inquired the king. "I'm all right—so far!" replied the brave man.

Fearlessly yours,

What Is Reality?

One of the inevitable effects of the existence of the devastating hydrogen bomb is that thoughtful human beings are wondering about the world they live in and its future. When the atom bomb appalled our consciousness, we realized that we had reached an age of destructiveness that was, for the moment, beyond our imagination. Now we know that more effective means of destruction are at hand and that greater means will be evolved. There are no limits to these deadly powers.

The scientists themselves are frightened by their offspring. The more they know, the more frightened they are. Alexis Carrel, one of the most brilliant minds of our age, left a posthumous book, "Reflections on Life," in which he has this to say:

"Man has only grasped one aspect of reality. He has plucked the forbidden fruit from the tree of knowledge before it was ripe. It gave us the knowledge of all things save ourselves."

Then he says:

". . . One essential law for the development of living beings is that of effort. Muscles, vital organs, intelligence and will can only be strengthened by work. No error can be more fatal than that of suppressing the voluntary effort of mind and muscle and the involuntary one of the adaptive systems. Our ancestral laws of conduct were the expression of a profound intuition of human nature. Christian morality also imposes rules which are none other than those intended by life itself. Life has replied to our disobedience to its laws by estranging itself from us; a reply at once silent and brutal. Only the most clear-sighted have been aware of the danger . . ."

The degeneration of the race is universal because lack of self-discipline is universal. The enforced discipline of the totalitarian state or the enslavements exercised by the Communists are not substitutes for self-discipline. Strong nations base themselves not on the exercise of power over each individual but depend upon the strength that comes from the morality of its citizens living within the social disciplines of the family.

Patriotism is self-respect. When self-respect degenerates, the family loses its primary purpose, which is self-discipline within an intimate group; after that, love of country is dissipated into the elevation of private which above the common good.

An ugly example of this is the shamelessness of those who spy upon their own country in the interest of its foes. Thousands of young men and women, some Marxists, some not, some only willful people, have joined in a conspiracy against what normal human beings always love. The Rosenbergs went to their deaths without explaining why they did so much harm to their country.

The Rosenbergs are only two of a horde of spies and saboteurs who have invaded almost all phases of American life. Harry Truman's rejection of Senator Jenner's statement that these creatures have invaded every phase of American life is not astonishing. Harry Truman called the accusations of Alger Hiss a "red herring." He tolerated Harry Dexter White. He protected Owen Lattimore, who is now under indictment in a case involving perjury.

Does this mean that Harry Truman preferred Communists, spies, fellow travelers, or dupes. It does not. Harry Truman's reaction is normal among Americans who fear reality and run from it. Americans live in the memory of a good world when a man's word was his bond and when a handshake on a deal made it final. It was a moral world in which men were ashamed of wrongdoing because they were sure about right and wrong.

Realistically, that world is no longer ours. Just as the existence of the atom and hydrogen bombs must affect our thinking on many phases of life, so the impact of Marxism affects our morals. Just as in economics, Gresham's Law prevails that bad money drives out good money, so in morals, the acceptance of wickedness as a possible way of life drives the Ten Commandments, the revealed law of God, from our way of life.

Were our people ready to accept reality, they would solve many of their problems. Their nature would quickly toughen because they accepted reality. It is their unwillingness to believe the truth, to recognize their own errors, their errors of education, of the upbringing of their children, of their obligations as citizens, that aids the degenerative characteristics of our era.

Carrel grasped the essential flaw of the age in which he lived and died.

Mayoralty-Go-Round

On the eve of the November 3 mayoralty election in New York City, the major candidates appeared almost fully preoccupied with such relatively remote matters as United States aid to Israel and alleged political corruption in Albany and the neighboring state of New Jersey.

The Republican candidate for mayor, Harold H. Riegelman, was sufficiently alarmed by suspension of $60 million of U. S. aid to Israel to go to Washington to plead Israel's cause. After a conference with Secretary of State Dulles on October 26, Riegelman announced that he had been assured that "full economic aid" would be given to Israel as soon as the dispute over Jordan River waters was settled. On October 28 President Eisenhower announced that the aid would be resumed inasmuch as Israel had complied with U.N. directives on the Jordan.

Riegelman is of the Jewish faith, as is Rudolph Halley, Liberal-Independent candidate for mayor. Jews comprise almost 27 per cent of the population of New York, and the Jewish vote is a major political factor in that city. To indulge in understatement, the Arab vote is smaller.

Robert F. Wagner, Jr., the Democratic candidate for mayor, has contributed to the embarrassment of Riegelman with the charge that a Mr. X—a person "high in the national administration" and close to Republican Governor Dewey—had interceded with the State Parole Board for Joseph S. Fay, convicted labor extortionist. Governor Dewey and the Parole Board on October 27 denied the accusation, and Dewey countered by calling Wagner "the private property of Tammany Hall" and the "property" of Michael J. Quill of the Transport Workers Union.

The Mr. X affair is only part of a New York-New Jersey raceways scandal, involving state Republican leaders outside of New York City, which Wagner has been decrying. Meanwhile Halley has attempted to link Wagner's running mate, Lawrence E. Gerosa, Democratic candidate for city controller, with bribery and falsification of records in the State Insurance Fund under investigation. And both Halley and Wagner have been hammering away, to the further embarrassment of Riegelman, at a recent 15 per cent increase in rents and an increase in the subway fare to 15 cents which Halley and Wagner lay at the door of the Republican regime in Albany.

The race for mayor in New York, technically quadrangular and originally pentagonal, is now for all practical purposes triangular. The incumbent, Vincent R. Impellitteri, defeated by Wagner in the Democratic primary, was barred from running as an independent by a court decision on October 21, in a case brought by Wagner.

Still another candidate is the American Labor Party's Clifford T. McAvoy. He is conceded so little chance that on October 21 the Communist Daily Worker switched its support from McAvoy to Wagner. This development is not expected to enhance Wagner's chances.

In normally Democratic New York, Wagner could be expected to have the edge, particularly when only 2,399,548 voters are registered—more than 390,000 fewer than in 1949, the last comparable city election year. Wagner has in his corner, in addition to Tammany, Americans for Democratic Action, U. S. Senator Lehman, and U. S. Representative F. D. Roosevelt, Jr.

But Riegelman may be helped more than Wagner by Impellitteri's forced withdrawal. Impellitteri's Italian following is reported switching in large degree to Riegelman, as are Democrats opposed to the New Deal-Fair Deal philosophy espoused by Wagner and to a lesser degree by Halley, himself a registered Democrat.

Champ Of Free World

International challengers' tournament just concluded in Switzerland proved that the Russians dominate the chess field in the manner the Australians have dominated tennis. The world's champion since 1948, Mikhail Botvinnik, is a Russian. In the challengers' tournament, 15 of the world's best players were assembled, the winner to play Botvinnik for the title.

That opportunity now goes to Vassily Smyslov, another Russian. Two other Russians were in a tie for second. Russians won fifth and sixth places.

The only thing that kept the Russians from scoring a grand slam was the presence in the tournament of America's top player, Samuel Reshevsky. Sammy finished in a triple tie for second.

During most of the tournament, Sammy was half a game behind Smyslov. Near the end of the third quarter, Smyslov lost a game and Sammy forged into the lead. Shortly thereafter, Sammy lost and Smyslov pulled ahead.

At that late stage he was like a football team trailing in the late stages, throwing desperate passes which may be intercepted in the hope of catching up. In games he could have drawn, he gambled for wins, and sometimes lost. His final score was 16 to 12, two games behind Smyslov's 18 to 10.

Reshevsky's showing bears out his half-joking claim—made after winning two matches from Najdorf of Argentina—to the championship of the non-Communist world. He has now proved his right to claim slightly more than that. He is clearly the world's best player outside Russia, and it is by no means certain that any of the Russians could beat him in a match.

Fewer Troops Abroad

The vision of fewer American soldiers stationed abroad is an appealing picture. Certainly it is one of the eventualities every American hopes for.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, in a recent press conference, referred to this problem. He said the introduction of new weapons might lessen the need for sending more troops abroad than the six divisions already there. In addition, it might be possible to reduce the number already overseas and bring some home. But he was merely giving a long range slant.

Several factors might bring about a reduction in troops overseas. A few of the so-called atomic cannon, which shoot shells containing fissionable material, are already in Europe. Numbers and variety of atomic weapons have increased so greatly in recent years that almost every Navy carrier-based plane and smaller Air Force combat plane can be considered a potential delivery boy for the A-weapon.

It may be, too, that the balanced force concept, which has been traditional with military planners, is headed for an overhaul. Subordinating the roles of the Navy and Army to air strength could not be accomplished without a great ruckus from the branches affected. But the end result could be a decline in numbers of Army and Navy personnel.

The words of Secretary Wilson are encouraging. The people want to hear more.

How To Keep Well

Devil's Grippe

From time to time a peculiar epidemic of chest pain strikes in various communities throughout America. Distress is in the region of the diaphragm; it comes and goes and is aggravated by breathing and coughing. The outlook is good but the victim spends a miserable week before recovering.

This condition, epidemic pleurodynia, or devil's grippe, is not new. It was described more than 75 years ago but until recently the cause escaped detection. Evidence now shows the culprit to be a virus similar to that which produces Coxsackie disease, a disorder that resembles and often is mistaken for the nonparalytic form of polio because inflammation of the membranes surrounding the brain (meningitis) leads to stiff neck and muscular pain throuout the body. In this respect, Coxsackie disease is more like polio than epidemic pleurodynia.

The causative agent in epidemic pleurodynia limits its activity to the muscles of the diaphragm. No one knows why the malady spreads from one individual to another but it is the consensus that contagion is transmitted by contaminated water, food, or insects. It is most prevalent in childhood and early adult life and rarely is seen at any other time of the year except the warm months. In a recent Texas epidemic it was not unusual for entire families to become ill simultaneously or at intervals of three to five days.

The 14 years old school girl reported on recently by a group from the National Microbiological institute is typical of how the infection develops. This youngster awakened with severe pain in the left lower chest that was aggravated by breathing, talking, and sneezing. It disappeared after an hour but recurred late in the afternoon. She was sent to the hospital where her temperature was found to be 99.9 degrees F. In the night, five episodes of pain occurred, lasting five to 30 minutes each. Appetite failed and the child was all tired out. The last attack took place on the third day, after which improvement was so great she was able to return home a day later.

Her 16 year old sister was admitted to the hospital at the same time, with pain that was more abdominal in nature and with a higher pulse and temperature. Discomfort also was aggravated by talking and moving but breathing appeared to accentuate distress more than anything else and oxygen was needed for relief. Temperature continued to rise and when it reached 104 degrees F. she became incoherent and delirious. Thereafter, relief was noted except for pain which continued to come and go until the third hospital day. By the next day she felt well enough to go home with her sister but convalescence was prolonged; weakness, lack of appetite, and poor memory continued for three weeks.

Both girls had the same disease, apparently caught at the same time, but in one it was more serious than in the other. The younger one had pain above the diaphragm and the older, below this structure. The mild forms of epidemic pleurodynia usually escape detection unless they occur in epidemic proportions.

JOINT TUBERCULOSIS

R. writes: Two years ago I had an operation on one knee because of tuberculosis. I feel fine now, but wonder if the disease may develop in the knee again?

REPLY

One attack of tuberculosis does not confer immunity. In the knee, for example, recurrence may follow injury or overuse of the leg.

SLIM MOTHER

Mrs. I. B. writes: Ever since the birth of my boy three years ago I can't seem to put on weight. I'm 23 and eat three meals a day, get eight hours sleep, and take vitamins, but can't put on an ounce. There is nothing wrong with me physically except that I am high-strung.

REPLY

The word "highstrung" is the clew to your trouble. Forget about your weight for the time being and, if there is anything to the law of averages, you will be writing us for a reducing diet not too many years from now.

SKIN TAGS

Mrs. E. writes: I have pieces of skin hanging on my neck and under my arms. Could they be warts or moles and can they be removed?

REPLY

FIREWEED

Mrs. R. writes: Some one told me that oil of fireweed helps arthritis. Have you heard of this remedy?

REPLY

This is new to me. Could you mean firewater, which some people consider a remedy for almost everything?

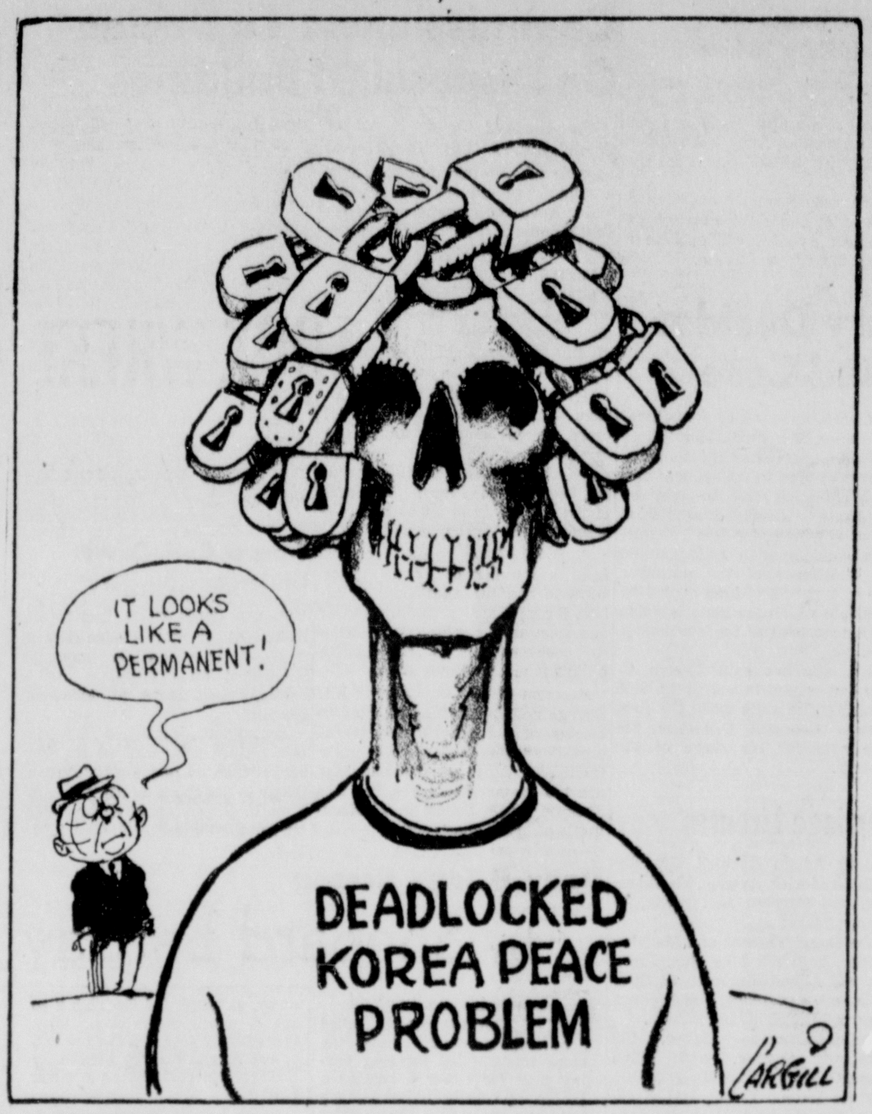

YELLOW

H. T. writes: What is carotinemia?

REPLY

A yellowish discoloration of the skin which results from the ingestion of large amounts of green and yellow vegetables. It differs from jaundice in that the whites of the eyes are not affected.

National Debt Limit May Be Raised By Juggling Social Security Funds; General Mow's Alleged Money Turns Out To Be A Slip Of Paper

WASHINGTON — With the U. S. government bumping its head within half a billion dollars of the national debt ceiling, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has been toying with the idea of doing some book-juggling with Social Security funds.

He has on the Treasury books a total of $26,000,000,000 received from old-age pensions, unemployment insurance, all earmarked for payment as benefits to those who have paid it in. Actually this money is not in the federal treasury, has been spent for other things. Therefore, it is entered on the Treasury books as a debt and automatically increases the national debt.

However, some Treasury experts argue that since the government owes itself this $26,000,000,000, it shouldn't count as a debt.

If Secretary Humphrey finds that such a ruling is sound, he can add $26,000,000,000 to the debt limit and won't have to worry about exceeding the national debt ceiling. Legal experts are being consulted. Upon their say-so a final decision will be made.

Empty Deposit Box

A group of distinguished lawyers gathered round a safe-deposit box in New York the other day ready to pounce upon what they thought was $1,900,000 of stolen money.

For more than a year they had been trying to get a court order to open up the safe deposit box. In it, they told the court, was $1,900,000 of U. S. Treasury bearer bills, purchased by Lt. Gen. P. T. Mow, former chief of the Chinese air mission in the United States, when he broke with Chiang and accused the Chiang government of squandering money in the U. S. A.

General Mow, now in a Mexican jail, was ordered released by Judge Antonio Fernandez Vera, despite which the Mexican government is still holding him, thanks to pressure from the State Department.

Meanwhile, attorneys for Milbank, Tweed, Hope and Hadley; the Crisona brothers; White and Case; Sherman, Sterling and Wright, Warren Woods; Alexander Slater; and Dr. Liang Chin-Cha, Chinese vice minister of justice, armed with a court order, went to the Chemical Safety Deposit Company to open General Mow's box.

Eagerly, they leaned forward as the box came open. Inside was no big stack of Treasury notes—not even one note. Inside was only one slip of paper, written in Chinese.

Vice Minister Liang was asked to translate. He did so. On the paper was written:

"Since Chiang Kai-shek oppresses me, I will resist to the end."

Virginia Earthquake

Sen. Harry Byrd never dreamed, when he shared a Virginia hunting lodge with Attorney Ted Dalton, that Dalton would turn around and give him the political fright of his life.

That's what's happening today, however, in an amazing Virginia election in which the Republicans, for the first time since Reconstruction days, are given a chance to elect a governor.

What happened was that the Republicans, encouraged by Byrd last year to vote for Eisenhower, have taken him seriously and now propose electing other Republican officials. To do so they picked the best candidate in the state, Ted Dalton, close friend of Harry Flood Byrd.

The truth is that Dalton wasn't particularly enthusiastic about running. An intimate of Byrd's, he had enjoyed a cozy political cooperation with Virginia's No. 1 Dixiecrat by which he, as a Republican, got some of Byrd's support on the national front, while giving Byrd support on the local front.

But eager-beaver young Republicans who took seriously the organization of a Republican party below the Mason-Dixon Line, pushed Dalton into the race. A distinguished lawyer, with an unimpeachable record, he was obviously the logical candidate for governor. And his campaign has gone so well that the Byrd machine for the first time in years has been scared.

Campaigning has been so tense that Byrd himself even passed out word that while he didn't mind Democrats voting for Eisenhower, he did definitely object to having Republicans organize his state and he didn't want any Democrats voting Republican in the state election.

The Republican platform, incidentally, is just the opposite of Byrd's policies and almost identical with that of Byrd's Democratic but liberal opponent, Col. Francis Pickens Miller. The Republicans propose such liberal policies as abolition of the poll tax, higher pay for teachers, and a policy of borrowing money if necessary to build state highways.

Observers say it will take a political earthquake to defeat the Byrd machine, but that if it wasn't for Secretary Benson's failure to act on drought relief and the dropping popularity of the White House, an earthquake might take place in Virginia next week.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—When the American people voted the Eisenhower administration into power nearly a year ago, they expressed a desire to eliminate waste in government and get efficiency. But when the present regime starts to put into effect a reorganization of bureaus—even though Congress has approved—protests arise. They come largely from vested interests — those that want to see certain jobs or certain expenditures continued irrespective of their merits.

Thus, the secretary of Agriculture, Ezra T. Benson, finds himself attacked merely because, in seeking, for example, to improve the Soil Conservation Service for the farmer, he eliminates a few federal jobs and places more responsibility on the state conservation units than on the regional offices.

One would think from the clamor raised—and it begins to look as if certain interests are manufacturing drives and caravans for political purposes — that something drastic was being done to the Conservation Service or that the secretary was proceeding arbitrarily.

Benson Consulted Many Groups

Yet the facts are that he submitted his broad reorganization plan to Congress through the President last July, and the Congress agreed to it. Were the reorganization proposals fully discussed beforehand? The answer is that the secretary of Agriculture consulted in advance the Senate and House Agricultural Committees, the Senate and House Appropriations Committees, representatives of all the principal farm organizations, such as the National Farmers' Union, the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation and the National Council of Farm Cooperatives. But, in addition to these, he talked with officials of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and various advisory groups inside and outside the government.

From none of these came objections, but now comes a counter-attack from some of those groups whose jobs may be affected—a small number, but evidently a powerful one in stimulating objections.

To meet that kind of bombardment, Secretary Benson has sent a letter to the boards of supervisors of all soil conservation districts, declaring that, "because of the great amount of confusion caused by the wide dissemination of false and misleading information," he has prepared a set of questions and answers for their information.

"These plans," says Mr. Benson, "propose certain changes in the Soil Conservation Service organizational structure to improve services to the districts. There is no intent to dissolve or destroy the service, nor to change our relationship to the soil conservation districts. It has never been our intention to place the Soil Conservation Service or any of its functions in the Agricultural Extension Service."

Mr. Benson added that he had told all this to the congressional committees and that he has always regarded the continuance of the Soil Conservation Service as very important.

Applause Will Drown Protests

What then causes the row? It was the proposal to abolish regional offices and place on each state conservation office the responsibility, now in regional offices, to assist the farmer in meeting his conservation problems. The state offices are to be strengthened by the inclusion of technical personnel, including a state conservation engineer, a soil scientist and a soil conservationist. In addition, other specialists will be brought in, and no change in the existing technical personnel is to be made, the secretary says, because most of them will be transferred to the states and to Washington.

But there will be lesser personnel who will be released. The same thing is happening throughout the government. The administration feels it has a mandate from the people to do away with jobs that can be eliminated and money saved. But every time there is a cutdown, the persons affected or their anonymous spokesmen start a protest. The people generally want their taxes reduced. Uncle Sam doesn't owe anybody a lifetime job in a bureau of the government. And if the present administration can get the necessary work done by fewer jobholders, the American people will be happy—and the protests will be drowned out by the applause.

Here And Now

Fear

One day, according to the Arabian legend, Pilgrim met Plague on the Bagdad road. "Where are you going?" inquired Pilgrim. "I am going to Bagdad to kill 500 men of cholera."

On the way back they met again. "You killed 10,000 men," charged Pilgrim. "No," replied Plague, "I killed 500, the rest died from fear."

Montaigne, famous 16th Century essayist, said "there's one thing of which I am afraid, and that is fear."

Rational fears have their place; something must be done about irrational ones.

When one builds a house, fear makes it fireproof. Fear of hunger spurs plowing and sowing. Fear of want stimulates saving for a rainy day. Fear of penury encourages life insurance to care for wife and little ones, just in case.

Fear imagines things that never happen. It also creates things that do happen. Job said, "The thing I fear comes upon me."

"Little Foxes Spoil Vines"

"It's come! It's come!" exclaimed the Duke of Cornwall to the Marquis of Dunbar as they sat side-by-side at a state dinner. "What's come?" inquired the marquis. "Paralysis! I've been pinching my leg for the past five minutes and can't feel a thing." "Excuse me, sir, it's my leg you've been pinching."

It is the "little foxes that spoil the vines," and some of them are always around taking the joy out of life.

One of these "varmints" is poundage. You are either too heavy or too light. Scales placarded with "Have you weighed yourself today?" never agree, and one finds himself stuffing and starving alternately instead of eating normally and sensibly. My policy would be to banish these kill-joys to the "pound" till they acquire better manners.

You are camera-shy. You feel like a scared rabbit when you face the camera. But to please the grandchildren and fill a vacant spot in the family album, you yield, and the pleasant photographer smoothes out most of the wrinkles, leaving some as a badge of honorable service for others, and making you appear more beautiful than you are.

Or, you have an appointment with your dentist. As you lie garroted in his easy-rising chair and he grinds away at the offending molar, you forget all your troubles but the one you are presently suffering.

Divertively, he asks, "Does it hurt?" You gasp "yth," and he answers, "Good, that's what we want."

25 Phobias

There are 25 varieties of phobia indulged among us—bacteriophobia (fear of bacteria), claustrophobia (fear of being closed in), Russophobia (fear of Russia)—to name a few.

Thanatophobia (fear of death) is a common affliction. Life is so sweet we think we will die if we don't live another year.

A wild-eyed zealot called on Emerson one day to announce that the world was coming to an end. The philosopher calmly replied, "We can get along without it."

In the writer's childhood he heard an aged cleric proclaim from the pulpit with tremulous voice, "It's an awful thing to die!" Then, after a long-drawn pause, he continued, "But it's a more awful thing to live!"

Many folks who are not afraid to die are afraid to live. It takes courage to live and many are not equal to it.

A preacher out in Kansas composed a morning prayer to accompany the famous evening edition:

Now I get me up to work;
I pray the Lord I may not sh.rk;
If I should die before tonight
I pray the Lord my work's all right.

How shall we be rid of illegitimate fear? There's the rub. By way of suggestion, Fear the cause rather than the consequence. Don't crawl under the bed when it thunders, the lightning has already done the business.

If you sow your wild oats, don't be surprised if your chickens come home to roost.

Rationalize your fears away. See your doctor, psychiatrist, priest or preacher. Go to church, pray, fear God and keep His commandments.

At length he reached the barn and as he touched the latch there came a great calm. He heard a munching within. Was it a trick? It was so uncanny. He found inside a white horse eating oats, and nearby was a suit of white armor. He put it on, saddled the horse, rode out to the king and the magician, and said, "I am ready, sire!"

And how do you feel? inquired the king. "I'm all right—so far!" replied the brave man.

What Is Reality?

One of the inevitable effects of the existence of the devastating hydrogen bomb is that thoughtful human beings are wondering about the world they live in and its future. When the atom bomb appalled our consciousness, we realized that we had reached an age of destructiveness that was, for the moment, beyond our imagination. Now we know that more effective means of destruction are at hand and that greater means will be evolved. There are no limits to these deadly powers.

The scientists themselves are frightened by their offspring. The more they know, the more frightened they are. Alexis Carrel, one of the most brilliant minds of our age, left a posthumous book, "Reflections on Life," in which he has this to say:

"Man has only grasped one aspect of reality. He has plucked the forbidden fruit from the tree of knowledge before it was ripe. It gave us the knowledge of all things save ourselves."

Then he says:

". . . One essential law for the development of living beings is that of effort. Muscles, vital organs, intelligence and will can only be strengthened by work. No error can be more fatal than that of suppressing the voluntary effort of mind and muscle and the involuntary one of the adaptive systems. Our ancestral laws of conduct were the expression of a profound intuition of human nature. Christian morality also imposes rules which are none other than those intended by life itself. Life has replied to our disobedience to its laws by estranging itself from us; a reply at once silent and brutal. Only the most clear-sighted have been aware of the danger . . ."

The degeneration of the race is universal because lack of self-discipline is universal. The enforced discipline of the totalitarian state or the enslavements exercised by the Communists are not substitutes for self-discipline. Strong nations base themselves not on the exercise of power over each individual but depend upon the strength that comes from the morality of its citizens living within the social disciplines of the family.

Patriotism is self-respect. When self-respect degenerates, the family loses its primary purpose, which is self-discipline within an intimate group; after that, love of country is dissipated into the elevation of private which above the common good.

An ugly example of this is the shamelessness of those who spy upon their own country in the interest of its foes. Thousands of young men and women, some Marxists, some not, some only willful people, have joined in a conspiracy against what normal human beings always love. The Rosenbergs went to their deaths without explaining why they did so much harm to their country.

The Rosenbergs are only two of a horde of spies and saboteurs who have invaded almost all phases of American life. Harry Truman's rejection of Senator Jenner's statement that these creatures have invaded every phase of American life is not astonishing. Harry Truman called the accusations of Alger Hiss a "red herring." He tolerated Harry Dexter White. He protected Owen Lattimore, who is now under indictment in a case involving perjury.

Does this mean that Harry Truman preferred Communists, spies, fellow travelers, or dupes. It does not. Harry Truman's reaction is normal among Americans who fear reality and run from it. Americans live in the memory of a good world when a man's word was his bond and when a handshake on a deal made it final. It was a moral world in which men were ashamed of wrongdoing because they were sure about right and wrong.

Realistically, that world is no longer ours. Just as the existence of the atom and hydrogen bombs must affect our thinking on many phases of life, so the impact of Marxism affects our morals. Just as in economics, Gresham's Law prevails that bad money drives out good money, so in morals, the acceptance of wickedness as a possible way of life drives the Ten Commandments, the revealed law of God, from our way of life.

Were our people ready to accept reality, they would solve many of their problems. Their nature would quickly toughen because they accepted reality. It is their unwillingness to believe the truth, to recognize their own errors, their errors of education, of the upbringing of their children, of their obligations as citizens, that aids the degenerative characteristics of our era.

Carrel grasped the essential flaw of the age in which he lived and died.

Girl Scout Council Plans Parent-Daughter Dinners

A panel discussion of Leader and Troop committee relationship was featured at the meeting of the Cumberland Girl Scout Council.

The leaders stressed the need for troop committeewomen to strengthen the troop program by helping plan troop parties and ceremonies, providing transportation, serving as program consultants on specific projects or proficiency badges and helping with camping programs. Troop committee representatives told how they helped by taking charge of the cookie sales and other money-raising projects, as well as helping with the actual programs: Taking part in the panel were Mrs. Paul Umberger, moderator; Mrs. William Holbrook for the leaders and Mrs. Byron Bonebreak and Mrs. M. Monroe MacKenzie for the Troop committees.

At the business session it was decided to hold two Parent-Daughter dinners in the spring. One will be for the Brownies and their parents and the other for the Intermediate and Senior scouts and their parents.

Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, coordinator of district work, reported that the West Side district will hold its first meeting November 6. Mrs. Elizabeth Williams urged more troops to go troop camping and stated that the Camp committee is always ready to help troops with the camping problems.

It was announced that the 1954 Girl Scout calendars are available and may be obtained from Mrs. George Miller.

Mrs. Milton Beneman, Training chairman, announced there are 31 new leaders taking the training course; an attempt is being made to provide a baby sitter at the scout house on days the training courses are given. Tuesday the group will meet in Constitution Park for a cook-out at 11, instead of 1, until 3. Those who cannot come for lunch will come for dessert.

Reports on the national Girl Scout convention in Cincinnati were given. Mrs. Joseph Williams emphasized the inspiration derived from the opening pageant, "A Dream and a Promise." The International phase was brought out by Lady Baden-Powell, world chief, guides, who spoke on "Our Job Ahead." A new national project was introduced, Kits for Korea. Troops will assemble kits of toilet articles to send to Korean children. Locally it is expected that this will be a Brownie project.

Miss Olive Hurlburt reported on some of the business sessions. It was voted to change the National Girl Scout celebration from fall to spring, to coincide with the Girl Scout birthday. It also was decided to change standards for selection of leaders slightly in order to take care of the estimated 40 percent increase in the number of girls from 7 to 17 in the next 10 years.

The installation of newly elected board members; and the closing ceremonies at which the scout promise was renewed were described by Mrs. A. M. Spioch.

Hostesses for the social hour following the business meeting were Mrs. William Somerville, Mrs. William Frey, Mrs. W. A. VanOrmer, Mrs. Samuel Sirna, Mrs. Charles Fryer and Mrs. Frank Florentine.

EPA To Have Program

The Elementary Principals Association will hold its bimonthly meeting Monday. It will be at 6:30 o'clock at Frostburg State Teachers College.

A program centered around, "Helping the Beginning Teacher," will be presented, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland.

BEAL-SHROYER BRIDAL PARTY—Mr. and Mrs. Troy William Beal are shown with their attendants following their marriage in Ellerslie Methodist Church, Rev. J. B. Moore officiated. The bride is the former Miss Betty Jane Shroyer. Miss Constance Faulkner was her maid of honor and Patricia Nixon and Fay Lowery, trainbearers. Oswald Beal served as best man, John Shroyer and Wendell Beal, ushers.

Miss Shroyer, T. W. Beal Are Wed

Miss Betty Jane Shroyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Shroyer, Ellerslie, became the bride of Troy William Beal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Beal, Ellerslie, October 17.

The ceremony was performed in the Ellerslie Methodist Church with Rev. J. B. Moore officiating. White chrysanthemums and candelabra of lighted tapers decorated the altar, against a background of ferns.

Miss Constance Faulkner was the bride's maid of honor and Patricia Nixon and Fay Lowery, nieces of the bride, were trainbearers. Oswald Beal served as his brother's best man, while John Shroyer, brother of the bride and Wendell Beal, brother of the bridegroom, were the ushers. Rev. Railey sang, "Because," and "I Love You Truly," with Willard Wenkick at the organ and also playing the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. Shroyer chose a two piece Navy blue dress with black accessories and Mrs. Beal had a Navy blue dress and accessories. Both wore pink rosebud corsages.

The bride attended Allegany High School and Catherman's Business School. She is employed in the shipping department of the Cumberland Undergarment plant. The bridegroom is a graduate of Allegany High School, and served nine years in the Navy, with duty in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. He is employed by General Motors in Elyria, Ohio.

Fall leaves decorated the social hall for the reception and the three tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was encircled with silver bells.

Mrs. William R. E. Smith is improving at her home, 1100 Bedford Street, after being a surgical patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

University Women To Hear Dr. Harney On Middle Asia

The November general meeting of Cumberland Branch of the AAUW is being held November 4 with the International Relations group in charge. It will be at the Girl Scout house at 8 p. m. with Miss Janet Anderson and Miss Margaret Baker in charge.

Girl Scout Council Plans Parent-Daughter Dinners

A panel discussion of Leader and Troop committee relationship was featured at the meeting of the Cumberland Girl Scout Council.

The leaders stressed the need for troop committeewomen to strengthen the troop program by helping plan troop parties and ceremonies, providing transportation, serving as program consultants on specific projects or proficiency badges and helping with camping programs. Troop committee representatives told how they helped by taking charge of the cookie sales and other money-raising projects, as well as helping with the actual programs; Taking part in the panel were Mrs. Paul Umberger, moderator; Mrs. William Holbrook for the leaders and Mrs. Byron Bonebreak and Mrs. M. Monroe MacKenzie for the Troop committees.

At the business session it was decided to hold two Parent-Daughter dinners in the spring. One will be for the Brownies and their parents and the other for the Intermediate and Senior scouts and their parents.

Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, coordinator of district work, reported that the West Side district will hold its first meeting November 6. Mrs. Elizabeth Williams urged more troops to go troop camping and stated that the Camp committee is always ready to help troops with the camping problems.

It was announced that the 1954 Girl Scout calendars are available and may be obtained from Mrs. George Miller.

Mrs. Milton Beneman, Training chairman, announced there are 31 new leaders taking the training course; an attempt is being made to provide a baby sitter at the scout house on days the training courses are given. Tuesday the group will meet in Constitution Park for a cook-out at 11, instead of 1, until 3. Those who cannot come for lunch will come for dessert.

Reports on the national Girl Scout convention in Cincinnati were given. Mrs. Joseph Williams emphasized the inspiration derived from the opening pageant, "A Dream and a Promise." The International phase was brought out by Lady Baden-Powell, world chief, guides, who spoke on "Our Job Ahead." A new national project was introduced, Kits for Korea. Troops will assemble kits of toilet articles to send to Korean children. Locally it is expected that this will be a Brownie project.

Miss Olive Hurlburt reported on some of the business sessions. It was voted to change the National Girl Scout celebration from fall to spring, to coincide with the Girl Scout birthday. It also was decided to change standards for selection of leaders slightly in order to take care of the estimated 40 percent increase in the number of girls from 7 to 17 in the next 10 years.

The installation of newly elected board members; and the closing ceremonies at which the scout promise was renewed were described by Mrs. A. M. Spioch.

Hostesses for the social hour following the business meeting were Mrs. William Somerville, Mrs. William Frey, Mrs. W. A. VanOrmer, Mrs. Samuel Sirna, Mrs. Charles Fryer and Mrs. Frank Florentine.

EPA To Have Program

The Elementary Principals Association will hold its bimonthly meeting Monday. It will be at 6:30 o'clock at Frostburg State Teachers College.

A program centered around, "Helping the Beginning Teacher," will be presented, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland.

BEAL-SHROYER BRIDAL PARTY—Mr. and Mrs. Troy William Beal are shown with their attendants following their marriage in Ellerslie Methodist Church, Rev. J. B. Moore officiated. The bride is the former Miss Betty Jane Shroyer. Miss Constance Faulkner was her maid of honor and Patricia Nixon and Fay Lowery, trainbearers. Oswald Beal served as best man, John Shroyer and Wendell Beal, ushers.

Miss Shroyer, T. W. Beal Are Wed

Miss Betty Jane Shroyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Shroyer, Ellerslie, became the bride of Troy William Beal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Beal, Ellerslie, October 17.

The ceremony was performed in the Ellerslie Methodist Church with Rev. J. B. Moore officiating. White chrysanthemums and candelabra of lighted tapers decorated the altar, against a background of ferns.

Miss Constance Faulkner was the bride's maid of honor and Patricia Nixon and Fay Lowery, nieces of the bride, were trainbearers. Oswald Beal served as his brother's best man, while John Shroyer, brother of the bride and Wendell Beal, brother of the bridegroom, were the ushers. Rev. Railey sang, "Because," and "I Love You Truly," with Willard Wenkick at the organ and also playing the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. Shroyer chose a two piece Navy blue dress with black accessories and Mrs. Beal had a Navy blue dress and accessories. Both wore pink rosebud corsages.

The bride attended Allegany High School and Catherman's Business School. She is employed in the shipping department of the Cumberland Undergarment plant. The bridegroom is a graduate of Allegany High School, and served nine years in the Navy, with duty in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. He is employed by General Motors in Elyria, Ohio.

Fall leaves decorated the social hall for the reception and the three tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was encircled with silver bells.

Mrs. William R. E. Smith is improving at her home, 1100 Bedford Street, after being a surgical patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

University Women To Hear Dr. Harney On Middle Asia

The November general meeting of Cumberland Branch of the AAUW is being held November 4 with the International Relations group in charge. It will be at the Girl Scout house at 8 p. m. with Miss Janet Anderson and Miss Margaret Baker in charge.

Pedestrian Safety Record In Frostburg Called Good

FROSTBURG—This city's record in the 1952 National Pedestrian Protection Contest was rated as good, Richard A. Hartman, director of safety and public relations of the Automobile Club of Maryland, reported at a meeting with Frostburg officials yesterday morning in the City Hall.

Frostburg ranked 96th among the 587 cities reporting in the under 10,000 population group, and received 77 per cent of possible points in the nationwide contest. Of the 500 possible points for death and injury record, Frostburg received 83 per cent. On the basis of this record, the Mountain City ranked 260th among the 587 competing cities.

No pedestrians were killed in traffic in Frostburg in 1952, and the town reported six pedestrians injured. Altogether the city's record, according to visiting officials, was declared excellent. Recommendations of various kinds were submitted in booklet form, and it was recommended that the city officials continue their efforts to reduce automobile accidents to a minimum by continued cooperation with the American Automobile Association.

Police Commissioner Perry W. Myers, who had much experience as a police officer in Detroit, was commended highly for his personal work in providing Frostburg with every available means of protecting both motorists and pedestrians. The town's safety program, with reference to school safety patrol, was considered so proficient that no recommendations were made.

Tri-Towns Plan New System For Sounding Sirens

WESTERNPORT—In the future, both the Piedmont and Westernport sirens will be blown in case of fire or an alert.

At present the practice is for the alarm to be reported to the telephone exchange, where the operator answering the call sets off the Piedmont siren.

The first person to arrive at the Westernport fire engine house will sound the Westernport siren. Under the present arrangement, members of the Potomac Fire Company do not always hear the Piedmont siren and in such cases no not report for duty.

The people of the community are advised so they will not be unduly alarmed when both sirens are sounded.

Pedestrian Safety Record In Frostburg Called Good

FROSTBURG—This city's record in the 1952 National Pedestrian Protection Contest was rated as good, Richard A. Hartman, director of safety and public relations of the Automobile Club of Maryland, reported at a meeting with Frostburg officials yesterday morning in the City Hall.

Frostburg ranked 96th among the 587 cities reporting in the under 10,000 population group, and received 77 per cent of possible points in the nationwide contest. Of the 500 possible points for death and injury record, Frostburg received 83 per cent. On the basis of this record, the Mountain City ranked 260th among the 587 competing cities.

No pedestrians were killed in traffic in Frostburg in 1952, and the town reported six pedestrians injured. Altogether the city's record, according to visiting officials, was declared excellent. Recommendations of various kinds were submitted in booklet form, and it was recommended that the city officials continue their efforts to reduce automobile accidents to a minimum by continued cooperation with the American Automobile Association.

Police Commissioner Perry W. Myers, who had much experience as a police officer in Detroit, was commended highly for his personal work in providing Frostburg with every available means of protecting both motorists and pedestrians. The town's safety program, with reference to school safety patrol, was considered so proficient that no recommendations were made.

Lonaconing Legion Plans Membership Campaign, Party

LONACONING—Wednesday, November 4, beginning at 8 p. m. James P. Love Post No. 92, American Legion, will hold a membership party.

National Executive committeeman from Maryland, Frank J. Powers, is expected to be present.

Edward E. Nolan, post commander, states the post membership last year was 208 and that over 50 per cent of this membership has been enrolled already. He hopes that the remaining total will be secured by November 30.

All veterans of the community are requested to join the American Legion. Information concerning eligibility may be obtained by contacting Leslie J. Clark, post adjutant, or by visiting James P. Love Post No. 92, at 9-11 Jackson Street.

A Halloween dance will be held Saturday, October 31, at the Legion home, with music by "Edna, Eddie and Al Bowman". Prizes will be awarded.

Raymond J. Miller was appointed chairman of the Armistice Day program, an annual observance by the veterans of Lonaconing.

Tri-Towns Plan New System For Sounding Sirens

WESTERNPORT—In the future, both the Piedmont and Westernport sirens will be blown in case of fire or an alert.

At present the practice is for the alarm to be reported to the telephone exchange, where the operator answering the call sets off the Piedmont siren.

The first person to arrive at the Westernport fire engine house will sound the Westernport siren. Under the present arrangement, members of the Potomac Fire Company do not always hear the Piedmont siren and in such cases no not report for duty.

The people of the community are advised so they will not be unduly alarmed when both sirens are sounded.

Slander Suit Is Filed In Probe Of City Fraud

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — Hyman Pressman's persistent attacks on City Hall led today to a $100,000 slander suit against him by a city official and a rare civil rights action by him against three other persons.

Pressman charged part of the conspiracy was aimed at preventing him from fully explaining to the grand jury why he thinks it should launch a full-scale investigation of the city government's business affairs.

As these civil court actions developed, the jury formalized earlier charges by indicting City Comptroller J. Neil McCardell, Piracci, former Parking Commissioner C. Edward Jones, six other individuals and six corporations in connection with a municipally financed off-street parking project.

The suit against Pressman was brought by Allen L. Dell, deputy comptroller. He said Pressman had slandered him in statements to the city's Board of Estimates. The statements involved the purchase of an automobile from Piracci by Allen Cooper Dell, son of the deputy comptroller.

Only yesterday Piracci asked the courts to cite Pressman for contempt, saying the 38-year-old lawyer had tended to deprive him of his right to a fair trial on fraud-conspiracy charges.

As a result of the same investigation, McCardell was charged with accepting bribes from Piracci; Jones with violating the city code by representing parking corporations doing business with the city while he was a city employe, and six other individuals with conspiring to defraud the city.

State Budget Ban To Hit University

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — The ban Gov. McKeldin has placed on budget increases for next year was the subject of a great deal of conversation today as University of Maryland department heads outlined their needs.

The budget committee of the university's Board of Regents heard department chiefs in a special session today, and nearly all exceeded the 15-minute time limit reviewing frustrations of confining allowances.

Larger grants and salary increases were called for.

Dean Leon Smith, of the school of Arts and Sciences, said he needs more instructors in sociology, speech, art, history, music and more funds to pay more graduate assistants.

George Buck, director of the University Hospital, and Dean J. F. Pyle of the school of business and public administration, also pointed to limitations in their operations because of their present budget allowances.

Will Is Probated

The will of Mrs. Matilda C. Hughes, who was 72 and lived in Westernport at the time of her death August 5, was admitted to probate yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

A daughter, Mrs. Ida Close Devore, 318 Maryland Avenue, Westernport, was named executrix of the estate. Mrs. Hughes' real estate at 702 Gephart Drive was left jointly to Mrs. Devore and another daughter, Mrs. Pearl Close Robinson of Boston. They also will share two diamond rings belonging to their mother. Mrs. Hughes left $200 to her brother, Louis Laber, and all the rest of her estate to Mrs. Devore. The will was dated June 9, 1953.

Kinsey's First Book Is Banned In South Africa

DURBAN, South Africa, Oct. 30 (AP)—After selling for five years without hindrance, Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey's book on the sexual habits of men was withdrawn from sale in South Africa today by order of Interior Minister T. E. Donges.

Durban bookseller E. G. Rabjohn said this is the usual procedure when a ruling is pending on a book suspected of being obscene or objectionable.

The sequel to this book "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female," was withdrawn from sale in South Africa immediately on publication last month. A ruling still is pending.

Two Convicted In Morals Case

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — One youth was convicted by a jury and another pleaded guilty today as a series of trials of 14 youths charged with sex offenses against two young girl cousins continued here.

An all-male jury in Youth Court found George Frederick Kincaid, 17, guilty of statutory rape of one of the girls. A few minutes later Francis Carl Hart, 16, pleaded guilty to a similar charge after having earlier pleaded innocent.

They brought to four the number now facing sentences on the charges which were filed after a 13-year-old girl and her 11-year-old cousin said they were kept in a West Preston Street apartment for a week last July by a gang of youths.

Among the eight others awaiting trial is Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro, 20-year-old son of Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro. His case is expected to begin early next week.

Smithsburg To Get Doubleday Book Plant

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Doubleday & Co., publishing firm, announced today plans to set up a plant at nearby Smithsburg to experiment on book manufacturing processes.

The company said the plant would begin operating about the first of next year with a staff of 75 to 100.

The announcement said the operation would include testing of machinery designed for more efficient book production.

Traffic Fines Show Increase

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — The Department of Motor Vehicles in its annual report today listed gross receipts from fines, licenses and other fees at $27,274,615.83, a new record high and 8.65 per cent more than the amount taken in last year.

The figures were for the fiscal year ended last June 30.

The report filed by Commissioner Thomas B. R. Mudd showed registrations have soared to a new high of 950,942, an increase of 60,264 over the previous year.

Frostburg Officials Sued For $25,000 In Diver's Death

The Mayor and Council of Frostburg have been made defendants in a $25,000 damage suit docketed in Circuit Court yesterday.

The declaration, filed by Paul M. Fletcher, attorney for Mrs. Christina Spiker, administratrix of the estate of Wayne C. Murphy, states that the City of Frostburg operates a swimming pool with lifeguards and is responsible for the safety of persons using the facilities.

On July 28, the declaration states, Murphy, 18, of Lonaconing, suffered a dislocated vertebra when he struck an innertube in a dive at the pool. The young man died August 3 in Memorial Hospital here from his injuries.

Mrs. Spiker, an aunt of the youth, obtained letters of administration on his estate in Orphans Court. Young Murphy left no survivors, his mother, Mrs. Lolie (Hayes) Murphy, was killed in an accident 17 years ago and the youth's father, Clifford Murphy, died when the boy was two years old.

The declaration states that the City of Frostburg is responsible for having any hazardous object removed from the diving area of the pool.

One veteran rice farmer has estimated that the black birds, perennial rice pests, eat perhaps 2 to 3 barrels of rice per acre.

Herath Is President Of Kiwanis Club

Charles L. Herath, chief engineer of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, was elected president of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club Thursday at Central YMCA.

Other officers named were Charles E. Smith, president of Station WTBO, vice president, and James, W. Bishop, county treasurer, club treasurer.

TV Interference Source Found

The source of interference on television sets in the Greene Street-South Lee Street section has been discovered, Mayor Roy W. Eves said today.

After receiving complaints from residents of that area, the Mayor said an investigation was made.

It was found that the old-type traffic control box at Greene and South Lee streets was causing the trouble because of its antiquated mechanism.

Slander Suit Is Filed In Probe Of City Fraud

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — Hyman Pressman's persistent attacks on City Hall led today to a $100,000 slander suit against him by a city official and a rare civil rights action by him against three other persons.

Pressman charged part of the conspiracy was aimed at preventing him from fully explaining to the grand jury why he thinks it should launch a full-scale investigation of the city government's business affairs.

As these civil court actions developed, the jury formalized earlier charges by indicting City Comptroller J. Neil McCardell, Piracci, former Parking Commissioner C. Edward Jones, six other individuals and six corporations in connection with a municipally financed off-street parking project.

The suit against Pressman was brought by Allen L. Dell, deputy comptroller. He said Pressman had slandered him in statements to the city's Board of Estimates. The statements involved the purchase of an automobile from Piracci by Allen Cooper Dell, son of the deputy comptroller.

Only yesterday Piracci asked the courts to cite Pressman for contempt, saying the 38-year-old lawyer had tended to deprive him of his right to a fair trial on fraud-conspiracy charges.

As a result of the same investigation, McCardell was charged with accepting bribes from Piracci; Jones with violating the city code by representing parking corporations doing business with the city while he was a city employe, and six other individuals with conspiring to defraud the city.

State Budget Ban To Hit University

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — The ban Gov. McKeldin has placed on budget increases for next year was the subject of a great deal of conversation today as University of Maryland department heads outlined their needs.

The budget committee of the university's Board of Regents heard department chiefs in a special session today, and nearly all exceeded the 15-minute time limit reviewing frustrations of confining allowances.

Larger grants and salary increases were called for.

Dean Leon Smith, of the school of Arts and Sciences, said he needs more instructors in sociology, speech, art, history, music and more funds to pay more graduate assistants.

George Buck, director of the University Hospital, and Dean J. F. Pyle of the school of business and public administration, also pointed to limitations in their operations because of their present budget allowances.

Will Is Probated

The will of Mrs. Matilda C. Hughes, who was 72 and lived in Westernport at the time of her death August 5, was admitted to probate yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

A daughter, Mrs. Ida Close Devore, 318 Maryland Avenue, Westernport, was named executrix of the estate. Mrs. Hughes' real estate at 702 Gephart Drive was left jointly to Mrs. Devore and another daughter, Mrs. Pearl Close Robinson of Boston. They also will share two diamond rings belonging to their mother. Mrs. Hughes left $200 to her brother, Louis Laber, and all the rest of her estate to Mrs. Devore. The will was dated June 9, 1953.

Kinsey's First Book Is Banned In South Africa

DURBAN, South Africa, Oct. 30 (AP)—After selling for five years without hindrance, Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey's book on the sexual habits of men was withdrawn from sale in South Africa today by order of Interior Minister T. E. Donges.

Durban bookseller E. G. Rabjohn said this is the usual procedure when a ruling is pending on a book suspected of being obscene or objectionable.

The sequel to this book "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female," was withdrawn from sale in South Africa immediately on publication last month. A ruling still is pending.

Two Convicted In Morals Case

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — One youth was convicted by a jury and another pleaded guilty today as a series of trials of 14 youths charged with sex offenses against two young girl cousins continued here.

An all-male jury in Youth Court found George Frederick Kincaid, 17, guilty of statutory rape of one of the girls. A few minutes later Francis Carl Hart, 16, pleaded guilty to a similar charge after having earlier pleaded innocent.

They brought to four the number now facing sentences on the charges which were filed after a 13-year-old girl and her 11-year-old cousin said they were kept in a West Preston Street apartment for a week last July by a gang of youths.

Among the eight others awaiting trial is Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro, 20-year-old son of Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro. His case is expected to begin early next week.

Smithsburg To Get Doubleday Book Plant

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Doubleday & Co., publishing firm, announced today plans to set up a plant at nearby Smithsburg to experiment on book manufacturing processes.

The company said the plant would begin operating about the first of next year with a staff of 75 to 100.

The announcement said the operation would include testing of machinery designed for more efficient book production.

Traffic Fines Show Increase

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — The Department of Motor Vehicles in its annual report today listed gross receipts from fines, licenses and other fees at $27,274,615.83, a new record high and 8.65 per cent more than the amount taken in last year.

The figures were for the fiscal year ended last June 30.

The report filed by Commissioner Thomas B. R. Mudd showed registrations have soared to a new high of 950,942, an increase of 60,264 over the previous year.

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

A 53-yard march, spearheaded by Quarterback Bob Kirtley's running and passing, gave Coach Roy Lester's Allegany High Campers a fourth quarter touchdown and a thrilling 7-6 victory over a determined band of LaSalle High gridders last night at Fort Hill stadium.

Kirtley plunged over from the one to cap the sustained drive and then surprised the Explorers with a pass to End Bob Reiber for the game-winning extra point.

The win was the sixth straight for Allegany and snapped a 5-game win skein for LaSalle.

LaSalle Scores First

In one of the most exciting and hard-fought contests of the season between the evenly-matched teams a crowd estimated at 5,500 saw LaSalle tally first early in the third quarter on a brilliant 34-yard run by Fullback Harold Hudson to take a 6-0 lead.

Bobby Christ's second half kickoff was returned to the Allegany 33. On the first play from scrimmage Bucky Rice fumbled and Ken Lowery alertly dropped on the ball on the 37. Following a LaSalle fumble which was recovered by Center Archie Lennox for the Explorers on the 34 Hudson broke off tackle on a neatly-executed draw play and scampered all the way with hardly a hand being laid on him to break the ice for LaSalle.

The all-important extra point try was fumbled by Hudson holding for Bill Kegg to kick and Allegany's defense smothered the play.

On the ensuing kickoff Allegany's scatback, Bucky Rice took the ball on the Allegany 18 and returned to the LaSalle 43 before being brought down. Ken Lowery, the last man between Rice and the goal made the tackle.

After an exchange of punts Allegany took over on the Campers 47 and made its game-winning surge. A brilliant 15-yard run by Kirtley was nullified by a penalty but Kirtley then dropped back and passed his way to Reiber for 14 yards and a first on the LaSalle 43, Eddies Joyce bulled his way to another first on the 32 and Joyce and Dick Rank carried to the Explorer 18 as the third quarter ended.

Kirtley Goes Over

Kirtley made four, Joyce picked up five more and Kirtley smashed to the seven for Allegany's fourth first down in the drive. Then Kirtley carried on three successive plays to finally smash over for the score with 2:14 gone in the period.

Then with Allegany in kick formation for the extra point Kirtley surprised by passing over the heads of the LaSalle defenders to Reiber standing all alone in the end zone for the game-clinching point.

LaSalle, desperately taking to the air in the final moments threatened when Denny Shuck hit Jim Williams for 11 yards and a pass interference penalty was called against Allegany giving LaSalle the ball on the AHS 27. However three straight passes went awry for LaSalle, two dropped by Lowery and Geatz in the open.

On the game's final play LaSalle attempted a 27-yard field goal but Dennis Drumm's boot was short and wide. Eddie Joyce took the pigskin on the Allegany 11 and scooted down the sidelines for 62 yards before being hauled down from behind by Christ on the LaSalle 27 as the whistle sounded.

LaSalle Defense Is Alert

An alert LaSalle defense stopped numerous Camper threats, three times recovering Allegany fumbles although the Lestermen had much the better of the statistics. Although held almost throughout the game by the heavier Allegany line the LaSalle pony backfield broke loose for the game's longest runs on Hudson's 34-yard scoring jaunt and a 25-yard sprint by Christ.

Allegany steadily hammered away at the LaSalle line to pile up its yardage and the Camper passing attack clicked for six completions in six attempts for 63 yards. Bob Reiber was Kirtley's outstanding receiver, catching five of the heaves, several on spectacular plays.

LEAD HIGH FLYING MOUNTAINEERS—Ranked among the top teams in the country, the West Virginia University Mountaineers roll on undefeated, led by this group. A member of the Southern Conference, the Morgantown eleven, coached by Art (Pappy) Lewis, have defeated Pittsburgh, Waynesburg, Washington and Lee, George Washington and V.M.I., and are expected to face their toughest test of the campaign today when they do battle with "Rip" Engle's Penn State Nittany Lions. Lewis, an Ohio U. grad, played ball with the Giants and Cleveland Rams. He was head coach at Wash-Lee for three years, line coach at Mississippi State for two seasons and became West Virginia's head coach in 1951.

KEYSER, Oct. 30—Keyser High School's Golden Tornado easily defeated the West Virginia School for the Deaf gridders here today in a Potomac Valley Conference game by the score of 44-6.

The win was the sixth against two losses for Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's eleven and gave the locals a 3-0 record in the conference. The setback was the seventh of the season for the Lions.

Keyser scored one or more touchdowns in every period and Fullback Ernie Courrier accounted for twenty points on three touchdowns and two conversions.

Courrier scored on runs of five, six and eight yards, Jimmy Webb collected two TDs, falling on the ball in the end zone after Courrier fumbled and dashing 60 yards later in the contest. Dick Morris and Rick Kephart accounted for the other KHS six-pointers. Morris registered on a 35-yard jaunt and Kephart tallied on a 10-yard end run.

Crane leads the WVIC in rushing, total offense, ball-carrying average, kickoff runbacks, scoring, pass interceptions and is second in punt returns.

Karlo, 200 pound halfback, is sixth in rushing, Quarterback Atwell is sixth in forward passing, and Isabell is fifth in punting which is proof that this backfield does everything well.

Concord will have a tremendous advantage in the line of 28 pounds a man while the backs will have an advantage of 10 pounds a man.

Coach Lough feels that his club is capable of surprising a lot of teams and adds that "this may be the day to pull one out of the hat."

Potomac State owns a 2-3 record in the conference while the Lions have won three and lost two.

Both schools whipped Glenville and Salem, both were beaten by West Liberty, Potomac State dropped a 19-13 decision to West Virginia Tech and Concord beat the same team, 32-25.

Rocky Awaits Decision On Defense Of Title

PARIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Rocky Marciano will defend his heavyweight title against Don Cockell, the British champion, next June — maybe.

Al Weill, Marciano's manager, said today the bout would be held in London or the United States "wherever we could get the most money." He made his announcement after a one-hour talk with Jack Solomons, British promoter.

Then came the maybe.

"No final decision on the matter will be taken," said Weill, "until I talk with Jim Norris (president of the International Boxing Club) next week at New York."

Weill, scheduled to fly to New York Monday, said he would cable Norris' opinion of the match to Solomons as soon as he talked with the American promoter.

ROMNEY, W. Va., Oct. 30 — Romney High School's Pioneers ran their winning streak to eight games today by whipping the Petersburg High Vikings to the tune of 31-7 in a Potomac Valley Conference contest.

Coach Dick McElwee's unbeaten eleven, scheduled to play Farmington High in a homecoming game here Saturday, November 7, scored in every period with Roger Parker and Sammy Lyons racking up two touchdowns each and Eddie Hartman garnered the other six-pointer.

Parker scored in the first period from 10 yards out while Lyons counted twice in the second stanza. Sammy snared an 18-yard pass from Ed Hartman and galloped 45 yards for his initial TD and later took Hartman's 35-yard aerial and ran five yards to pay dirt.

In the third quarter Eddie Hartman drove over from the one on a quarterback sneak and Parker concluded the scoring in the last period on a 10-yard dash around end.

Parker kicked the extra point after Romney's second touchdown.

Petersburg crashed the scoring column in the third quarter on Jimmy Kessel's end run from the 7-yard mark. McCauley booted the extra point.

Parker and Ed Hartman in the backfield and Saville, Lyons and Quinn on the line were outstanding for the Pioneers, who rolled up 275 yards on the ground and through the air.

The loss was Petersburg's first in the conference in six starts. The Vikings had won four and tied one prior to today's game. Lineups:

CIRCLEVILLE, W. Va., Oct. 30—A favored Franklin High eleven had to overcome from behind here today with a third period touchdown to tie underdog Circleville 12-12 in a Potomac Valley Conference contest.

The inspired Circleville team tallied twice in the first half on passes from Ronald Lambert to Wayne Huffman to lead Coach Bob Hartman's Panthers, seeking their sixth win, 12-6 at halftime.

James Propst recovered a Circleville fumble late in the third stanza on the Franklin 46 and the Panthers moved 48 yards to the six in five plays. Eldon Lambert, who earlier had plunged for a first period score, banged off tackle for the tying six-pointer. Jack Depoy was stopped on the attempted plunge for the game-winning extra point.

Following Eldon Lambert's eight-yard run for Franklin's first touchdown in the early moments of the game Circleville bounced back to travel 44 yards to the Franklin 22 after the kickoff. Ronald Lambert then pitched to End Wayne Huffman in the end zone for the counter. Don Lambert's kick for the point was blocked.

In the second stanza Circleville's Richard Conrad intercepted Eldon Lambert's pass on the Franklin 41 and returned to the Panthers' 30. Four plays moved the pigskin to the 10 and Ronnie Lambert again found Huffman in the end zone with an aerial. Another pass from Lambert to Huffman for the extra point was knocked down.

The tie gave Circleville a 2-4-1 record for the season while Franklin now has won five, lost two and tied one.

Veteran Drivers Pilot Chrysler To New Record

Average 89 Miles Per Hour In Endurance Test

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30—(INS)—All Indianapolis motor speedway speed and endurance records for stock cars were smashed today by a 1954 Chrysler which ran 24-hours non-stop at 89.76 miles per hour.

Veteran race drivers Pat O'Connor, Tony Bettenhausen and Bill Taylor relay-drove the 235 h. p. Fire Power V-8 for 2,155 miles in the 24-hour endurance test that gave Chrysler the Stevens Trophy.

They won the trophy which was last taken in 1937 by drivers for the Cord Motor Company who recorded 79.577 mph for 24 straight hours. Their distance was 1,910 miles.

Eleven AAA officials headed by Contest Board Secretary James N. Lamb, watched the race which began in secrecy Thursday.

The same AAA men chose the Chrysler from a stock production line, supervised its test run from Detroit to Indianapolis and clocked it throughout its run around the 2½ mile race track.

The "New Yorker" model car hit speeds in excess of 128 miles an hour in the straight away and averaged 97 mph for some laps.

The Stevens Trophy was donated by Samuel Stevens, Rome, N. Y., sportsman and auto enthusiast. Only three companies have held it before today—Stutz, Marmon and Cord.

Valley at Beall

Bruce at Flintstone

LONACONING, Oct. 30—Valley High School's Black Knights tightened their grip on first place in the W.M.I. Soccer League by defeating Flintstone High's Aggies in Barton today by the score of 2-0.

The triumph was the fifth against one loss and one tie for Coach John Meyers' eleven and increased its lead over Flintstone to three points in the standings.

Valley High could take it all by defeating Beall High School at Frostburg on Tuesday. That's the final game on the schedule for the Lonaconing team.

The race would end in a tie if Beall holds Valley even on Tuesday and Flintstone wins its last two games from Bruce and Mt. Savage. Flintstone could still cop the title if it wins two in a row while Valley is losing to Beall.

Richard Waddell's penalty goal and Randall Brown's field goal accounted for Valley's points in the second period. Brown took a pass from Dale Kitzmiller and his shot for the goal was in the air as the first half ended. It was his ninth point of the season and enabled him to increase his lead as the league's top scorer.

The contest attracted approximately 1,200 spectators, one of the largest crowds to witness a soccer contest at Barton.

Marquette Wins 7-6

BOSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Bob Girman, a hard-driving fullback replacement, raced 41 yards for a touchdown and, given a second try because of a penalty, Don Molenda, converted the point that gave Marquette a 7-6 victory over a hard fighting but luckless Boston University football team tonight on soggy Braves Field.

Davis Outpoints Araujo In Garden

Dull Fight Witnessed By Unimpressed Crowd

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Teddy (Red Top) Davis, always pursuing a fleeting target, won a unanimous decision over George Araujo tonight in a dull 10-rounder that drew frequent warnings from Referee Ruby Goldstein and boos from the small crowd at Madison Square Garden. Davis weighed 130½, Araujo 133½.

In round after round, Goldstein talked to the fighters saying, "Come on" and "You've got to fight." Once he told them "Come on, you're lousing up the Garden."

Araujo, a newlywed from Providence, making his first Garden start since he was knocked out by lightweight champ Jimmy Carter in a title bout, kept moving away from Davis all the time.

Davis, who had beaten Araujo Sept. 10 in Boston for the New England lightweight crown, was defending it for the first time. The 30-year-old Hartford, Conn., veteran of 100 previous fights pursued Araujo round after round, catching a sporadic counter fire.

Both judges Bert Grand and Joe Eppy scored the fight for Davis 6-4. Referee Goldstein had Davis on top 6-3-1. So did the AP card.

Takes Over Automobile Agency In Arkansas

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., Oct. 30 (INS)—Johnny Sain, veteran New York Yankee hurler who planned his retirement for years, quit baseball today with "no regrets."

Sain moved into a modest house in Walnut Ridge Tuesday and took over an established automobile agency. He said the business and his family of two small children would "keep me sufficiently occupied" so that he will not miss too much the excitement of the diamond.

Johnny Sain

Big Johnny, now 36, and with 16 years in the majors behind him, said:

"Naturally, I'll miss playing but I won't miss what you might call the off-field baseball — the long trips on the road and not being able to have a permanent home. I'll be glad to get away from that part of the game.

He said he "never really had any great desire" to be a manager, and stayed in baseball as long as he did because he liked the competition.

Sain explained:

"I've seen this coming, the time I would have to quit. Every year look like it might be the last. I had arm trouble in 1949, again in 1950 and 1951, and a little in 1952. During that time I've been looking for just the thing I've found here."

The big right-hander who had a major league percentage of .555, said he will satisfy his appetite for baseball by watching the games of Memphis in the Southern Association.

WESTMINSTER, Md., Oct. 30—Earl Grove and Stanley Teets scored touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters tonight to put Fort Hill High School's Sentinels of Cumberland back in the victory column with a 13 to 0 decision over Westminster High School's Owls.

It was the fifth win of the season for the visitors who had been defeated and tied in their last two outings.

Fort Hill scored its first touchdown when Earl Grove intercepted a pass on the 10 and ran it over in the second period.

The Sentinel marched 60 yards for their second score which was set up by a blocker punt on the Cumberland 40. Stanley Teets climaxed the march by carrying the leather over from the 11. Gene Weber made the extra point from placement.

Fort Hill reeled off 11 first downs, ten on rushing, to the Owls' four, one of which was the result of penalty. The winners amassed 202 yards in both departments.

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

A 53-yard march, spearheaded by Quarterback Bob Kirtley's running and passing, gave Coach Roy Lester's Allegany High Campers a fourth quarter touchdown and a thrilling 7-6 victory over a determined band of LaSalle High gridders last night at Fort Hill stadium.

Kirtley plunged over from the one to cap the sustained drive and then surprised the Explorers with a pass to End Bob Reiber for the game-winning extra point.

The win was the sixth straight for Allegany and snapped a 5-game win skein for LaSalle.

LaSalle Scores First

In one of the most exciting and hard-fought contests of the season between the evenly-matched teams a crowd estimated at 5,500 saw LaSalle tally first early in the third quarter on a brilliant 34-yard run by Fullback Harold Hudson to take a 6-0 lead.

Bobby Christ's second half kickoff was returned to the Allegany 33. On the first play from scrimmage Bucky Rice fumbled and Ken Lowery alertly dropped on the ball on the 37. Following a LaSalle fumble which was recovered by Center Archie Lennox for the Explorers on the 34 Hudson broke off tackle on a neatly-executed draw play and scampered all the way with hardly a hand being laid on him to break the ice for LaSalle.

The all-important extra point try was fumbled by Hudson holding for Bill Kegg to kick and Allegany's defense smothered the play.

On the ensuing kickoff Allegany's scatback, Bucky Rice took the ball on the Allegany 18 and returned to the LaSalle 43 before being brought down. Ken Lowery, the last man between Rice and the goal made the tackle.

After an exchange of punts Allegany took over on the Campers 47 and made its game-winning surge. A brilliant 15-yard run by Kirtley was nullified by a penalty but Kirtley then dropped back and passed his way to Reiber for 14 yards and a first on the LaSalle 43. Eddies Joyce bulled his way to another first on the 32 and Joyce and Dick Rank carried to the Explorer 18 as the third quarter ended.

Kirtley Goes Over

Kirtley made four, Joyce picked up five more and Kirtley smashed to the seven for Allegany's fourth first down in the drive. Then Kirtley carried on three successive plays to finally smash over for the score with 2:14 gone in the period.

Then with Allegany in kick formation for the extra point Kirtley surprised by passing over the heads of the LaSalle defenders to Reiber standing all alone in the end zone for the game-clinching point.

LaSalle, desperately taking to the air in the final moments threatened when Denny Shuck hit Jim Williams for 11 yards and a pass interference penalty was called against Allegany giving LaSalle the ball on the AHS 27. However three straight passes went awry for LaSalle, two dropped by Lowery and Geatz in the open.

On the game's final play LaSalle attempted a 27-yard field goal but Dennis Drumm's boot was short and wide. Eddie Joyce took the pigskin on the Allegany 11 and scooted down the sidelines for 62 yards before being hauled down from behind by Christ on the LaSalle 27 as the whistle sounded.

LaSalle Defense Is Alert

An alert LaSalle defense stopped numerous Camper threats, three times recovering Allegany fumbles although the Lestermen had much the better of the statistics. Although held almost throughout the game by the heavier Allegany line the LaSalle pony backfield broke loose for the game's longest runs on Hudson's 34-yard scoring jaunt and a 25-yard sprint by Christ.

Allegany steadily hammered away at the LaSalle line to pile up its yardage and the Camper passing attack clicked for six completions in six attempts for 63 yards. Bob Reiber was Kirtley's outstanding receiver, catching five of the heaves, several on spectacular plays.

LEAD HIGH FLYING MOUNTAINEERS—Ranked among the top teams in the country, the West Virginia University Mountaineers roll on undefeated, led by this group. A member of the Southern Conference, the Morgantown eleven, coached by Art (Pappy) Lewis, have defeated Pittsburgh, Waynesburg, Washington and Lee, George Washington and V.M.I., and are expected to face their toughest test of the campaign today when they do battle with "Rip" Engle's Penn State Nittany Lions. Lewis, an Ohio U. grad, played ball with the Giants and Cleveland Rams. He was head coach at Wash-Lee for three years, line coach at Mississippi State for two seasons and became West Virginia's head coach in 1951.

Crane leads the WVIC in rushing, total offense, ball-carrying average, kickoff runbacks, scoring, pass interceptions and is second in punt returns.

Karlo, 200 pound halfback, is sixth in rushing, Quarterback Atwell is sixth in forward passing, and Isabell is fifth in punting which is proof that this backfield does everything well.

Concord will have a tremendous advantage in the line of 28 pounds a man while the backs will have an advantage of 10 pounds a man.

Coach Lough feels that his club is capable of surprising a lot of teams and adds that "this may be the day to pull one out of the hat."

Potomac State owns a 2-3 record in the conference while the Lions have won three and lost two.

Both schools whipped Glenville and Salem, both were beaten by West Liberty, Potomac State dropped a 19-13 decision to West Virginia Tech and Concord beat the same team, 32-25.

KEYSER, Oct. 30—Keyser High School's Golden Tornado easily defeated the West Virginia School for the Deaf gridders here today in a Potomac Valley Conference game by the score of 44-6.

The win was the sixth against two losses for Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's eleven and gave the locals a 3-0 record in the conference. The setback was the seventh of the season for the Lions.

Keyser scored one or more touchdowns in every period and Fullback Ernie Courrier accounted for twenty points on three touchdowns and two conversions.

Courrier scored on runs of five, six and eight yards, Jimmy Webb collected two TDs, falling on the ball in the end zone after Courrier fumbled and dashing 60 yards later in the contest. Dick Morris and Rick Kephart accounted for the other KHS six-pointers. Morris registered on a 35-yard jaunt and Kephart tallied on a 10-yard end run.

Rocky Awaits Decision On Defense Of Title

PARIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Rocky Marciano will defend his heavyweight title against Don Cockell, the British champion, next June — maybe.

Al Weill, Marciano's manager, said today the bout would be held in London or the United States "wherever we could get the most money." He made his announcement after a one-hour talk with Jack Solomons, British promoter.

Then came the maybe.

"No final decision on the matter will be taken," said Weill, "until I talk with Jim Norris (president of the International Boxing Club) next week at New York."

Weill, scheduled to fly to New York Monday, said he would cable Norris' opinion of the match to Solomons as soon as he talked with the American promoter.

ROMNEY, W. Va., Oct. 30 — Romney High School's Pioneers ran their winning streak to eight games today by whipping the Petersburg High Vikings to the tune of 31-7 in a Potomac Valley Conference contest.

Coach Dick McElwee's unbeaten eleven, scheduled to play Farmington High in a homecoming game here Saturday, November 7, scored in every period with Roger Parker and Sammy Lyons racking up two touchdowns each and Eddie Hartman garnered the other six-pointer.

Parker scored in the first period from 10 yards out while Lyons counted twice in the second stanza. Sammy snared an 18-yard pass from Ed Hartman and galloped 45 yards for his initial TD and later took Hartman's 35-yard aerial and ran five yards to pay dirt.

In the third quarter Eddie Hartman drove over from the one on a quarterback sneak and Parker concluded the scoring in the last period on a 10-yard dash around end.

Parker kicked the extra point after Romney's second touchdown.

Petersburg crashed the scoring column in the third quarter on Jimmy Kessel's end run from the 7-yard mark. McCauley booted the extra point.

Parker and Ed Hartman in the backfield and Saville, Lyons and Quinn on the line were outstanding for the Pioneers, who rolled up 275 yards on the ground and through the air.

The loss was Petersburg's first in the conference in six starts. The Vikings had won four and tied one prior to today's game. Lineups:

CIRCLEVILLE, W. Va., Oct. 30 —A favored Franklin High eleven had to overcome from behind here today with a third period touchdown to tie underdog Circleville 12-12 in a Potomac Valley Conference contest.

The inspired Circleville team tallied twice in the first half on passes from Ronald Lambert to Wayne Huffman to lead Coach Bob Hartman's Panthers, seeking their sixth win, 12-6 at halftime.

James Propst recovered a Circleville fumble late in the third stanza on the Franklin 46 and the Panthers moved 48 yards to the six in five plays. Eldon Lambert, who earlier had plunged for a first period score, banged off tackle for the tying six-pointer. Jack Depoy was stopped on the attempted plunge for the game-winning extra point.

Following Eldon Lambert's eight-yard run for Franklin's first touchdown in the early moments of the game Circleville bounced back to travel 44 yards to the Franklin 22 after the kickoff. Ronald Lambert then pitched to End Wayne Huffman in the end zone for the counter. Don Lambert's kick for the point was blocked.

In the second stanza Circleville's Richard Conrad intercepted Eldon Lambert's pass on the Franklin 41 and returned to the Panthers' 30. Four plays moved the pigskin to the 10 and Ronnie Lambert again found Huffman in the end zone with an aerial. Another pass from Lambert to Huffman for the extra point was knocked down.

The tie gave Circleville a 2-4-1 record for the season while Franklin now has won five, lost two and tied one.

Veteran Drivers Pilot Chrysler To New Record

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30—(INS)—All Indianapolis motor speedway speed and endurance records for stock cars were smashed today by a 1954 Chrysler which ran 24-hours non-stop at 89.76 miles per hour.

Veteran race drivers Pat O'Connor, Tony Bettenhausen and Bill Taylor relay-drove the 235 h. p. Fire Power V-8 for 2,155 miles in the 24-hour endurance test that gave Chrysler the Stevens Trophy.

They won the trophy which was last taken in 1937 by drivers for the Cord Motor Company who recorded 79.577 mph for 24 straight hours. Their distance was 1,910 miles.

Eleven AAA officials headed by Contest Board Secretary James N. Lamb, watched the race which began in secrecy Thursday.

The same AAA men chose the Chrysler from a stock production line, supervised its test run from Detroit to Indianapolis and clocked it throughout its run around the 2½ mile race track.

The "New Yorker" model car hit speeds in excess of 128 miles an hour in the straight away and averaged 97 mph for some laps.

The Stevens Trophy was donated by Samuel Stevens, Rome, N. Y., sportsman and auto enthusiast. Only three companies have held it before today—Stutz, Marmon and Cord.

Valley at Beall
Bruce at Flintstone

LONACONING, Oct. 30—Valley High School's Black Knights tightened their grip on first place in the W.M.I. Soccer League by defeating Flintstone High's Aggies in Barton today by the score of 2-0.

The triumph was the fifth against one loss and one tie for Coach John Meyers' eleven and increased its lead over Flintstone to three points in the standings.

Valley High could take it all by defeating Beall High School at Frostburg on Tuesday. That's the final game on the schedule for the Lonaconing team.

The race would end in a tie if Beall holds Valley even on Tuesday and Flintstone wins its last two games from Bruce and Mt. Savage. Flintstone could still cop the title if it wins two in a row while Valley is losing to Beall.

Richard Waddell's penalty goal and Randall Brown's field goal accounted for Valley's points in the second period. Brown took a pass from Dale Kitzmiller and his shot for the goal was in the air as the first half ended. It was his ninth point of the season and enabled him to increase his lead as the league's top scorer.

The contest attracted approximately 1,200 spectators, one of the largest crowds to witness a soccer contest at Barton.

Marquette Wins 7-6

BOSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Bob Girman, a hard-driving fullback replacement, raced 41 yards for a touchdown and, given a second try because of a penalty, Don Molenda, converted the point that gave Marquette a 7-6 victory over a hard fighting but luckless Boston University football team tonight on soggy Braves Field.

Davis Outpoints Araujo In Garden

Dull Fight Witnessed By Unimpressed Crowd

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Teddy (Red Top) Davis, always pursuing a fleeting target, won a unanimous decision over George Araujo tonight in a dull 10-rounder that drew frequent warnings from Referee Ruby Goldstein and boos from the small crowd at Madison Square Garden. Davis weighed 130½, Araujo 133½.

In round after round, Goldstein talked to the fighters saying, "Come on" and "You've got to fight." Once he told them "Come on, you're lousing up the Garden."

Araujo, a newlywed from Providence, making his first Garden start since he was knocked out by lightweight champ Jimmy Carter in a title bout, kept moving away from Davis all the time.

Davis, who had beaten Araujo Sept. 10 in Boston for the New England lightweight crown, was defending it for the first time. The 30-year-old Hartford, Conn., veteran of 100 previous fights pursued Araujo round after round, catching a sporadic counter fire.

Both judges Bert Grand and Joe Eppy scored the fight for Davis 6-4. Referee Goldstein had Davis on top 6-3-1. So did the AP card.

Takes Over Automobile Agency In Arkansas

Johnny Sain

Sain moved into a modest house in Walnut Ridge Tuesday and took over an established automobile agency. He said the business and his family of two small children would "keep me sufficiently occupied" so that he will not miss too much the excitement of the diamond.

Big Johnny, now 36, and with 16 years in the majors behind him, said:

"Naturally, I'll miss playing but I won't miss what you might call the off-field baseball — the long trips on the road and not being able to have a permanent home. I'll be glad to get away from that part of the game.

He said he "never really had any great desire" to be a manager, and stayed in baseball as long as he did because he liked the competition.

Sain explained:

"I've seen this coming, the time I would have to quit. Every year look like it might be the last. I had arm trouble in 1949, again in 1950 and 1951, and a little in 1952. During that time I've been looking for just the thing I've found here."

The big right-hander who had a major league percentage of .555 said he will satisfy his appetite for baseball by watching the games of Memphis in the Southern Association.

WESTMINSTER, Md., Oct. 30—Earl Grove and Stanley Teets scored touchdowns in the second and fourth quarters tonight to put Fort Hill High School's Sentinels of Cumberland back in the victory column with a 13 to 0 decision over Westminster High School's Owls.

It was the fifth win of the season for the visitors who had been defeated and tied in their last two outings.

Fort Hill scored its first touchdown when Earl Grove intercepted a pass on the 10 and ran it over in the second period.

The Sentinel marched 60 yards for their second score which was set up by a blocker punt on the Cumberland 40. Stanley Teets climaxed the march by carrying the leather over from the 11. Gene Weber made the extra point from placement.

Fort Hill reeled off 11 first downs, ten on rushing, to the Owls' four, one of which was the result of penalty. The winners amassed 202 yards in both departments.

Shuck, Kelly Goals Decide Soccer Game

Bobcats Post Fourth Straight Win; Play Grove City Tuesday

FROSTBURG, Oct. 30 — Frostburg State Teachers College extended its winning streak to four games today by beating the University of Pittsburgh soccer team by the score of 3-1 before the largest turnout of the season at State Teachers' Field.

Held to a 1-1 deadlock in the first half, Coach Kenneth Babcock's scored two field goals in the third period to bag the decision.

The victory was the fifth of the season against one loss and one tie for Frostburg which lowers the curtain on its season Tuesday by playing at Grove City College, Pa., at 2:30 p. m.

Ed Shuck put the Bobcats ahead after 50 seconds had elapsed in the first period by heading through a corner kick from Donnie Bell. Two minutes later Culane, Pitt center forward, knotted the count with a penalty goal.

Frostburg put the game on ice in the third stanza when Shuck registered on a head shot after getting an assist from Sam Layman and Tom Kelly booted one through the uprights with assistance from Bob Kirk.

Arnone and Morgan, Frostburg goalies, made five and one save, respectively, while Goalie Clark of the Panthers, was a busy man, handling a total of 16 chances at the uprights. The Bobcats had 20 corner kicks and a total of 33 shots while the Pennsylvanians had four corner kicks.

The game was a spirited one and was enlivened by several fist fights but no casualties were reported.

Green Terrors In Homecoming

Will Carry Unique Record Into Tilt

[By The Associated Press]

Navy is the only exception to homecoming around Maryland college campuses playing football today.

The Middies are out in South Bend to tackle undefeated Notre Dame while the five other state collegiate elevens perform for undergraduates and alumni.

Three Clubs Unbeaten

Three of the stay-at-homes, Maryland, Maryland State and Morgan, still are undefeated.

Maryland will wind up its Atlantic Coast Conference with South Carolina which is figured to be the seventh foe of the season to succumb.

Maryland State's sixth opponent is Shaw and Morgan's fifth is A&T College of Greensboro, N.C. Ed Hurt will be honored for his 25 years of coaching at the Morgan game.

Western Maryland has a real incentive to win over Penn Military College. It has never lost a homecoming football game.

Penn No Threat

It will have to perk up over the past two Saturdays to protect that record. Western Maryland was tied last week and lost the week before. Penn Military offers no real threat off its record, having won only one out of four.

Johns Hopkins engages Randolph Macon, a Mason Dixon conference foe. The Baltimoreans finally won a game last week and will be hard put to do it again. Randolph Macon has a record even all the way, two victories, two defeats and two ties.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(INS)—We are taking a little jaunt down to Merchantville, N. J., tomorrow to see the richest race every run anywhere.

This, of course, is the Garden State Stakes, a little number for two year olds with a gross value of more than $250,000 for the mile and a sixteenth journey.

The race has several fascinating features. First of all, it is an inaugural. Some of the greatest stakes have started off modestly and then built up over the years.

The Kentucky Derby inaugural, for instance, was worth only $2,850 to the winner and the Belmont was worth only $1,850. Both now carry $100,000 in added money.

But this new event starts with $100,000 added and its pre-race fees are beyond anything ever heard of before.

There were 757 original nominations at $35 for a total of $26,495. Some 539 owners thought it worth while to meet the next $100 payment which added $53,900 to the pool. And 236 hopefuls kicked in with another $250 for $59,000.

That's a grand total of $139,395. But that isn't all. To that we must add $1,500 each for every optimist who sends his horse to the post. And that, plus the $100,000 given by the track, puts it over the quarter million mark.

The winner's share may go as high as $175,000 and the second horse could drag down as much as $50,000. And that, you will admit, is a pretty fair pay day for less than two minutes of racing.

The winner, if it be Fisherman, Errard King or Pie King undoubtedly will be acknowledged not only as the best two year old in the country but also as world's champion, because the Irish-bred Pie King already has proven himself the best colt in Europe.

And should either Fisherman or Errard King win he will become the greatest winning two year old of all time. Hasty Road now holds that distinction with $240,946 to his credit. Native Dancer won $230,495 as a two year old.

Errard King has won $117,700 and Fisherman $123,075 this year and so you can readily figure either could top Hasty Road's mark. Citation, the only horse to win more than a million dollars, made only $155,680 as a two year old.

Purses have increased tremendously in the last 30 years and we wonder where it will go before the public starts yelling about huge sums for horses oats and not enough for babies' milk.

As a two year old the immortal Man O' War won eight great stakes, including the Belmont Futurity, but his total earnings were only $83,325 or about half of what the winner will get tomorrow.

And at three, Man O' War won eight great stakes and two handicaps but only $166,140 and half of that came from his winning match race with the four year old king, Sir Barton.

Hampden-Sydney Coach, Players Hurt In Crash

BRISTOL, Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—Two Hampden-Sydney College football players and their coach were among eight persons injured today when a crack streamliner bulldozed into a freight train near Bristol.

None of the eight was considered in serious condition and at least three of them were released from a Bristol hospital after examination. There were reports that three other passengers also were injured, but not sufficiently to require hospitalization.

Bound For Tennessee

The Hampden-Sydney football team—bound for Sewanee, Tenn., for a football game tomorrow—was riding in the last car of the Southern Railway streamliner headed west when it smashed into the rear of a freight train heading in the same direction on the same track.

Hampden-Sydney Coach James Hickey, 33, was in mild shock and suffered lacerations of the face.

The two players were Alton Bryant, 21, of Richmond, and Jimmy Stokes, 21, of Kenbridge. Both suffered lacerations, presumably from flying debris.

Fire Destroys Caboose

Edgar W. Vance, a resident of the area, said the streamliner's engine ended up on a freight car with the caboose on top the engine. The caboose was destroyed by fire.

Unbeaten Grid Powers Tackle Dangerous Foes

Terps, West Virginia, Notre Dame Favored

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The season of the "suicide schedule" reaches the end-of-October turning point tomorrow with only half of the first-ten ranking teams still on the unbeaten list. And those five—one already tied—will be taking some grave risks.

Tomorrow the unbeaten first five — Notre Dame, Maryland, Baylor, Illinois and West Virginia —all figure to win their games. But they'll have to be good to win easily.

Notre Dame with a firm grip on the No. 1 ranking, takes on always-dangerous Navy.

Middies Fired Up

Navy, even after last week's setback by Pennsylvania, held 20th place in the rankings and there are indications the midshipmen lost because they were looking a week ahead toward the Fighting Irish. They're bound to be fired up for this game, but so is Notre Dame whose coach, Frank Leahy, collapsed between halves of last Satuday's struggle with Georgia Tech and will have to watch this game by television from his Long Beach, Ind. home.

South Carolina seems to be overmatched in taking on Maryland, second-ranked team which apparently hasn't had a real test this fall.

Third-ranked Baylor, Southwest Conference leader, meets last-place Texas Christian. Nothing can be taken for granted in that rugged conference.

Once-tied Illinois, now the only unbeaten team in the Big Ten, faces upset-minded Purdue.

Mountaineers Face Task

Fifth-rated West Virginia, of almost-unknown strength, plays Penn State. Since beating Pittsburgh, the Mountaineers have had an easy time, but they never have beaten Pitt and Penn State, their two traditional rivals in the same season. And they have won only once at State College, Pa.

Michigan State (No. 6) meets Oregon State; Southern California (7) plays Oregon, Georgia Tech (8) faces Vanderbilt, Oklahoma (9) battles surprising Kansas State for the big seven lead and a probable Orange Bowl bid and UCLA (10) tackles California.

The nationally televised game of the week brings together Minnesota, which handed Michigan a 22-0 surprise last week, and Pittsburgh.

Other Leading Games

The original "suicide" program takes Penn to Ann Arbor, Mich., to play Michigan, which still is in the top 20. Other stickout intersectional games include Army (No. 15) vs. Tulane, Rice (12) vs. Kentucky (19), Texas Tech vs. Mississippi State and Miami (Fla.) vs. Fordham.

Elsewhere the leading games include: Richmond-Boston College, Tennessee-North Carolina, Wake Forest-Clemson, Duke-Virginia and William and Mary-North Carolina State.

Little Canadians Win 7th Straight In Touch Circuit

The Little Canadians rolled to their seventh consecutive victory in the Junior High School Division of the City Recreation Touch Football League by swamping the Little Sentinels Thursday at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 66-6.

Bender and Markley with three touchdowns each and Duckworth and Evans with two apiece led the unbeaten eleven's attack.

The Rolling Mill trimmed East Side at Constitution Park by the score of 32-0. B. Schell and W. Young shared four of the winners' TDs. The results:

Detroit Lions To Battle Rams For 1st Place

Eagles Face Steelers, Colts Play Tonight

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Detroit Lions, champions of the National Football League last year meet the Los Angeles Rams Sunday at Los Angeles in a game that may very well decide the title in the loop's Western Conference.

Detroit and Los Angeles are tied, each with four victories and one defeat.

Detroit's only loss was to Los Angeles in a game at the motor city Oct. 18. Norm Van Brocklin and his Rams thumped the Lions that time, 31-19. The San Francisco 49ers are the only team to defeat Los Angeles, as they edged out a 31-30 verdict Oct. 4.

In the Eastern Conference, the Cleveland Browns — unbeaten in five games — entertain the Washington Redskins Sunday at Cleveland. The Browns will be favored to make it six in a row over a Redskin team that has won two games, lost two with one tie.

The Browns, who appear to be as strong as their championship teams of other years, defeated Washington earlier in the season, 30-14.

The surprising Baltimore Colts have a chance to gain revenge in a night game Saturday at Baltimore when they meet the Green Bay Packers. Two weeks ago, the Colts were favored at Green Bay, but the Packers upset the Marylanders, 37-14. Baltimore has won three of five games, Green Bay has one victory and four defeats.

There are three other Sunday afternoon games, the Chicago Bears at San Francisco, the New York Giants at Chicago Cardinals, and the Philadelphia Eagles at Pittsburgh against the Steelers.

Pittsburgh, second in the Eastern Conference with three wins against two defeats, couldn't handle the Eagles the last time. In their first meeting this fall, Philadelphia won, 23-7.

The Giants-Cardinals game is a battle for the cellar in the Eastern Division. New York, having one of its worst seasons in several years, has won only one game in five. Likewise the Cardinals, who have lost all five of their games to date. New York beat the Cards 21-7, for the only Giant victory this fall.

The Chicago Bears, also suffering along with one victory in five games, don't appear to have enough power to stop the 49ers at San Francisco. The 49ers defeated the Bears at Chicago two weeks ago, in a 35-28 battle.

Beall High School's Mountaineers and Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks will meet today at Frostburg in the fourth game of their football series.

The game is scheduled for 2 p. m., and the officials will be John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, Hubert Feeney and William "Bee" Orndorff.

Coach Ray Hull's Mountaineers crashed the win column for the first time last week when they walloped the Charles Town Panthers, 33-6, after dropping four in a row. Chester Payne's Hawks won their first three starts then dropped four in a row in which the opposition has rolled up a total of 135 points.

The Ridgeley-Beall series was launched in 1950 and the West Virginians have yet to win a game from the Mountain City eleven. Beall won in 1950 by the score of 28-6, took the 1951 game to the tune of 14-0 and romped off with a 39-0 triumph last year.

VPI Outclasses Citadel Bulldogs In Dull Contest

By ROBERT MOORE

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 30 (AP) — Virginia Tech's Gobblers, combining air and ground power, easily outclassed the Citadel's Bulldogs here tonight, 22-0, in a dull Southern Conference football game witnessed by a slim crowd of 3,000.

Halfback Billy Anderson, Tech's fastest back, provided much of the offensive fireworks. The little 145-pound speedster from Marion, Va., scored two touchdowns, one on a nine-yard end run midway in the first period and the other on a nine-yard streak straight up the middle in the third.

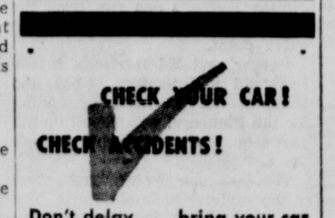

Tech's other touchdown came in the second when only half a minute remained. Quarterback Johnny Dean faded far back to pass, hit sophomore end Roger Simmons on the run down on the Citadel 30. Simmons raced on to the goal without a Bulldog touching him. The play covered 55 yards.

A few moments earlier, the Gobblers marched 68 yards before the drive stalled on the 14. From that point, halfback Dickie Beard booted a field goal from a slight angle.

Navy's highest football score was 127-0 drubbing of Ursinus in 1918. Their biggest loss was a 54-0 walloping by Michigan in 1925.

Semler, Ramey To Direct State Cage, Track Meets

District Games Set At Fort Hill; Finals Go To College Park

Edwin Semler, of Hagerstown, supervisor of physical education for Washington County schools, has been named state chairman of the 1954 Maryland scholastic basketball tournament, the semi-finals and finals of which will be staged in Ritchie Coliseum at the University of Maryland, College Park, Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13.

Semler is well known throughout the state, having served as director of athletics at Hagerstown High School and coach of the football, baseball and basketball teams at that school for many years.

Other members of the committee from the five districts of the state are:

No. 1 — Arthur G. Ramey, Frostburg, supervisor of physical education for Allegany County.

No. 2 — Charles Hudson, Suitland.

No. 3 — Stephen Lerda, Manchester.

No. 4 — W. J. Stenger, Chestertown.

No. 5 — George Carrington, Crisfield.

August (Augie) Eichhorn, coach at Bruce High School, whose team won the state Class B championship in March, has been appointed chairman of the Board of Control for District No. 1, which comprises Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick Counties. Donald "Lefty" Lee, coach at Hancock High School, is secretary of the board.

Fort Hill Is Selected

Fort Hill High School's gymnasium has been selected as the site for the District No. 1 tournament to be held Friday and Saturday, March 5 and 6.

As a result of the consolidation of Barton and Central high schools into Valley High of Lonaconing there will be no class C school representing Allegany County in the state tourney. Valley will compete in Class B. Barton won Maryland Class C honors last season. Only Class A and B schools will vie in the two-day tourney at Fort Hill. District tournaments will be conducted on the same dates throughout the state.

All county champions must be determined by Friday, February 26.

Principals and coaches of all schools that qualify for district tournaments will meet at Hancock, Saturday, February 20 at 9:30 a.m. to arrange details.

Ramey To Direct Meet

The State Board of Control also announces the appointment of Arthur G. Ramey as director of the state track and field meet for the seventh consecutive year.

This meet for Class A, B and C schools will be held at the University of Maryland stadium for the second straight year on Saturday, May 22. Prior to 1953 the meets were held at Dundalk and McDonogh School. Towson, Centerville and Washington High of Queen Anne's County were the 1953 winners.

The state girls' volley ball tournament to determine A, B and C championships also will be held at College Park on Saturday, May 22. Fort Hill's girls won the A crown this year.

Maryland Wins, 6-5

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 30 (AP) — Jose Hagedorn banged a goal into the right corner of the net in the second overtime period today to gain Maryland a 6-5 soccer victory over Navy.

The Millrose A. A. track and field meet will be held in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 6.

Unbeaten Terps Play Gamecocks

Carolinians Rated 5th In Nation Defensively

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—The football scoring prowess of Maryland and South Carolina runs into each other's equally respectable defenses tomorrow afternoon.

The undefeated and second ranking Marylanders have scored in their last 46 games. South Carolina has scored in 32 straight.

South Carolina is fifth in the nation's defense with 183.4 yards and Maryland is seventh. Maryland has given up only three touchdowns to six opponents, however, while South Carolina has yielded twice as many to five.

The only team able to stay with Coach Jim Tatum's Marylanders after the first half was Missouri which succumbed 20-6 in the opener.

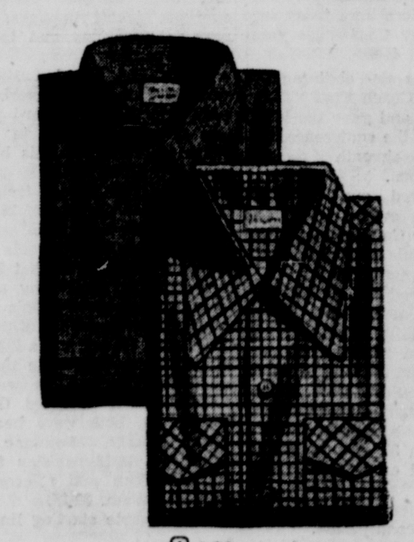

South Carolina has won its last four games after losing to Duke, 20-7, in its opener.

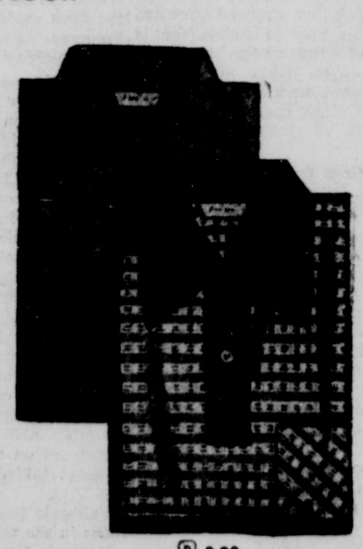

South Carolina's big punch is thrown by Quarterback Johnny Gramling who leads the Atlantic Coast Conference in passing with 31 out of 58 for 501 yards.

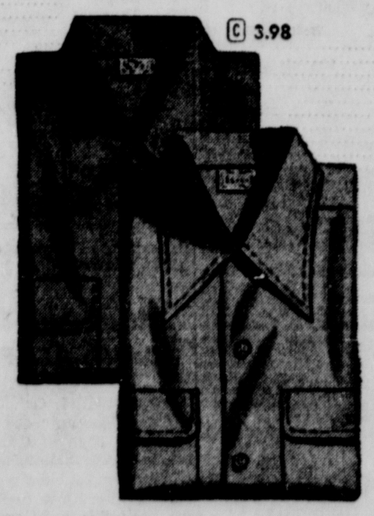

But the slick Maryland quarterback, Bernie Faloney, is no slouch in passing when he has to go to the air which isn't often. Faloney has completed 22 of 47 for four touchdowns, one more than Gramling.

Shuck, Kelly Goals Decide Soccer Game

FROSTBURG, Oct. 30 — Frostburg State Teachers College extended its winning streak to four games today by beating the University of Pittsburgh soccer team by the score of 3-1 before the largest turnout of the season at State Teachers' Field.

Held to a 1-1 deadlock in the first half, Coach Kenneth Babcock's scored two field goals in the third period to bag the decision.

"he victory was the fifth of the season against one loss and one tie for Frostburg which lowers the curtain on its season Tuesday by playing at Grove City College, Pa., at 2:30 p. m.

Ed Shuck put the Bobcats ahead after 50 seconds had elapsed in the first period by heading through a corner kick from Donnie Bell. Two minutes later Culane, Pitt center forward, knotted the count with a penalty goal.

Frostburg put the game on ice in the third stanza when Shuck registered on a head shot after getting an assist from Sam Layman and Tom Kelly booted one through the uprights with assistance from Bob Kirk.

Arnone and Morgan, Frostburg goalies, made five and one save, respectively, while Goalie Clark of the Panthers, was a busy man, handling a total of 16 chances at the uprights. The Bobcats had 20 corner kicks and a total of 33 shots while the Pennsylvanians had four corner kicks.

The game was a spirited one and was enlivened by several fist fights but no casualties were reported.

Green Terrors In Homecoming

Will Carry Unique Record Into Tilt

[By The Associated Press]

Navy is the only exception to homecoming around Maryland college campuses playing football today.

The Middies are out in South Bend to tackle undefeated Notre Dame while the five other state collegiate elevens perform for undergraduates and alumni.

Three Clubs Unbeaten

Three of the stay-at-homes, Maryland, Maryland State and Morgan, still are undefeated.

Maryland will wind up its Atlantic Coast Conference with South Carolina which is figured to be the seventh foe of the season to succumb.

Maryland State's sixth opponent is Shaw and Morgan's fifth is A&T College of Greensboro, N.C. Ed Hurt will be honored for his 25 years of coaching at the Morgan game.

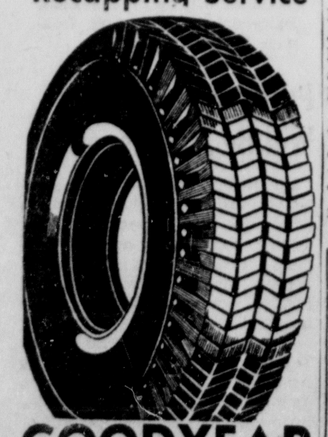

Western Maryland has a real incentive to win over Penn Military College. It has never lost a homecoming football game.

Penn No Threat

It will have to perk up over the past two Saturdays to protect that record. Western Maryland was tied last week and lost the week before. Penn Military offers no real threat off its record, having won only one out of four.

Johns Hopkins engages Randolph Macon, a Mason Dixon conference foe. The Baltimoreans finally won a game last week and will be hard put to do it again. Randolph Macon has a record even all the way, two victories, two defeats and two ties.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(INS)—We are taking a little jaunt down to Merchantville, N. J., tomorrow to see the richest race every run anywhere.

This, of course, is the Garden State Stakes, a little number for two year olds with a gross value of more than $250,000 for the mile and a sixteenth journey.

The race has several fascinating features. First of all, it is an inaugural. Some of the greatest stakes have started off modestly and then built up over the years.

The Kentucky Derby inaugural, for instance, was worth only $2,850 to the winner and the Belmont was worth only $1,850. Both now carry $100,000 in added money.

But this new event starts with $100,000 added and its pre-race fees are beyond anything ever heard of before.

There were 757 original nominations at $35 for a total of $26,495. Some 539 owners thought it worth while to meet the next $100 payment which added $53,900 to the pool. And 236 hopefuls kicked in with another $250 for $59,000.

That's a grand total of $139,395. But that isn't all. To that we must add $1,500 each for every optimist who sends his horse to the post. And that, plus the $100,000 given by the track, puts it over the quarter million mark.

The winner's share may go as high as $175,000 and the second horse could drag down as much as $50,000. And that, you will admit, is a pretty fair pay day for less than two minutes of racing.

The winner, if it be Fisherman, Errard King or Pie King undoubtedly will be acknowledged not only as the best two year old in the country but also as world's champion, because the Irish-bred Pie King already has proven himself the best colt in Europe.

And should either Fisherman or Errard King win he will become the greatest winning two year old of all time. Hasty Road now holds that distinction with $240,946 to his credit. Native Dancer won $230,495 as a two year old.

Errard King has won $117,700 and Fisherman $123,075 this year and so you can readily figure either could top Hasty Road's mark. Citation, the only horse to win more than a million dollars, made only $155,680 as a two year old.

Purses have increased tremendously in the last 30 years and we wonder where it will go before the public starts yelling about huge sums for horses oats and not enough for babies' milk.

As a two year old the immortal Man O' War won eight great stakes, including the Belmont Futurity, but his total earnings were only $83,325 or about half of what the winner will get tomorrow.

And at three, Man O' War won eight great stakes and two handicaps but only $166,140 and half of that came from his winning match race with the four year old king, Sir Barton.

Beall High School's Mountaineers and Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks will meet today at Frostburg in the fourth game of their football series.

The game is scheduled for 2 p. m., and the officials will be John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, Hubert Feeney and William "Bee" Orndorff.

Coach Ray Hull's Mountaineers crashed the win column for the first time last week when they walloped the Charles Town Panthers, 33-6, after dropping four in a row. Chester Payne's Hawks won their first three starts then dropped four in a row in which the opposition has rolled up a total of 135 points.

The Ridgeley-Beall series was launched in 1950 and the West Virginians have yet to win a game from the Mountain City eleven. Beall won in 1950 by the score of 28-6, took the 1951 game to the tune of 14-0 and romped off with a 39-0 triumph last year.

VPI Outclasses Citadel Bulldogs In Dull Contest

By ROBERT MOORE

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 30 (AP) — Virginia Tech's Gobblers, combining air and ground power, easily outclassed the Citadel's Bulldogs here tonight, 22-0, in a dull Southern Conference football game witnessed by a slim crowd of 3,000.

Halfback Billy Anderson, Tech's fastest back, provided much of the offensive fireworks. The little 145-pound speedster from Marion, Va., scored two touchdowns, one on a nine-yard end run midway in the first period and the other on a nine-yard streak straight up the middle in the third.

Tech's other touchdown came in the second when only half a minute remained. Quarterback Johnny Dean faded far back to pass, hit sophomore end Roger Simmons on the run down on the Citadel 30. Simmons raced on to the goal without a Bulldog touching him. The play covered 55 yards.

A few moments earlier, the Gobblers marched 68 yards before the drive stalled on the 14. From that point, halfback Dickie Beard booted a field goal from a slight angle.

Navy's highest football score was 127-0 drubbing of Ursinus in 1918. Their biggest loss was a 54-0 walloping by Michigan in 1925.

Semler, Ramey To Direct State Cage, Track Meets

Edwin Semler, of Hagerstown, supervisor of physical education for Washington County schools, has been named state chairman of the 1954 Maryland scholastic basketball tournament, the semi-finals and finals of which will be staged in Ritchie Coliseum at the University of Maryland, College Park, Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13.

Semler is well known throughout the state, having served as director of athletics at Hagerstown High School and coach of the football, baseball and basketball teams at that school for many years.

Other members of the committee from the five districts of the state are:

No. 1 — Arthur G. Ramey, Frostburg, supervisor of physical education for Allegany County.

No. 2 — Charles Hudson, Suitland.

No. 3 — Stephen Lerda, Manchester.

No. 4 — W. J. Stenger, Chestertown.

No. 5 — George Carrington, Crisfield.

August (Augie) Eichhorn, coach at Bruce High School, whose team won the state Class B championship in March, has been appointed chairman of the Board of Control for District No. 1, which comprises Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick Counties. Donald "Lefty" Lee, coach at Hancock High School, is secretary of the board.

Fort Hill Is Selected

Fort Hill High School's gymnasium has been selected as the site for the District No. 1 tournament to be held Friday and Saturday, March 5 and 6.

As a result of the consolidation of Barton and Central high schools into Valley High of Lonaconing there will be no class C school representing Allegany County in the state tourney. Valley will compete in Class B. Barton won Maryland Class C honors last season. Only Class A and B schools will vie in the two-day tourney at Fort Hill. District tournaments will be conducted on the same dates throughout the state.

All county champions must be determined by Friday, February 26.

Principals and coaches of all schools that qualify for district tournaments will meet at Hancock, Saturday, February 20 at 9:30 a.m. to arrange details.

Ramey To Direct Meet

The State Board of Control also announces the appointment of Arthur G. Ramey as director of the state track and field meet for the seventh consecutive year.

This meet for Class A, B and C schools will be held at the University of Maryland stadium for the second straight year on Saturday, May 22. Prior to 1953 the meets were held at Dundalk and McDonogh School. Towson, Centerville and Washington High of Queen Anne's County were the 1953 winners.

The state girls' volley ball tournament to determine A, B and C championships also will be held at College Park on Saturday, May 22. Fort Hill's girls won the A crown this year.

Maryland Wins, 6-5

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 30 (AP) — Jose Hagedorn banged a goal into the right corner of the net in the second overtime period today to gain Maryland a 6-5 soccer victory over Navy.

The Millrose A. A. track and field meet will be held in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 6.

Carolinians Rated 5th In Nation Defensively

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—The football scoring prowess of Maryland and South Carolina runs into each other's equally respectable defenses tomorrow afternoon.

The undefeated and second ranking Marylanders have scored in their last 46 games. South Carolina has scored in 32 straight.

South Carolina is fifth in the nation's defense with 183.4 yards and Maryland is seventh. Maryland has given up only three touchdowns to six opponents, however, while South Carolina has yielded twice as many to five.

The only team able to stay with Coach Jim Tatum's Marylanders after the first half was Missouri which succumbed 20-6 in the opener.

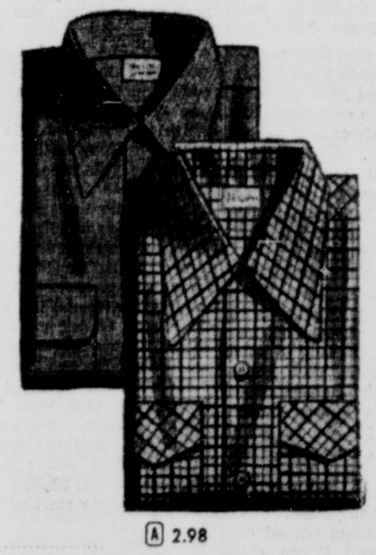

South Carolina has won its last four games after losing to Duke, 20-7, in its opener.

South Carolina's big punch is thrown by Quarterback Johnny Gramling who leads the Atlantic Coast Conference in passing with 31 out of 58 for 501 yards.

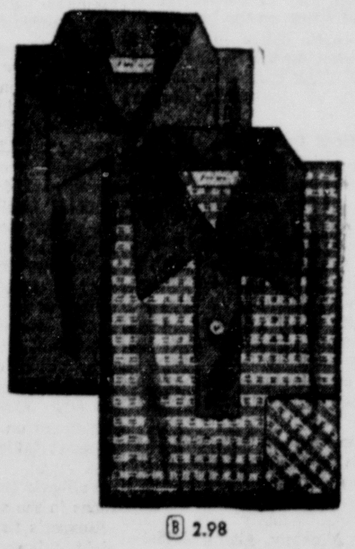

But the slick Maryland quarterback, Bernie Faloney, is no slouch in passing when he has to go to the air which isn't often. Faloney has completed 22 of 47 for four touchdowns, one more than Gramling.

World's Richest Race Set Today In New Jersey

Twenty May Start At Garden State

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 30 (AP)—The Garden State Stakes, world's richest horse race, shaped up today with 20 starters in a dash for cash totalling $269,395.

If all 20 of the 2-year-old colts go postward at 4 p.m., EST. the winner will collect a record $151,282.25 for the mile and one sixteenth gallop.

Fisherman, owned by C. V. (Sonny) Whitney, is the probable favorite in the large field in view of his record of four stakes victories in New York.

After looking at the entries, the odds-makers listed him as the 5 to 2 choice. Second choice at 3 to 1 is Errard King, owned by Joe Gavegnano, with the California invader, Correlation, owned by R. S. Lytle, next at 5 to 1.

One big name horse from abroad will be missing. The Pie King, Irish-bred juvenile champion of England was withdrawn this morning when it was discovered he had a cracked heel. The Pie King ran away yesterday, tossed his rider and jumped a fence. He ran about a quarter of a mile on hard pavement.

Terp Harriers Win

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Maryland's cross country team crossed the finish line in eight of the first 10 positions today to hand Duke's harriers their first setback in three starts, 16-51.

Ben Good of Maryland led the winners around the four-mile course in 19 minutes 51 seconds. Fellow Terps finished behind him in second, third and fourth.

Duke took fifth and 10th place. While Maryland's varsity was winning its second meet against two losses, the Maryland freshmen outran Duke's frosh team, 15-52.

Lonaconing Lions Plan Ladies Night

LONACONING—Lonaconing Rotary club members have been invited to the Ladies Night of the Lonaconing Lions club to be held on Monday at the Pythian Sisters hall.

Robert D. Peebles, president, gave the highlights of the Rotary district convention held October 25 to October 27 attended by a number of Lonaconing Rotarians; and two Valley Senior students, Joe Hadley and Kenny Logsdon, at the Citizens of Tomorrow conference.

A motion was passed that the Lonaconing Rotary club would join with the Lions club in the donating of a United States and Maryland flags and flag staffs for Valley High school.

Elks To Hold Dance Tonight

Roy Lester coach of Allegany High School; and Norman Geatz, coach at LaSalle will be guests of the Social Sessions committee.

An open house will be held at 9 o'clock with dancing beginning at 9:30 with music by Henry Harold, His Drums and Band. It is for members and their invited guests.

Jr. Extension Postpones Meeting Until Nov. 11

The date of the November meeting of the Junior Extension 4-H Club has been changed to permit members to attend the Farm Bureau banquet, Wednesday.

William Lemmert is to be the guest speaker at the club meeting, which is being held November 11 at 8 p. m., in the extension office.

Auxiliary Plans Bazaar

Final plans for a bazaar and turkey supper were made at the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Fire Company. It is being held November 18, with supper served from 5 until 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Emma Youngblood and Mrs. Josephine Ritchie are co-chairmen for the bazaar; Mrs. Elda Shell, Kitchen chairman; and Mrs. Flo Alexander, in charge of serving the supper.

Vultures will eat meat so decomposed that no other animal or bird will touch it.

To Represent School

LONACONING — William Patton and Shirley Chappell were chosen by their senior classmates to represent Valley High School at the Archives dance at Bruce High School Friday evening at Westernport.

Although the boomerang generally is associated with Australia, it originated in Egypt.

Deaths

VAUSE FOX ALKIRE

KEYSER—Vause Fox Alkire, 85, former resident of Keyser and Burlington, died yesterday morning in Memorial Hospital, Winchester.

A son of the late Nimrod and Mary (Fox) Alkire, he was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Jennie (McNeill) Alkire and daughter, Mrs. Helen (Alkire) Williams.

Survivors include a son, Edward Alkire, Martinsburg; a daughter, Miss Virginia Alkire, Baltimore, and a brother, Charles Alkire, also of Baltimore.

The body will be brought to the Markwood Funeral Home here on Saturday at 2 p. m.

Services will be conducted on Monday at 2 p. m., at the Keyser Presbyterian Church by Rev. Dr. John D. MacLeod, pastor, and Rev. Ben Reed, Burlington. Burial will be in the Queens Point Cemetery.

The family requests that flowers be omitted.

MRS. ELLIE F. LEWIS

KEYSER — Mrs. Ellie Florence Lewis, 77, of 71 A Street, widow of Russell H. Lewis, died Thursday at Potomac Valley Hospital. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Pickens, McCoole.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews. The body is at the Markwood Funeral Home where it will remain until 1:30 p. m. tomorrow when it will be taken to the Grace Methodist Church for services at 2:30 p. m. Rev. W. Cecil Shepherd, pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Queens Point Cemetery.

HUGH J. KIGHT

A native of New Creek, he was a son of the late H. J. and Nan C. Kight.

Besides his sister, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen (Shaffer) Kight; a daughter, Mrs. D. V. Estep, St. Albans, W. Va.; two sons, Kenneth R. Kight, Harve de Grace, Md., and Hugh J. Kight Jr., of Kentucky, and six grandchildren.

The body will be taken to Queen's Point Cemetery in Keyser tomorrow where graveside services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m.

MRS. CHESTER H. NUNAMAKER

SCHELLSBURG, Pa.—Mrs. Cora E. Nunamaker, 65, a registered nurse, wife of Chester H. Nunamaker, died yesterday about 5 a. m. at her home near here.

She had been in ill health since May. Mrs. Nunamaker was born March 14, 1888 and was a daughter of the late William and Mary Deaner) Fisher.

She graduated from the Western Maryland Hospital School of Nursing at Cumberland in 1924. Surviving are her husband, three stepchildren, Mrs. Harry Holderbaum, Bedford, Mrs. Leroy Mingle, G. Wilmer Nunamaker, Cumberland.

Two sisters, Mrs. Phoebe Wilfong, Bedford; Mrs. Russell Winegardner, here; a brother, George Fisher, of near here and six grandchildren.

The body will be at the residence after 2 p. m. today, and will be taken to the Reformer Church, Fishertown, tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. for a service at 3 p. m. with Rev. Robert Berkebile, officiating.

Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Appearing On TV Tomorrow

Downey Price, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price, Klosterman's Addition is appearing on an amateur hour tomorrow on channel 2 WDTV, Pittsburgh. He can be seen on Cable 2, at 6 o'clock.

An eighth grade student at Allegany High School, Downey won a prize doing the "Chicken Song," on the same program last year. Tomorrow he will play and sing, "I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded." Last week Downey won the first prize in the high school talent contest, at Mt. Savage High School; and one in 1950 when he appeared on the Paul Whiteman show.

Keyser Man Is Paroled

Judge Ernest A. See cleared a number of cases from the docket of the Mineral County (W. Va.) Circuit Court, Keyser, yesterday.

William F. Grey, who was indicted by the grand jury for beating his wife and resisting arrest, was sentenced on both counts, along with two appeal cases of being drunk.

The court sentenced Grey to pay a $60 fine and costs on the two appeal cases within a 30-day period. The court then ordered him to pay $100 and costs and sentenced him to a year in jail on the resisting charge and from one to ten years in jail for beating his wife. He was placed on parole for four years and warned to refrain from intoxicants during that period

Judge See ordered Grey to pay the $100 fine and costs within 120 days.

No jury trials will be held until Wednesday, when two cases will be heard.

World's Richest Race Set Today In New Jersey

Twenty May Start At Garden State

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 30 (AP)—The Garden State Stakes, world's richest horse race, shaped up today with 20 starters in a dash for cash totalling $269,395.

If all 20 of the 2-year-old colts go postward at 4 p.m., EST, the winner will collect a record $151,282.25 for the mile and one sixteenth gallop.

Fisherman, owned by C. V. (Sonny) Whitney, is the probable favorite in the large field in view of his record of four stakes victories in New York.

After looking at the entries, the odds-makers listed him as the 5 to 2 choice. Second choice at 3 to 1 is Errard King, owned by Joe Gavegnano, with the California invader, Correlation, owned by R. S. Lytle, next at 5 to 1.

One big name horse from abroad will be missing. The Pie King, Irish-bred juvenile champion of England was withdrawn this morning when it was discovered he had a cracked heel. The Pie King ran away yesterday, tossed his rider and jumped a fence. He ran about a quarter of a mile on hard pavement.

Terp Harriers Win

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Maryland's cross country team crossed the finish line in eight of the first 10 positions today to hand Duke's harriers their first setback in three starts, 16-51.

Ben Good of Maryland led the winners around the four-mile course in 19 minutes 51 seconds. Fellow Terps finished behind him in second, third and fourth.

Duke took fifth and 10th place. While Maryland's varsity was winning its second meet against two losses, the Maryland freshmen outran Duke's frosh team, 15-52.

To Represent School

LONACONING — William Patton and Shirley Chappell were chosen by their senior classmates to represent Valley High School at the Archives dance at Bruce High School Friday evening at Westernport.

Although the boomerang generally is associated with Australia, it originated in Egypt.

Lonaconing Lions Plan Ladies Night

LONACONING—Lonaconing Rotary club members have been invited to the Ladies Night of the Lonaconing Lions club to be held on Monday at the Pythian Sisters hall.

Robert D. Peebles, president, gave the highlights of the Rotary district convention held October 25 to October 27 attended by a number of Lonaconing Rotarians; and two Valley Senior students, Joe Hadley and Kenny Logsdon, at the Citizens of Tomorrow conference.

A motion was passed that the Lonaconing Rotary club would join with the Lions club in the donating of a United States and Maryland flags and flag staffs for Valley High school.

Elks To Hold Dance Tonight

Roy Lester coach of Allegany High School; and Norman Geatz, coach at LaSalle will be guests of the Social Sessions committee.

An open house will be held at 9 o'clock with dancing beginning at 9:30 with music by Henry Harold, His Drums and Band. It is for members and their invited guests.

Jr. Extension Postpones Meeting Until Nov. 11

The date of the November meeting of the Junior Extension 4-H Club has been changed to permit members to attend the Farm Bureau banquet, Wednesday.

William Lemmert is to be the guest speaker at the club meeting, which is being held November 11 at 8 p. m., in the extension office.

Auxiliary Plans Bazaar

Final plans for a bazaar and turkey supper were made at the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Fire Company. It is being held November 18, with supper served from 5 until 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Emma Youngblood and Mrs. Josephine Ritchie are co-chairmen for the bazaar; Mrs. Elda Shell, Kitchen chairman; and Mrs. Flo Alexander, in charge of serving the supper.

Vultures will eat meat so decomposed that no other animal or bird will touch it.

Deaths

VAUSE FOX ALKIRE

KEYSER—Vause Fox Alkire, 85, former resident of Keyser and Burlington, died yesterday morning in Memorial Hospital, Winchester.

A son of the late Nimrod and Mary (Fox) Alkire, he was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Jennie (McNeill) Alkire and daughter, Mrs. Helen (Alkire) Williams.

Survivors include a son, Edward Alkire, Martinsburg; a daughter, Miss Virginia Alkire, Baltimore, and a brother, Charles Alkire, also of Baltimore.

The body will be brought to the Markwood Funeral Home here on Saturday at 2 p. m.

Services will be conducted on Monday at 2 p. m., at the Keyser Presbyterian Church by Rev. Dr. John D. MacLeod, pastor, and Rev. Ben Reed, Burlington. Burial will be in the Queens Point Cemetery.

The family requests that flowers be omitted.

MRS. ELLIE F. LEWIS

KEYSER — Mrs. Ellie Florence Lewis, 77, of 71 A Street, widow of Russell H. Lewis, died Thursday at Potomac Valley Hospital. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Pickens, McCoole.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews. The body is at the Markwood Funeral Home where it will remain until 1:30 p. m. tomorrow when it will be taken to the Grace Methodist Church for services at 2:30 p. m. Rev. W. Cecil Shepherd, pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Queens Point Cemetery.

HUGH J. KIGHT

A native of New Creek, he was a son of the late H. J. and Nan C. Kight.

Besides his sister, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen (Shaffer) Kight; a daughter, Mrs. D. V. Estep, St. Albans, W. Va.; two sons, Kenneth R. Kight, Harve de Grace, Md., and Hugh J. Kight Jr., of Kentucky, and six grandchildren.

The body will be taken to Queen's Point Cemetery in Keyser tomorrow where graveside services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m.

MRS. CHESTER H. NUNAMAKER

SCHELLSBURG, Pa.—Mrs. Cora E. Nunamaker, 65, a registered nurse, wife of Chester H. Nunamaker, died yesterday about 5 a. m. at her home near here.

She had been in ill health since May. Mrs. Nunamaker was born March 14, 1888 and was a daughter of the late William and Mary (Deaner) Fisher.

She graduated from the Western Maryland Hospital School of Nursing at Cumberland in 1924. Surviving are her husband, three stepchildren, Mrs. Harry Holderbaum, Bedford, Mrs. Leroy Mingle, G. Wilmer Nunamaker, Cumberland.

Two sisters, Mrs. Phoebe Wilfong, Bedford; Mrs. Russell Winegardner, here; a brother, George Fisher, of near here and six grandchildren.

The body will be at the residence after 2 p. m. today, and will be taken to the Reformer Church, Fishertown, tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. for a service at 3 p. m. with Rev. Robert Berkebile, officiating.

Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Appearing On TV Tomorrow

Downey Price, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price, Klosterman's Addition is appearing on an amateur hour tomorrow on channel 2 WDTV, Pittsburgh. He can be seen on Cable 2, at 6 o'clock.

An eighth grade student at Allegany High School, Downey won a prize doing the "Chicken Song," on the same program last year. Tomorrow he will play and sing, "I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded." Last week Downey won the first prize in the high school talent contest, at Mt. Savage High School; and one in 1950 when he appeared on the Paul Whiteman show.

Keyser Man Is Paroled

Judge Ernest A. See cleared a number of cases from the docket of the Mineral County (W. Va.) Circuit Court, Keyser, yesterday.

William F. Grey, who was indicted by the grand jury for beating his wife and resisting arrest, was sentenced on both counts, along with two appeal cases of being drunk.

The court sentenced Grey to pay a $60 fine and costs on the two appeal cases within a 30-day period. The court then ordered him to pay $100 and costs and sentenced him to a year in jail on the resisting charge and from one to ten years in jail for beating his wife. He was placed on parole for four years and warned to refrain from intoxicants during that period

Judge See ordered Grey to pay the $100 fine and costs within 120 days.

No jury trials will be held until Wednesday, when two cases will be heard.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30 (INS)—The Andrews sisters, all three of them, Maxine, La Verne and Patti, walked into my dressing room, while I was under the hair dryer. We turned off the dryer and had a long talk.

The girls tell me that there is no battle among them now. They did have one big break-up, but that's over and they know they cannot work apart from each other.

Said Maxine, "We're getting ready to do a TV show, and if we broke up the trio we wouldn't be any good."

Maxine bought a ranch in San Fernando Valley and says if she ever marries again he'll be a farmer. Her ex-husband, Lou Levy, is still trying to sue the girls. La Verne is married to Lou Rogers, in the recording business, while Patti's husband is Wally Wechsler.

It was Wechsler whose advice to Patti is said to have started the trouble between the girls. "But," said Maxine, "no man is going to break us up—husband or not."

I tipped you the other day that Donld O'Connor is getting on the difficult side and now comes word that he's told Universal-International he won't do the next (and last) "Francis" movie.

This does not set too well with the studio. Whether Donald thinks he is now above the mule-movies or not, the fact remains that they are money-makers. They also "made" O'Connor.

I said it before and I repeat—Don is too talented and too hot at the moment to jeopardize his career by not keeping his studio commitments — as well as his appointments.

Right from Lana Turner comes word that she is not expecting a baby. She hopes that some day she and Lex Barker will have a baby, but as of this moment the rumors are not true.

Apropos of that, a very amusing note from Gottfried Reinhardt, director of Lana Turner and Clark Gable's picture, "The True and the Brave." He sends word saying, "Maybe if I tell Louella that Lana Turner is not expecting a baby she'll mention my name. She's forgotten me."

Well, Gottfried, I'll mention your name even though I already had the news.

Now that Burt Lancaster is recovering from his leg injury received on location he's ready to discuss offers. One is "Daniel and the Woman of Babylon," to be made by Warner Brothers some time next year.

John Twist, who wrote the scripts on "So Big," "The Talisman," and Helen of Troy," has been put under contract and set to work on "Daniel."

Looks like we're going to have some big pictures in 1954, and this one, as you can tell by the title, has a biblical theme.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Is it true that Kathryn Grayson and Byron Palmer have been having quiet dates at her home?

You can put Dinah Shore's improved tennis down to the help of Don Gillam, tennis pro at the Racquet Club.

There's gold in them thar TV comedy hills. Writers Ed Simmons and Norman Lear have signed with Martin and Lewis at a personal salary of $10,400 per program.

Myrna Loy's return to the screen will be on the Ford TV theatre. She's reading scripts.

Mary Martin's grown son by her first marriage, flies in from London for the New York premiere of "Kind Sir" November 4.

Between 600 and 700 people were in and out of Larry Finley's anniversary party. Jack Warner made a speech; Boni Buhler with Geary Steffen came in from the Mocambo.

Peggy Lee and Jo Pasternak worked as cooks until after 1 o'clock. Attorney Larry McHugh was given a birthday party at the Marquis by his brother, Composer Jimmy McHugh. Mrs. Larry, the two brothers, Dorothy and John Haskell and I ended up at Finley's, and met more disc jockeys, singers and celebs helping Larry celebrate.

That's all today. See you Monday.

Down in the Valley...

Lookie! Here it is the end of October . . . half way through old man football's season . . . the frost is on the punkin' . . . But, what's the use in worryin' and tryin' to figure things out. Mainly, it's time (any time's the time) to relax and the best place for that is Down In the Valley at the CasBar. You get the best in food and drink including some unusualties that will whettle your palate but good. Then, too, there's TAYLOR-VISION for seein' the latest of the late . . . mighty fine feetball, included. And, if your ambitious—the athletic type—you can be speedy on the shuffleboard. 'Course if you're of a mind to, you can come Down and just plain sit with your thoughts. As the old Dodger said . . . take yer cherce, but head for the Valley!

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30 (INS)—The Andrews sisters, all three of them, Maxine, La Verne and Patti, walked into my dressing room, while I was under the hair dryer. We turned off the dryer and had a long talk.

The girls tell me that there is no battle among them now. They did have one big break-up, but that's over and they know they cannot work apart from each other.

Said Maxine, "We're getting ready to do a TV show, and if we broke up the trio we wouldn't be any good."

Maxine bought a ranch in San Fernando Valley and says if she ever marries again he'll be a farmer. Her ex-husband, Lou Levy, is still trying to sue the girls. La Verne is married to Lou Rogers, in the recording business, while Patti's husband is Wally Wechsler.

It was Wechsler whose advice to Patti is said to have started the trouble between the girls. "But," said Maxine, "no man is going to break us up—husband or not."

I tipped you the other day that Donld O'Connor is getting on the difficult side and now comes word that he's told Universal-International he won't do the next (and last) "Francis" movie.

This does not set too well with the studio. Whether Donald thinks he is now above the mule-movies or not, the fact remains that they are money-makers. They also "made" O'Connor.

I said it before and I repeat—Don is too talented and too hot at the moment to jeopardize his career by not keeping his studio commitments — as well as his appointments.

Right from Lana Turner comes word that she is not expecting a baby. She hopes that some day she and Lex Barker will have a baby, but as of this moment the rumors are not true.

Apropos of that, a very amusing note from Gottfried Reinhardt, director of Lana Turner and Clark Gable's picture, "The True and the Brave." He sends word saying, "Maybe if tell Louella that Lana Turner is not expecting a baby she'll mention my name. She's forgotten me."

Well, Gottfried, I'll mention your name even though I already had the news.

Now that Burt Lancaster is recovering from his leg injury received on location he's ready to discuss offers. One is "Daniel and the Woman of Babylon," to be made by Warner Brothers some time next year.

John Twist, who wrote the scripts on "So Big," "The Talisman," and Helen of Troy," has been put under contract and set to work on "Daniel."

Looks like we're going to have some big pictures in 1954, and this one, as you can tell by the title, has a biblical theme.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Is it true that Kathryn Grayson and Byron Palmer have been having quiet dates at her home?

You can put Dinah Shore's improved tennis down to the help of Don Gillam, tennis pro at the Racquet Club.

There's gold in them thar TV comedy hills. Writers Ed Simmons and Norman Lear have signed with Martin and Lewis at a personal salary of $10,400 per program.

Myrna Loy's return to the screen will be on the Ford TV theatre. She's reading scripts.

Between 600 and 700 people were in and out of Larry Finley's anniversary party. Jack Warner made a speech; Boni Buhler with Geary Steffen came in from the Mocambo.

Peggy Lee and Jo Pasternak worked as cooks until after 1 o'clock. Attorney Larry McHugh was given a birthday party at the Marquis by his brother, Composer Jimmy McHugh. Mrs. Larry, the two brothers, Dorothy and John Haskell and I ended up at Finley's, and met more disc jockeys, singers and celebs helping Larry celebrate.

That's all today. See you Monday.

Down in the Valley...

Lookie! Here it is the end of October . . . half way through old man football's season . . . the frost is on the punkin' . . . But, what's the use in worryin' and tryin' to figure things out. Mainly, it's time (any time's the time) to relax and the best place for that is Down In the Valley at the CasBar. You get the best in food and drink including some unusualties that will whettle your palate but good. Then, too, there's TAYLOR-VISION for seein' the latest of the late . . . mighty fine feetball, included. And, if your ambitious—the athletic type—you can be speedy on the shuffleboard. 'Course if you're of a mind to, you can come Down and just plain sit with your thoughts. As the old Dodger said . . . take yer cherce, but head for the Valley!

Radio And Television

Sense And Ridicule

When we awarded Eric Sevareid the Peabody award in 1950, it was — said the citation — for "depth and clarity, perspicacity and lucidity." One word should have been added — humor. Sevareid is one of the radio newsmen who has a sense of humor or who is permitted to exercise it.

John Crosby

Sevareid's nightly show (CBS radio 11 p. m. EST Mon. through Fri.) is not, in the ordinary sense, a news show. He does not make any attempt to review the day's news; he takes some aspect of it — sometimes the most important aspect, sometimes the least — and discusses it for 15 minutes. His clarity and common sense, in an era when the mealy-mouthed commentators are again on the rise, is formidable.

On the subject, for example, of those wildly conflicting statements from Washington on Russia's hydrogen bomb progress: "We are warned and we are comforted; we are frightened out of our wits and we are told everything is going to be all right. The net effect can only be the more rapid spreading of the blind ignorant fear which is already corralling our free institutions; the freest strongest people in the world, still capable of clear thinking if only they know the truth, still capable of any sacrifice if only they are told what they must do, are given another blind push, to go stumbling on in the darkness toward the abyss that has no bottom."

From so weighty a matter Sevareid can and frequently will pass in his next broadcast to advocate, say, the starting of "The American Institute of Unqualified Reaction." This institute, he declared, would have as its motto "I refuse to be improved" and would go to work first on the McCormick newspapers which insist on spelling "night" as "nite" and "thorough" as "thoro."

"We will absolutely refuse to buy, use or even mention any product that contains lanolin, chloro-

Radio And Television

Sense And Ridicule

When we awarded Eric Sevareid the Peabody award in 1950, it was — said the citation — for "depth and clarity, perspicacity and lucidity." One word should have been added — humor. Sevareid is one of the radio newsmen who has a sense of humor or who is permitted to exercise it.

John Crosby

Sevareid's nightly show (CBS radio 11 p. m. EST Mon. through Fri.) is not, in the ordinary sense, a news show. He does not make any attempt to review the day's news; he takes some aspect of it — sometimes the most important aspect, sometimes the least — and discusses it for 15 minutes. His clarity and common sense, in an era when the mealy-mouthed commentators are again on the rise, is formidable.

On the subject, for example, of those wildly conflicting statements from Washington on Russia's hydrogen bomb progress: "We are warned and we are comforted; we are frightened out of our wits and we are told everything is going to be all right. The net effect can only be the more rapid spreading of the blind ignorant fear which is already corralling our free institutions; the freest strongest people in the world, still capable of clear thinking if only they know the truth, still capable of any sacrifice if only they are told what they must do, are given another blind push, to go stumbling on in the darkness toward the abyss that has no bottom."

From so weighty a matter Sevareid can and frequently will pass in his next broadcast to advocate, say, the starting of "The American Institute of Unqualified Reaction." This institute, he declared, would have as its motto "I refuse to be improved" and would go to work first on the McCormick newspapers which insist on spelling "night" as "nite" and "thorough" as "thoro."

"We will absolutely refuse to buy, use or even mention any product that contains lanolin, chloro-

How would you like to own a car that will give you 18 miles or better on 1 gallon of gas? Here's a gleaming black finish car that you will not have to spend any money to fix up. Not even to wax. Here again you have all the extra safe driving features of the Plymouth, plus all weather heater, defroster, new seat covers, spotless interior, signal lights, side mirror and the contrasting light grey instrument panel with chrome knobs and handles, really makes a beautiful, economical and safe car also one to be proud of, and the low price. Only . . .

1949 Chrysler N. Y. 4 Door
The one owner was a Celanese executive and only drove it 13,000 miles a year. The owner kept this car in perfect condition with regular check-ups and it was garaged every night. The gleaming light-gray finish is contrasted by shining chrome and you have all the safe driving devices as signal lights, backup lights, 4-speed Fluidmatic transmission with step down gear for passing on hills. The powerful 8 cylinder engine is in A-1 condition. The rest of the equipment includes heater, defroster, 8-tube radio, airfoam seats, arm rests, plastic seat covers and the tires are new. It will not last long at . . .

1948 Chrysler Wind. Clb. Cpe.
This beautiful dark blue coupe has had good care. Has good motor and 4-speed transmission. Double heater in front, radio, backup and signal lights, seat covers and very clean interior. A big six that operates economically and is ready to go at only . . .
$745

1941 Plymouth Coupe
Just the car to drive to work or school. This gleaming black coupe belonged to a local owner that gave it regular check-ups and had all mechanical parts inspected periodically. The front end has just been rebuilt, the motor runs and sounds like a late model. It has heater, and the tires are good. Another Potomac Motors good car for only . . .

Card of Thanks

We take this means of expressing sincere thanks to those of our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of our beloved husband and father, Edward H. Harden. We are grateful for the many floral tributes, to those who sent cars for the funeral and to all others who in any manner assisted us.
Mrs. Edward (Annie) Harden

CHRYSLER

1951 Plymouth 4-Dr. Sdn.
How would you like to own a car that will give you 18 miles or better on 1 gallon of gas? Here's a gleaming black finish car that you will not have to spend any money to fix up. Not even to wax. Here again you have all the extra safe driving features of the Plymouth, plus all weather heater, defroster, new seat covers, spotless interior, signal lights, side mirror and the contrasting light grey instrument panel with chrome knobs and handles, really makes a beautiful, economical and safe car also one to be proud of, and the low price. Only . . .

1949 Chrysler N. Y. 4 Door
The one owner was a Celanese executive and only drove it 13,000 miles a year. The owner kept this car in perfect condition with regular check-ups and it was garaged every night. The gleaming light-gray finish is contrasted by shining chrome and you have all the safe driving devices as signal lights, backup lights, 4-speed Fluidmatic transmission with step down gear for passing on hills. The powerful 8 cylinder engine is in A-1 condition. The rest of the equipment includes heater, defroster, 8-tube radio, airfoam seats, arm rests, plastic seat covers and the tires are new. It will not last long at . . .

1948 Chrysler Wind. Clb. Cpe.
This beautiful dark blue coupe has had good care. Has good motor and 4-speed transmission. Double heater in front, radio, backup and signal lights, seat covers and very clean interior. A big six that operates economically and is ready to go at only . . .
$745

1941 Plymouth Coupe
Just the car to drive to work or school. This gleaming black coupe belonged to a local owner that gave it regular check-ups and had all mechanical parts inspected periodically. The front end has just been rebuilt, the motor runs and sounds like a late model. It has heater, and the tires are good. Another Potomac Motors good car for only . . .

NOTICE OF SHERRIF'S SALE

OF VALUABLE PROPERTY LOCATED ON VALLEY VIEW DRIVE IN CRESAP PARK, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND.

Under and by virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court of Allegany County on the 27th day of July, 1953 at the suit of the Fidelity and Deposit Co. of Maryland vs. William C. Scott and Lucy H. Scott, his wife, No. 123 Trials, July term of the Circuit Court, 1951; I have seized and taken in execution, all the right, title and interest and estate of the defendants in this cause in and to the following described real estate situated in Cresap Park, Allegany County, Maryland:
All that lot or parcel of ground situated on the southeasterly side of Valley View Drive, in Cresap Park Addition, in District No. 7, in Allegany County, Maryland, which Addition is near the Celanese Plant, and near the village of Cresaptown, said lot being designated on the plat of said Addition as No. 250 and described as follows:
BEGINNING for the same on the southeasterly side of Valley View Drive at the end of the first line of lot No. 249, of said Addition, and running thence with the southeasterly side of said Drive, North 40 degrees 15 minutes East 43.6 feet; thence South 31 degrees East 127 feet to the limits of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; then with said limits, South 43 degrees 10 minutes West 43.6 feet to the end of the second line of said lot No. 249; then with said second line, reversed, North 31 degrees West 124.67 feet to the place of beginning.
It being the same property which was conveyed by Rosa B. Evans, widow, unto William C. Scott and Lucile H. Scott, his wife, by deed dated June 16, 1947, and which is recorded in Liber No. 215, folio No. 452, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.
This property is subject to a first mortgage made by the defendants to the Commercial Savings Bank of Cumberland on June 16, 1947, the same being recorded in Liber No. 197, folio No. 630, one of the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in the amount of $4,300 and balance due of $3,196.43.
The aforesaid described property will be offered for sale, and I hereby give notice that on
at 10 o'clock a. m.
beside the Second National Bank on South Liberty Street, in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, I will sell all the interest of said defendants in No. 123 Trials, July Term of Circuit Court of Allegany County, Maryland in and to the above described property seized as aforesaid.
State, County, and all other taxes are to be adjusted to the date of sale.
TERMS OF SALE: One third cash on date of sale, balance to be paid upon the delivery of a good and sufficient deed to the purchaser of said property.
Edward R. Muir
Sheriff of Allegany County

Profit-Taking Depresses Stock Prices Slightly

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Profit-taking on the heels of yesterday's strong showing today depressed the stock market.

Most prices were up or down small fractions. Changes of as much as a point were not usual.

Volume amounted to 1,400,000 shares, slightly above the daily average so far this year.

Bethlehem Steel, which just before the close yesterday reported the highest nine months earnings in its history, was up ⅛ today at 51¼. It gained ¼ yesterday.

Mack Truck, which has figured in merger rumors, was the day's most active issue up ½ at 15⅛ with 40,700 shares traded.

It was followed by Lehigh Coal & Navigation 70⅜ at 9, New York Central off ⅛ at 20⅜, Hudson Motor up 1⅜ at 12¼ and Allegheny Corp. up ⅛ at 3⅞.

Corporate bonds were higher. U. S. government securities in the over the counter market were steady.

phyll, vitatel, irridium, protopectins, or solinate, or any product that has been vitemized, pressurized, homogenized or hammerized. We buy up all existing surpluses of cereals that pop, tingle, crackle, or that jump, twitch or quiver — and we dump the whole load in that Atlantic Ocean, whatever the risk of underwater explosion and tidal wave.

"We will start a reverse-digest called 'Expand.' It will lengthen short articles and put meat on their bones. The cover will show an old lady with her clothes on. Any hero in any detective story who gets himself seduced will be shot dead in the next paragraph. As Herblock puts it 'Ankle to ankle, men, and backward into the fray.'"

This sense of ridicule is a wonderful weapon of social commentary and he uses it frequently. When the other commentators were expressing stuffy disapproval of the $150-a-day expense account of Senator McCarthy's two investigators, Cohn and Schine, Sevareid lauded them for the "planning, energy and stamina" in managing to get through that much of the taxpayer's money every day and passed along a few words of advice on how to pad an expense account, culled from his years as a CBS foreign correspondent.

A political thinker of a high order, Sevareid once remarked that the fact that Americans discard "any political figure who was once a Communist" would be considered in Europe "a wicked waste of talent." He pointed out that the late Ernst Reuter, the doughty, Communist-fighting Mayor of Berlin, was once secretary-general of the German Communist party.

"When the great test of Berlin's endurance came, five years ago, it was his sure knowledge of the Russian mentality, as much as anything, that forced the Russians to their most dramatic post-war defeat and set in motion, the train of events leading to the powerful Germany we see today."

I especially like Sevareid's accolade to Sir Winston Churchill when he won the Nobel Prize. "If Churchill is not the greatest writer of our time, as writer, certainly no writer has so made his words come alive in the hearts of human creatures in our time. No words have produced such action as Churchill's words. I will always believe that it was the words of this one man, alone, which like a shower of invisible arrows, caught Hitler at the final barricade; his words which sparked the ignition in the vast, cold, broken machinery of European hope and courage."

NOTICE OF SHERRIF'S SALE

Under and by virtue of a writ of fieri facias issued out of the Circuit Court of Allegany County on the 27th day of July, 1953 at the suit of the Fidelity and Deposit Co. of Maryland vs. William C. Scott and Lucy H. Scott, his wife, No. 123 Trials, July term of the Circuit Court, 1951; I have seized and taken in execution, all the right, title and interest and estate of the defendants in this cause in and to the following described real estate situated in Cresap Park, Allegany County, Maryland:
All that lot or parcel of ground situated on the southeasterly side of Valley View Drive, in Cresap Park Addition, in District No. 7, in Allegany County, Maryland, which Addition is near the Celanese Plant, and near the village of Cresaptown, said lot being designated on the plat of said Addition as No. 250 and described as follows:
BEGINNING for the same on the southeasterly side of Valley View Drive at the end of the first line of lot No. 249, of said Addition, and running thence with the southeasterly side of said Drive, North 40 degrees 15 minutes East 43.6 feet; thence South 31 degrees East 127 feet to the limits of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; then with said limits, South 43 degrees 10 minutes West 43.6 feet to the end of the second line of said lot No. 249; then with said second line, reversed, North 31 degrees West 124.67 feet to the place of beginning.
It being the same property which was conveyed by Rosa B. Evans, widow, unto William C. Scott and Lucile H. Scott, his wife, by deed dated June 16, 1947, and which is recorded in Liber No. 215, folio No. 452, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.
This property is improved by a Five room frame bungalow with bath, a basement, with a garage in basement, gas, electricity, and a furnace.
This property is subject to a first mortgage made by the defendants to the Commercial Savings Bank of Cumberland on June 16, 1947, the same being recorded in Liber No. 197, folio No. 630, one of the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in the amount of $4,300 and balance due of $3,196.43.
The aforesaid described property will be offered for sale, and I hereby give notice that on
at 10 o'clock a. m.
beside the Second National Bank on South Liberty Street, in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, I will sell all the interest of said defendants in No. 123 Trials, July Term of Circuit Court of Allegany County, Maryland in and to the above described property seized as aforesaid.
State, County, and all other taxes are to be adjusted to the date of sale.
TERMS OF SALE: One third cash on date of sale, balance to be paid upon the delivery of a good and sufficient deed to the purchaser of said property.
Edward R. Muir
Sheriff of Allegany County

Profit-Taking Depresses Stock Prices Slightly

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Profit-taking on the heels of yesterday's strong showing today depressed the stock market.

Most prices were up or down small fractions. Changes of as much as a point were not usual.

Volume amounted to 1,400,000 shares, slightly above the daily average so far this year.

Bethlehem Steel, which just before the close yesterday reported the highest nine months earnings in its history, was up ⅛ today at 51¼. It gained ¼ yesterday.

Mack Truck, which has figured in merger rumors, was the day's most active issue up ½ at 15⅛ with 40,700 shares traded.

It was followed by Lehigh Coal & Navigation 70⅝ at 9, New York Central off ⅛ at 20⅜, Hudson Motor up 1⅜ at 12¼ and Alleghany Corp. up ⅛ at 3⅞.

Corporate bonds were higher. U. S. government securities in the over the counter market were steady.

phyll, vitatel, irridium, protopecti, or solinate, or any product that has been vitemized, pressurized, homogenized or hammerized. We buy up all existing surpluses of cereals that pop, tingle, crackle, or that jump, twitch or quiver — and we dump the whole load in that Atlantic Ocean, whatever the risk of underwater explosion and tidal wave.

"We will start a reverse-digest called 'Expand.' It will lengthen short articles and put meat on their bones. The cover will show an old lady with her clothes on. Any hero in any detective story who gets himself seduced will be shot dead in the next paragraph. As Herblock puts it 'Ankle to ankle, men, and backward into the fray.'"

This sense of ridicule is a wonderful weapon of social commentary and he uses it frequently. When the other commentators were expressing stuffy disapproval of the $150-a-day expense account of Senator McCarthy's two investigators, Cohn and Schine, Sevareid lauded them for the "planning, energy and stamina" in managing to get through that much of the taxpayer's money every day and passed along a few words of advice on how to pad an expense account, culled from his years as a CBS foreign correspondent.

A political thinker of a high order, Sevareid once remarked that the fact that Americans discard "any political figure who was once a Communist" would be considered in Europe "a wicked waste of talent." He pointed out that the late Ernst Reuter, the doughty, Communist-fighting Mayor of Berlin, was once secretary-general of the German Communist party.

"When the great test of Berlin's endurance came, five years ago, it was his sure knowledge of the Russian mentality, as much as anything, that forced the Russians to their most dramatic post-war defeat and set in motion, the train of events leading to the powerful Germany we see today."

I especially like Sevareid's accolade to Sir Winston Churchill when he won the Nobel Prize. "If Churchill is not the greatest writer of our time, as writer, certainly no writer has so made his words come alive in the hearts of human creatures in our time. No words have produced such action as Churchill's words. I will always believe that it was the words of this one man, alone, which like a shower of invisible arrows, caught Hitler at the final barricade; his words which sparked the ignition in the vast, cold, broken machinery of European hope and courage."

Frost Forecast For Tri-State This Morning

Clear Warm Weather Seen Over Weekend

A light frost is predicted for Western Maryland and nearby sections of the Tri-State area this morning, but weather is expected to be warmer and clear later today.

The frost forecast follows in the path of a two-day rain which eased the forest fire danger and crops.

Cool Readings Expected

The Weather Bureau said the frost will be accompanied by clear and cooler readings with lows this morning in Western Maryland between 30 and 35 degrees in nearby Fest Virginia around 30, and in Western Pennsylvania between 30 and 35.

Later today temperature in this district is expected to climb to between the middle 60's to the low 70's. Tomorrow is to be sunny and warm.

At 7:30 o'clock last night some sections had already experienced near freezing temperatures. At Thomas, W. Va. thermometers stood at 32 degrees with skies clear.

Mercury at Elkins, W. Va., and Rockwoood, Pa. was stopped at 38 degrees last night, while at Deal, Pa. temperature was 46.

At the same time last night, reading at Hardman, Blazer, Terra Alta and Altamont was 44 degrees, and at Orleans Road it was 50 degrees.

At 7 p. m. in Cumberland, mercury reached to the 55-degree mark. High temperature here was 65 yesterday while low was measured at 42 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. in Cumberland was 46 per cent.

Rain Still Needed

Maryland State Police at LaVale and State Police at Romney, W. Va., and Bedford, Pa. last night reported thermometers showed mercury around the 50-degree mark at about 7:30 o'clock, while weather was crisp and clear.

Meanwhile foresters and farmers are hoping for additional rain to soak dry fields and woodland floors. The average two-inch rainfall over the state this week was not enough to end the forest fire danger or to condition farm fields for the winter period.

Although other sections of the state received rather abundant rainfall, the Tri-State district received full benefit only in spots. The wettest section was in the Petersburg and Moorefield area where nearly two inches of water fell.

Rent Advisory Board To Meet Monday Night

The Cumberland Rent Control Advisory Committee will meet Monday at 7 p.m. in the mayor's office in City Hall.

Donald W. Mason, chairman, will preside at the meeting called to review reports of all rent complaints received by the committee during October.

The committee is operating under a resolution passed by the Mayor and Council and for a 60-day trial period, which will be up on November 8.

The commmittee, which has no legal status, accepts complaints from either tenants or landlords. Then its investigator, Miss Elizabeth Lippold, checks the complaints and confers with landlords or tenants.

Unless a satisfactory agreement is reached, complaints are referred to the Advisory Board, which acts as arbitrators if requested.

The board was set up with the understanding that if there were enough justified complaints which cannot be settled by the committee, the Mayor and Council will be asked to take necessary action.

This would consist of the passage of legislation setting up a Rent Control Board under a law passed by the 1953 General Assembly.

Loar Will Receive His Sentence Today

Robert Franklin Loar of Midland, who pleaded guilty two weeks ago in Allegany County Circuit to statutory buglary of a Dan's Mountain summer cottage, will be sentenced this morning by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Loar is accused of breaking into the summer cottage of John Loar of Frostburg and stealing household articles from it. The burglary occurred June 29. The articles have been returned and restitution made, according to William L. Wilson, Jr., Loar's attorney.

The Weather

The Weather Bureau predicts a light frost for this end of the state this morning with temperatures dropping to near freezing. Weather is expected to be warmer later today with high in the low 70's. Official high reading yesterday was 65; low was 42, and at 7 p. m. mercury stood at 55 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 46 per cent.

Three Area Boys Paroled After Theft At Store

Break Into Grocery At Corriganville

Three Corriganville boys were given suspended terms to the Maryland Training School for Boys yesterday in Juvenile Court after they admitted breaking into a Corriganville grocery store and stealing merchandise.

Magistrate Alban C. Thompson put the trio, ranging in age from 14 to 15 years, on probation for two years on condition they attend school, church and Sunday School and refrain from taking other people's property.

One of the youths was charged with parole violation, having been involved in another robbery recently, and the other two boys were charged with being delinquent minors.

The boys were arrested by County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya and Deputy Sheriff William J. Chappell shortly after the breaking and entering Tuesday. The Sheriff's office received a complaint within an hour after the theft occurred.

Authorities said the trio took several boxes of candy, ice cream, cakes, pies and socks and several boxes of .22 calibre cartridges.

Police said it was raining at the time of the theft and the youths left muddy foot prints in the store. The foot prints led to the youths who later admitted the theft.

Most of the merchandise has been recovered by authorities, police added.

In another case in Juvenile Court yesterday, Magistrate Thompson postponed sentencing of an 18-year-old South Cumberland youth charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

He was arrested by Lt. James E. Van Monday afternoon and was committed to Allegany County jail Tuesday.

Mrs. Keller Remains In Critical Condition

Mrs. Joseph A. Keller, 68, of 3980 Medina Road, RD 7, Akron, remains in "critical" condition at Bedford County Memorial Hospital where she was admitted Thursday with injuries sustained in a truck mishap in which her husband was killed.

The accident occurred near Bedford about 12:20 p. m. on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Mrs. Keller suffered a crushed skull, several fractured ribs and body bruises and abrasions. The elderly couple had sold their farm in Akron and were on their way to live in Florida when the mishap occurred. Keller was reported driving east on the turnpike, when he lost control of the truck, crossed the highway's center strip and crashed into a truck traveling west.

Arthritis Clinics Planned Monthly

Because of the excellent clinic attendance, Dr. Leon A. Kochman of Baltimore plans to maintain his arthritis clinics here on a regular monthly basis.

The clinics previously have operated every two months. The next clinic will be held in the League for Crippled Children Building here from 9 a. m. until noon Friday, November 6. Patients again will be seen for private consultation at Memorial Hospital from 1 until 5 p. m.

Court Of Honor Set For District Scouts

Cumberland District, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a Court of Honor Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Central YMCA, according to John L. Towler, district advancement chairman.

Towler said district Scoutmasters who have boys in their troops eligible for advancement in rank or for merit badge awards should notify the Scout office by Wednesday.

Miss MacDonald, Most Optimistic Resident, Dies

Miss Elizabeth Johnson MacDonald, of 114 Potomac Street, who was named the "most optimistic Cumberlander" of 1952, died yesterday at the Allegany County Infirmary. She was 55 and the last surviving member of her family.

Miss MacDonald became ill when she was eight years old and had been bedridden for 32 years and blind for the past 18 years.

She received the honor last year from the Cumberland Optimist Club. She earned her livelihood by conducting her bedside agency, selling Christmas cards, greeting cards, gift wrapping and magazine subscriptions by mail and telephone.

The local woman was completely helpless except for a six-inch motion in her left shoulder and arm. She got much enjoyment from listening to the radio, and "read" over 820 books which she listened to on records received from the Library Congress.

A native of Keyser, W. Va., Miss MacDonald was born, August 30, 1898 and was a daughter of the late James W. and Annie (Fazenbaker) MacDonald.

Surviving are an aunt, Mrs. O. M. Smith, Petersburg, W. Va., and a number of cousins. She was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church. The body is at George Funeral Home.

A service will be conducted at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the funeral home with Rev. Frederick J. Eckert, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, officiating.

Interment will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Ray Jailed Second Time

Hobart McKinley Ray, Williams Road, who was paroled October 23 on a non-support charge after he pleaded guilty in Allegany County Circuit Court, is back in the county jail here for the second time this week.

When he appeared in court on the non-support charge, Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris suspended sentence provided Ray make an effort to obtain work and support his family.

The Williams Road man was brought to the county jail for safekeeping Monday night by State Police who responded to a call from Ray's wife that there was a prowler around her house. The troopers found Ray in the basement with a shotgun. When his wife informed them that he could not stay there, they took him to the county jail for safekeeping.

Ray was released Wednesday and that night returned to the house where he was accused of causing a disturbance. Charged with disturbing the peace, Ray was taken back to the county jail Thursday. When he asked for a jury trial when called before Magistrate J. Milton Dick, his bond was set at $250. He still was confined in the county jail last night having been unable to post bond.

Donors Needed For Bloodmobile Visit Next Week

Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, still needs donors for the bloodmobile visit here Monday and Tuesday, Red Cross officials said last night.

Mrs. Lee W. Witherup, executive secretary, stated the quota for the two days will be 300 productive pints and approximately 400 donors are needed to donate that amount because of rejections and persons not able to keep appointments.

The unit from Johnstown (Pa.) Regional Headquarters will be at the FOE Home, North Mechanic Street from noon to 6 p. m. on both days.

Officials said "walk-ins" will be processed as soon as possible when they report at the blood bank at the Eagles Home.

Printers To Meet Sunday Afternoon

Cumberland Local 244, International Typographical Union, will hold their regular monthly meeting Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at the Junior Order Hall, Polk St.

Reports will be given by the Scale Committee on progress made toward the negotiation of a new contract.

Fire Fighting Demonstration Planned Tuesday

Memorial Nurses, Staff Will Attend

The Cumberland Fire Department will instruct nurses and members of the staff of Memorial Hospital next week in the use of fire fighting equipment available at the institution.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said the demonstration will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p. m. by officers and men of the department.

The demonstration, he said, will include the actual use of the equipment, chiefly soda and acid fire extinguishers, and standpipes which are available for use at all times.

Demonstration Set

The common soda and acid extinguishers, which have become standard fire fighting tools, will be shown in action against an actual blaze.

The soda and acid, the fire chief said, furnishes the force to expel 2½ gallons of water, under high pressure, at small fires.

The major fire fighting equipment in Memorial Hospital, as in all large buildings, are standpipes installed throughout the structure when it is erected.

Water, under normal city pressure, is available in the standpipes through 1½ inch fire hoses, which are regularly inspected by city firemen to make sure that the linen hose is in good condition and valves are not frozen.

Adapters Available

Chier Parker said one of the difficulties with standpipes is that the ones installed in older buildings have pipe threads, instead of standard fire threading.

Each fire company carries with it an adapter, so that if the hose on a standpipe is bad, firemen can switch to standard 2½ inch hose carried on the pumper.

The department this week checked the alarm boxes at both Memorial and Sacred Heart Hospital and at the County Home, Infirmary and Sylvan Retreat.

The fire chief said the box alarms, including the master boxes and auxiliary alarms within the buildings, were all operating satisfactorily.

New Sewage Line To Be Completed

The Street Department will complete laying a sewer line Monday on an unnamed alley between Frederick and Bedford Streets.

The 1,600 foot line will extend from Edwards to Bopp Avenue and will be connected to the Bedford Street sewage ejector station.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, said bids will be opened Monday on pipe for a second line which will take care of homes in the Bedford Street area.

The ejector station forces sewage from the low sections of Bedford-Frederick Street to Fectig Avenue, where it flows by gravity. When both lines are in, and connections made, the station will provide sewage service to some 50 homes.

Union Meeting Set

Local 37-B, Operating Engineers Union (AFL), will meet Saturday, November 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Dairy Workers Hall.

Equity Suit Filed

An equity suit has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bill of complaint was titled Nettie Carithers vs. Young H. Carithers.

J. C. Durr Retires Today As Western Md. Engineer

By CHARLES H. KELLY

Being thrown to safety from the cab of a runaway locomotive was one of the highlights in the railroading career of a local Western Maryland Railway engineer who is retiring from the company this afternoon after 48 years of service.

He is John Ellis "Pete" Durr, native of Preston County, W. Va., who has been operating a Diesel yard engine in Ridgeley for over three years and will be relieved at 4 p. m. today at the caller's office in Maryland Junction.

The veteran engineer transferred to the local terminal from Thomas, W. Va., when the Western Maryland shops were closed in that community.

On November 19, 1905, Durr, who was born and grew up on a farm in Preston County, went to Thomas at the age of 17 to seek work with the railway.

Was Nicknamed Pete

He gave his name as Ellis Durr and the man who hired him, John Yeager, shop foreman, said to the new employe, "We'll just call you Pete." And the nickname has stuck ever since, Durr said.

His first job on the railroad was a car repairman in the shops at Thomas and later he ran the wreck train for a period of about one and one-half years. On August 28, 1907 he became a fireman and in May, 1912 was promoted to engineer.

Up until the time of his transfer here he ran a helper between Hendricks and Thomas where the Black Fork grade, one of the steepest of the WM system, is located.

Early in his railroading career Durr had his experience on the runaway locomotive. In November, 1908, while still a fireman, he and engineer Will Fortney were making a return run down the Black Fork grade, which winds for about 10 miles along the rugged mountainous terrain of Tucker County.

Thrown From Cab

Durr said he and Fortney rode the locomotive "all the way" until thrown from the cab just before the helper left the rails and turned over in Big Run. Both men escaped serious injury.

The retiring engineer is married and lives at 42 Central Avenue, Ridgeley. The Durr's have one daughter, Mrs. Jeddie May Kleven, and two grandchildren, who reside in Chicago.

He has been a member of the FO Eagles Aerie in Davis, W. Va., for the past 43 years and is a member of the Methodist Church as well as the Railroad Industrial Union.

Recently his many friends and fellow-workers honored him at a party and presented him with a set of luggage. Among those attending were John D. Kein, secretary-treasurer of Cumberland Local, RIU, and Elmer E. Davis, national president of the organization.

Durr will put the luggage to good use as he and his wife plan to leave Monday for Chicago to visit their daughter, her husband and the grandchildren. They will not make the trip by rail, however, but will travel west in their automobile.

Upon their return from Illinois they will make their home in Thomas where the retiring railroader will put in his time "hunting and fishing and doing a little gardening."

Bedford County Woman Shoots Self

Authorities identified her as Florence Marie Foor. Vernon Geisel, coroner of Bedford County, said she died of a self-inflicted wound from a .22 calibre rifle.

The bullet entered her head under her right jaw. Geisel said that Eugene Stickler, who lives at the same address, discovered the body outside the house about 5 p. m.

Mrs. Foor was reported to have been in the house listening to the radio and went outside. About half an hour later Stickler found her body in a slumped position. He notified authorities.

Investigating, besides Coroner Geisel, was Detective Harry Rook of the Pennsylvania State Police. The body was taken to the Connor Funeral Home, Everett, Pa.

Maryland Girl Is Prize Baker

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — A Maryland girl, Janet E. Hobbs, was declared champion in apple dessert baking today in the annual Appalachian contest.

Miss Hobbs, whose home is West Friendship, Md., defeated champions from five other states.

Second place winner was Janet Lee Mercer, Walhonding, Ohio. Third place went to Dolores Smith, Landisburg, Pa.

Miss Hobbs received a $100 government bond and a bracelet. Second prize was $75 government bond and a bracelet, and third prize was a $50 government bond.

The contestants, limited to ages of 16 to 21, had to prepare their desserts from apples and dough.

Other contestants and state champions were Mrs. Merelyn Shultz of Shepherdstown, W. Va., Zona Mae Fairbanks, Williamsburg, Va., and Marion Purdy, Canandaigua, N.Y.

Sponsors of the contest were the Appalachian Apple Service, Inc. and the women's auxiliaries of state Horticultural Societies.

UPA Pledges Aid In Industrial Drive

Luke Local 676, United Paperworkers of America (CIO), has pledged full cooperation in Cumberland's drive for new industries.

A resolution promising the help of organized labor to the Cumberland Industrial Promotion Committee was signed by Wilbur Johnson, president, and the Local 676 Executive Board and forwarded to William G. Rice, temporary chairman of the labor committee which sponsored the resolution.

Magazine Features Local Firm's Story

The National Jet Company, which manufactures the world's smallest and fastest drills, has received national recognition in a four-page article in the latest issue of Popular Science magazine.

The article tells the story of the local firm and contains several pictures of the various instruments used by the company.

Head of the local concern is John A. Cupler II, of Park Heights.

Fires Start As Wind Dries Woods

Rather heavy winds yesterday dried out Western Maryland woodlands, dampened by several days of mild rainfall, with the result that District Forester William H. Johnson disclosed several small forest fires in this area.

Johnson, with several assistants, extinguished one of the fires on the southeast side of Haystack Mountain, not far from Braddock Road. The forester said a hunter apparently set a hollow tree afire to smoke out a squirrel. The fire spread from the tree and burned about one acre of woods before being stopped. It was about one-eighth mile from the nearest house.

Another blaze reported yesterday occurred on the southeast side of Sideling Hill just north of Route 40 in Washington County. It burned one-fourth acre in a timber slashing.

South End Ready For Halloween Parade Tonight

$465 In Prizes To Be Awarded

All the preparations are complete for the annual Halloween parade which will get underway at 7:30 o'clock tonight under sponsorship of the South Cumberland Business Men's Association.

Miss Western Maryland — Miss Carolyn Deck — will lead the five-division parade in a decorated automobile. She also will present prizes to the winners in the Talent Show which will follow the parade.

Some $465 in cash will be given away to the mummers, fire companies and auxiliaries, bands, drum and bugle corps and floats. Thomas K. Whalley and Raymond F. Whitehair, co-chairmen for the parade, report that at least six floats will appear in the parade.

The parade will form at Mary Street and Virginia Avenue at 7:15 and will move up Virginia Avenue to First Street, out First Street to Arch and then will disband on Arch Street.

Judges will be Mayor Roy W. Eves, Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, Joseph K. Mooney, Rev. Frederick J. Eckert and James T. Gaffney.

Col. Nelson W. Russler is general chairman of the Talent Show which will begin immediately after the parade. A stand has been erected along Virginia Avenue in front of the Russell-Chadwick Company.

About 25 children will compete for the $40 in silver which will be awarded to Talent Show winners. These include $4 first, $3 second, $2 third and $1 fourth in four different divisions. Judges will be Miss Sara E. Wright, principal of John Humbird School; Mrs. Gladys Fuller and Mrs. Kay Cunningham.

Education Week Is Proclaimed By McKeldin

"Good Schools Are Your Responsibility" is the national theme for American Education Week, which will be observed in schools throughout Maryland from November 8 through November 14.

Sponsors of American Education Week in Maryland include the State Department of Education, the Maryland State Teachers' Association, the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Maryland Department of the American Legion.

In proclaiming American Education Week in Maryland, Governor Theodore R. McKeldin stated: "The establishment and maintenance of good schools in our State is a personal responsibility shared by every citizen. Intelligent support of a sound program can be given only by a people well informed about school programs and school needs."

The purpose of American Education Week is to better acquaint all citizens with the public schools. Throughout the State, schools are preparing activities to celebrate the occasion. All citizens are urged to visit their schools and observe the programs of education being presented to the children of the State.

Daily topics under the general theme "Good Schools are Your Responsibility" are: November 8, "Moral and Spiritual Foundations"; November 9, "Learning the Fundamentals"; November 10, "Building the National Strength"; November 11, "Preparing for Loyal Citizenship"; November 12, "The School Board in Action"; November 13, "Your Child's Teachers"; and November 14, "Parent and Teacher Teamwork."

George Doub Urges Third Federal Judge

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — George C. Doub, U.S. Attorney for Maryland, called today for a third federal judge for the Baltimore district.

In a speech to a luncheon meeting of the Maryland Chapter of the Federal Bar Association, Doub stressed the need for another district judge here and also for additional help in his office.

He told the some 100 lawyers present that he is fully cognizant of his duties and is determined to do his job "without fear or favor."

Doub said he favored shortening the lapse between indictment and trial in federal cases and said additional personnel to handle the work load, and a third judge would help alleviate the situation.

News In Brief

The Bedford Road firemen will hold a masque round and square dance tonight from 9 until 12 o'clock at the fire hall.

Frost Forecast For Tri-State This Morning

Clear Warm Weather Seen Over Weekend

A light frost is predicted for Western Maryland and nearby sections of the Tri-State area this morning, but weather is expected to be warmer and clear later today.

The frost forecast follows in the path of a two-day rain which eased the forest fire danger and crops.

Cool Readings Expected

The Weather Bureau said the frost will be accompanied by clear and cooler readings with lows this morning in Western Maryland between 30 and 35 degrees in nearby Fest Virginia around 30, and in Western Pennsylvania between 30 and 35.

Later today temperature in this district is expected to climb to between the middle 60's to the low 70's. Tomorrow is to be sunny and warm.

At 7:30 o'clock last night some sections had already experienced near freezing temperatures. At Thomas, W. Va. thermometers stood at 32 degrees with skies clear.

Mercury at Elkins, W. Va., and Rockwoood, Pa. was stopped at 38 degrees last night, while at Deal, Pa. temperature was 46.

At the same time last night, reading at Hardman, Blazer, Terra Alta and Altamont was 44 degrees, and at Orleans Road it was 50 degrees.

At 7 p. m. in Cumberland, mercury reached to the 55-degree mark. High temperature here was 65 yesterday while low was measured at 42 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. in Cumberland was 46 per cent.

Rain Still Needed

Maryland State Police at LaVale and State Police at Romney, W. Va., and Bedford, Pa. last night reported thermometers showed mercury around the 50-degree mark at about 7:30 o'clock, while weather was crisp and clear.

Meanwhile foresters and farmers are hoping for additional rain to soak dry fields and woodland floors. The average two-inch rainfall over the state this week was not enough to end the forest fire danger or to condition farm fields for the winter period.

Although other sections of the state received rather abundant rainfall, the Tri-State district received full benefit only in spots. The wettest section was in the Petersburg and Moorefield area where nearly two inches of water fell.

Rent Advisory Board To Meet Monday Night

The Cumberland Rent Control Advisory Committee will meet Monday at 7 p.m. in the mayor's office in City Hall.

Donald W. Mason, chairman, will preside at the meeting called to review reports of all rent complaints received by the committee during October.

The committee is operating under a resolution passed by the Mayor and Council and for a 60-day trial period, which will be up on November 8.

The commmittee, which has no legal status, accepts complaints from either tenants or landlords. Then its investigator, Miss Elizabeth Lippold, checks the complaints and confers with landlords or tenants.

Unless a satisfactory agreement is reached, complaints are referred to the Advisory Board, which acts as arbitrators if requested.

The board was set up with the understanding that if there were enough justified complaints which cannot be settled by the committee, the Mayor and Council will be asked to take necessary action.

This would consist of the passage of legislation setting up a Rent Control Board under a law passed by the 1953 General Assembly.

The Cumberland Fire Department will instruct nurses and members of the staff of Memorial Hospital next week in the use of fire fighting equipment available at the institution.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said the demonstration will be conducted Tuesday at 3 p. m. by officers and men of the department.

The demonstration, he said, will include the actual use of the equipment, chiefly soda and acid fire extinguishers, and standpipes which are available for use at all times.

Demonstration Set

The common soda and acid extinguishers, which have become standard fire fighting tools, will be shown in action against an actual blaze.

The soda and acid, the fire chief said, furnishes the force to expel 2½ gallons of water, under high pressure, at small fires.

The major fire fighting equipment in Memorial Hospital, as in all large buildings, are standpipes installed throughout the structure when it is erected.

Water, under normal city pressure, is available in the standpipes through 1½ inch fire hoses, which are regularly inspected by city firemen to make sure that the linen hose is in good condition and valves are not frozen.

Adapters Available

Chier Parker said one of the difficulties with standpipes is that the ones installed in older buildings have pipe threads, instead of standard fire threading.

Each fire company carries with it an adapter, so that if the hose on a standpipe is bad, firemen can switch to standard 2½ inch hose carried on the pumper.

The department this week checked the alarm boxes at both Memorial and Sacred Heart Hospital and at the County Home, Infirmary and Sylvan Retreat.

The fire chief said the box alarms, including the master boxes and auxiliary alarms within the buildings, were all operating satisfactorily.

New Sewage Line To Be Completed

The Street Department will complete laying a sewer line Monday on an unnamed alley between Frederick and Bedford Streets.

The 1,600 foot line will extend from Edwards to Bopp Avenue and will be connected to the Bedford Street sewage ejector station.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, said bids will be opened Monday on pipe for a second line which will take care of homes in the Bedford Street area.

The ejector station forces sewage from the low sections of Bedford-Frederick Street to Fectig Avenue, where it flows by gravity. When both lines are in, and connections made, the station will provide sewage service to some 50 homes.

Union Meeting Set

Local 37-B, Operating Engineers Union (AFL), will meet Saturday, November 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Dairy Workers Hall.

Equity Suit Filed

An equity suit has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bill of complaint was titled Nettie Carithers vs. Young H. Carithers.

J. C. Durr Retires Today As Western Md. Engineer

By CHARLES H. KELLY

Being thrown to safety from the cab of a runaway locomotive was one of the highlights in the railroading career of a local Western Maryland Railway engineer who is retiring from the company this afternoon after 48 years of service.

He is John Ellis "Pete" Durr, native of Preston County, W. Va., who has been operating a Diesel yard engine in Ridgeley for over three years and will be relieved at 4 p. m. today at the caller's office in Maryland Junction.

The veteran engineer transferred to the local terminal from Thomas, W. Va., when the Western Maryland shops were closed in that community.

On November 19, 1905, Durr, who was born and grew up on a farm in Preston County, went to Thomas at the age of 17 to seek work with the railway.

Was Nicknamed Pete

He gave his name as Ellis Durr and the man who hired him, John Yeager, shop foreman, said to the new employe, "We'll just call you Pete." And the nickname has stuck ever since, Durr said.

His first job on the railroad was a car repairman in the shops at Thomas and later he ran the wreck train for a period of about one and one-half years. On August 28, 1907 he became a fireman and in May, 1912 was promoted to engineer.

Up until the time of his transfer here he ran a helper between Hendricks and Thomas where the Black Fork grade, one of the steepest of the WM system, is located.

Early in his railroading career Durr had his experience on the runaway locomotive. In November, 1908, while still a fireman, he and engineer Will Fortney were making a return run down the Black Fork grade, which winds for about 10 miles along the rugged mountainous terrain of Tucker County.

Thrown From Cab

Durr said he and Fortney rode the locomotive "all the way" until thrown from the cab just before the helper left the rails and turned over in Big Run. Both men escaped serious injury.

The retiring engineer is married and lives at 42 Central Avenue, Ridgeley. The Durr's have one daughter, Mrs. Jeddie May Kleven, and two grandchildren, who reside in Chicago.

He has been a member of the FO Eagles Aerie in Davis, W. Va., for the past 43 years and is a member of the Methodist Church as well as the Railroad Industrial Union.

Recently his many friends and fellow-workers honored him at a party and presented him with a set of luggage. Among those attending were John D. Kein, secretary-treasurer of Cumberland Local, RIU, and Elmer E. Davis, national president of the organization.

Durr will put the luggage to good use as he and his wife plan to leave Monday for Chicago to visit their daughter, her husband and the grandchildren. They will not make the trip by rail, however, but will travel west in their automobile.

Upon their return from Illinois they will make their home in Thomas where the retiring railroader will put in his time "hunting and fishing and doing a little gardening."

Bedford County Woman Shoots Self

A 43-year-old woman of near Bedford, Pa., was found dead of a gunshot wound yesterday afternoon at her home.

Authorities identified her as Florence Marie Foor. Vernon Geisel, coroner of Bedford County, said she died of a self-inflicted wound from a .22 calibre rifle.

The bullet entered her head under her right jaw. Geisel said that Eugene Stickler, who lives at the same address, discovered the body outside the house about 5 p. m.

Mrs. Foor was reported to have been in the house listening to the radio and went outside. About half an hour later Stickler found her body in a slumped position. He notified authorities.

Investigating, besides Coroner Geisel, was Detective Harry Rook of the Pennsylvania State Police. The body was taken to the Connor Funeral Home, Everett, Pa.

Maryland Girl Is Prize Baker

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — A Maryland girl, Janet E. Hobbs, was declared champion in apple dessert baking today in the annual Appalachian contest.

Miss Hobbs, whose home is West Friendship, Md., defeated champions from five other states.

Second place winner was Janet Lee Mercer, Walhonding, Ohio. Third place went to Dolores Smith, Landisburg, Pa.

Miss Hobbs received a $100 government bond and a bracelet. Second prize was $75 government bond and a bracelet, and third prize was a $50 government bond.

The contestants, limited to ages of 16 to 21, had to prepare their desserts from apples and dough.

Other contestants and state champions were Mrs. Merelyn Shultz of Shepherdstown, W. Va., Zona Mae Fairbanks, Williamsburg, Va., and Marion Purdy, Canandaigua, N.Y.

Sponsors of the contest were the Appalachian Apple Service, Inc. and the women's auxiliaries of state Horticultural Societies.

Fires Start As Wind Dries Woods

Rather heavy winds yesterday dried out Western Maryland woodlands, dampened by several days of mild rainfall, with the result that District Forester William H. Johnson disclosed several small forest fires in this area.

Johnson, with several assistants, extinguished one of the fires on the southeast side of Haystack Mountain, not far from Braddock Road. The forester said a hunter apparently set a hollow tree afire to smoke out a squirrel. The fire spread from the tree and burned about one acre of woods before being stopped. It was about one-eighth mile from the nearest house.

Another blaze reported yesterday occurred on the southeast side of Sideling Hill just north of Route 40 in Washington County. It burned one-fourth acre in a timber slashing.

South End Ready For Halloween Parade Tonight

$465 In Prizes To Be Awarded

All the preparations are complete for the annual Halloween parade which will get underway at 7:30 o'clock tonight under sponsorship of the South Cumberland Business Men's Association.

Miss Western Maryland — Miss Carolyn Deck — will lead the five-division parade in a decorated automobile. She also will present prizes to the winners in the Talent Show which will follow the parade.

Some $465 in cash will be given away to the mummers, fire companies and auxiliaries, bands, drum and bugle corps and floats. Thomas K. Whalley and Raymond F. Whitehair, co-chairmen for the parade, report that at least six floats will appear in the parade.

The parade will form at Mary Street and Virginia Avenue at 7:15 and will move up Virginia Avenue to First Street, out First Street to Arch and then will disband on Arch Street.

Judges will be Mayor Roy W. Eves, Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, Joseph K. Mooney, Rev. Frederick J. Eckert and James T. Gaffney.

Col. Nelson W. Russler is general chairman of the Talent Show which will begin immediately after the parade. A stand has been erected along Virginia Avenue in front of the Russell-Chadwick Company.

About 25 children will compete for the $40 in silver which will be awarded to Talent Show winners. These include $4 first, $3 second, $2 third and $1 fourth in four different divisions. Judges will be Miss Sara E. Wright, principal of John Humbird School; Mrs. Gladys Fuller and Mrs. Kay Cunningham.

Education Week Is Proclaimed By McKeldin

"Good Schools Are Your Responsibility" is the national theme for American Education Week, which will be observed in schools throughout Maryland from November 8 through November 14.

Sponsors of American Education Week in Maryland include the State Department of Education, the Maryland State Teachers' Association, the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Maryland Department of the American Legion.

In proclaiming American Education Week in Maryland, Governor Theodore R. McKeldin stated: "The establishment and maintenance of good schools in our State is a personal responsibility shared by every citizen. Intelligent support of a sound program can be given only by a people well informed about school programs and school needs."

The purpose of American Education Week is to better acquaint all citizens with the public schools. Throughout the State, schools are preparing activities to celebrate the occasion. All citizens are urged to visit their schools and observe the programs of education being presented to the children of the State.

Daily topics under the general theme "Good Schools are Your Responsibility" are: November 8, "Moral and Spiritual Foundations"; November 9, "Learning the Fundamentals"; November 10, "Building the National Strength"; November 11, "Preparing for Loyal Citizenship"; November 12, "The School Board in Action"; November 13, "Your Child's Teachers"; and November 14, "Parent and Teacher Teamwork."

George Doub Urges Third Federal Judge

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — George C. Doub, U.S. Attorney for Maryland, called today for a third federal judge for the Baltimore district.

In a speech to a luncheon meeting of the Maryland Chapter of the Federal Bar Association, Doub stressed the need for another district judge here and also for additional help in his office.

He told the some 100 lawyers present that he is fully cognizant of his duties and is determined to do his job "without fear or favor."

Doub said he favored shortening the lapse between indictment and trial in federal cases and said additional personnel to handle the work load, and a third judge would help alleviate the situation.
